G. O. P. DEMANDS 11 MILLION SLASH IN STATE BUDGET

Department Heads Called for Quiz.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 26.—[Special.]—Republican members of the legislative economy committee today demanded that proposed budget appropriations for Democratic constitutional and department officers be reduced by $7,557,918. They further suggested that the pruning knife be applied to commissions and divisions to save $3,500,000 more. Thus, the total G. O. P. recommendation for cuts reached $11,057,918.

Democrats hastened to sidetrack the proposal for the $7,557,918 slash. They moved that state officers be called to testify concerning the proposed reductions before the cuts were put to a vote. A roll call ensued in which the Republicans were defeated, 8 to 5. The constitutional officers will appear before the committee Tuesday night.

Minority Will Report.

The G. O. P. bloc then announced that the $7,557,918 slash would be recommended to the appropriations committee of each house as a minority report of the committee. Signing this announcement were Senator Earl B. Searcy [R., Springfield], the chairman, and Representatives Sam O. Dale, Fairfield; Fred W. Rennick, Buda; John A. Bingham, Galena, and Clinton Searle, Rock Island.

Marovitz Demands Gag.

"I move, Mr. Chairman," shouted Senator A. L. Marovitz [D., Chicago], "that this committee instruct every member that no report can be filed save by the chairman."

"You mean I shouldn't be permitted to file any report as an individual?" demanded Rennick.

"I do," Marovitz replied.

"You'd make a better public defender than an investigator," Searle shot at Marovitz.

"At least, I don't go around introducing bills to establish refuges for wild taxpayers," Marovitz shot back, referring to a measure Searle presented last week as a joke.

"It's understood," remarked Chairman Searcy, "that if Mr. Searle's bill passes, he'll have cellmates from this committee in his refuge."

The proposed reductions which stirred the Democratic members of the committee were worked out last night by Searcy and Searle. Searle offered the suggestions at today's meeting.

Specific Slashes Offered.

Department.	Reduction.
Finance	$2,428,700
Auditor	500,000
Attorney general	422,800
Secretary of state	1,330,468
Treasurer	164,000
Superintendent of public instruction	85,000
Public welfare	390,000
Agriculture	400,000
Registration and education	370,750
Conservation	373,100
Insurance	300,000
Labor	62,000
Public works	350,000
Commission.
Aeronautics	5,000
Liquor control	60,000
Civil service	41,100
Planning	25,000
Commerce	250,000

$11,057,918 Possible Saving.

Searle read this explanation:

"Inasmuch as many increases in pending appropriation bills appear to be transfers from what in years past were scheduled as contingencies, the foregoing is an effort to weed out requests that appear unnecessary to the public weal.

"In addition to the foregoing total of $7,557,918, a further survey of the numerous commissions and other state divisions, it is estimated, would yield further cuts of at least $3,500,000, which could bring the grand total of decreases up to $11,057,718."

Searle reminded the committee that Lieutenant Governor John Stelle had voluntarily reduced his appropriation by 15 per cent. If all of the Democratic officials made a similar move, he said, the state would save more than $70,000,000.

Senate Votes to Build Fence at St. Charles

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 26.—[Special.]—Illinois' senate today voted unanimously to erect a strong wire fence about the buildings at the St. Charles Training School for Boys, from which many criminally inclined boys have escaped. It passed the Gunning bill, which provides for the fence, 38 to 0.

In the house the rules were suspended to put the measure on second reading at once.

$40,000 Fund Provided.

The bill appropriates $40,000 for the fence, lighting equipment, and the pay of guards who have been ordered by A. L. Bowen, director of public welfare, to begin patroling the school grounds.

A legislative committee, which has been investigating the school, favors erection of a security building there. It would be walled if deemed necessary, and the school's criminal element could be kept behind bars or walls. Chairman of this committee is Senator Thomas P. Gunning [R., Princeton].

New System to Be Sought.

The committee voted tonight to prepare bills permitting courts to send all boys up to the age of 19 to the department of public welfare. The department would have power to send them to St. Charles or to an intermediate institution with features better able to prevent escapes.

It was decided to recommend creation of a commission to pick a good site for the new intermediate institution. The St. Charles grounds or a part of the Pontiac prison land might be selected.

The committee also decided to recommend a change in the St. Charles institution's name to Illinois Training School for Boys. The present school and the new institution both would bear that name, thus allowing interchange of boys from one to the other at the will of the welfare department.

NEW GUARDS ARRIVE.

Six new guards for the St. Charles School for Boys arrived there yesterday from the state prisons at Joliet and Stateville. They were sent on order of A. L. Bowen, director of public welfare, on the recommendation of the Gunning legislative investigating committee. All but one have had three or more years' experience as guards. Two went on duty at once with the regular guards in two cottages housing the oldest boys.

BRITAIN'S MONARCHS MAY SEE NEW YORK FROM U. S. DESTROYER

Washington, D. C., April 26.—(AP)—Officials have completed a tentative plan to give King George and Queen Elizabeth of England a view of the famous New York skyline from an American destroyer.

The king and queen will leave Washington by train the night of Friday, June 9, for New York, following a dinner at the British embassy at which the President and Mrs. Roosevelt will the guests of honor.

Somewhere outside of New York City on the morning of Saturday, June 10, the royal pair, under the tentative plan, would leave the train and board the destroyer on which they would complete their trip to New York.

BIG GARY CRIME! SOMEBODY STOLE AN INTERSECTION

There was a justifiably plaintive note in John J. Dowling's voice last night when he called the Gary police. Mr. Dowling is supervisor of Gary's streets, and he had just discovered that somebody had stolen an intersection.

"This afternoon," he told Sergt. Ben Perry, "24th avenue and Taft street had a nice brick covering. Now what has it got? I'll tell you; it's got a great big hole where the bricks used to be. People who live around there said two men came with a car and a trailer this evening and loaded our intersection on their trailer."

The police set out to search for the thieves. It was suggested that they may have wanted the bricks as antiques; they were laid in the time of Gary's first mayor, the late Thomas Knotts.

1933 Banking Holiday Finally Pays a Dividend

St. Louis, Mo., April 26.—(AP)—Deputy Assessor Robert T. O'Gorman, who sold an old baseball glove to another deputy, Sidney Shotwell, for 50 cents, found today he had made an error in assessing its value. Shotwell found five $20 bills stuffed in one of the fingers. He returned the $100 to O'Gorman, who recalled he had hidden the money in the glove during the 1933 banking holiday.

Nick's Aim Is All in Fun; Pop Goes Window

"Don't take any back talk from robbers," he told Chef Nicholas Merinos on the way out to do the marketing. "Just make yourself at home with my shotgun."

"Thank you!" said the chef, with an admiring glance at the weapon.

Presently in came Frank Kimmel, owner of a fruit market at 100 South Genesee street in the suburb. The chef showed him the new gun.

Two Barrels, Bang, Bang.

"Just let a robber come in!" said the chef. "Two barrels. Bang. Bang."

"Better be careful," advised Kimmel. "Some of these robbers are fast on the draw. They might shoot you before you could shoot them."

"Not the way I draw," said the chef. "Look. Like lightning."

"Bang! Bang!"

But it wasn't the chef talking. It was the shotgun—both barrels.

Out went the window. Down from his perch at the counter toppled Kimmel.

Happy Surprise for Kimmel.

He lay there for a while, feeling numb. When the frightened chef finally felt that he could move, he went in terror to look at Kimmel.

Kimmel wasn't dead at all. He wasn't even shot. He had just fallen off the stool.

He got up and said he was delighted that he wasn't shot. He still felt that the chef should be careful with a gun. But he had to admit that if the window had been a robber, and had drawn on the chef, the window would certainly have been a dead mackerel.

Tacks Spread on Road Puncture Rural Romance

De Kalb, Ill., April 26.—[Special.]—John Hudson was a persistent suitor. When the girl of his choice ignored him, he spread tacks in the road to puncture her automobile tires and then was the first to arrive to make repairs. When she continued to repulse him, he became irritated and put sand in her engine and rags in the gasoline tank, all of which proved ineffectual, except for causing him trouble. He was held for grand jury action today on a charge of tampering with a motor vehicle. Hudson is 35 years old and a well-to-do farmer.

PREDICT DEFEAT FOR ROOSEVELT ON NEUTRALITY

Leaders in Senate Oppose Changes.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

Senator McNary.

Washington, D. C., April 26.—[Special.]—The Roosevelt administration faces certain defeat on the pending proposals to nullify the neutrality act, according to leaders in the senate who make it their business to know what's going on. The predominant sentiment in congress, these leaders report, is that no change in the American neutrality policy should be made with Europe on the brink of war.

Vice President John N. Garner and Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, the wily Republican leader, are quietly promoting the idea of sidetracking all proposals to amend the neutrality act and let the present law stand. Many administration supporters are in sympathy with the proposal because they fear the political repercussions of voting to take sides in advance, thereby risking involvement of the United States in Europe's next war.

Fear Prolonged Session.

Another argument that is gaining support for the Garner-McNary plan is that revision of the neutrality act would require a prolonged and stormy debate on the Roosevelt foreign policy and delay adjournment of congress until late in the summer.

If this plan succeeds, there probably will be a simple resolution extending or reënacting section 2 of the present law, which expires by limitation on May 1. This section gives the President discretionary authority to place restriction on the sale of raw materials by requiring belligerents to pay for them in cash and transport them in their own ships. The permanent law places an absolute embargo on the shipment of arms, ammunition, and implements of war to belligerents.

The administration wants the law amended in some manner that would permit the supplying of munitions to the so-called democracies of Europe. One proposal would permit the President to name the aggressor and, with the approval of congress, to punish him by exempting the victim of aggression from the embargo provisions of the law. Another proposal would permit the sale of munitions on a cash and carry basis to all belligerents. This would benefit only Great Britain and France.

Might Halt Plane Deliveries.

If the present law, with its arms embargo, should be continued, the sale of military airplanes to Great Britain and France, authorized by President Roosevelt over the objections of the war department, might produce serious difficulties in the case of a European war. England has purchased 500 or 600 American planes and France is buying upward of 1,000.

If war should break out in Europe before the delivery of these planes, the neutrality act would go into effect and prohibit such delivery. England and France would protest the violation of their contracts. There would be tremendous agitation to lift the embargo and President Roosevelt would be urged to call a special session of congress for that purpose. But if the embargo should be lifted, Germany and Italy, under international law, could call it an unneutral act and they might retaliate by declaring war on the United States.

Two Reverses Suffered.

The Roosevelt internationalists who want to scrap the neutrality act and align the United States with Great Britain and France suffered two disappointments today.

First, the senate Democratic steering committee elected Senator Bennett C. Clark [D., Mo.], an advocate of strict neutrality, to the vacancy on the foreign relations committee caused by the death of Senator James Hamilton Lewis [D., Ill.]. With the committee closely divided, Clark's election was an important victory for the nationalists.

Second, the politically powerful American Federation of Labor came out against tampering with the neutrality act and denounced "obvious efforts to promote war hysteria."

Woodring Acts to Get Younger Army Officers

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 26.—[Special.]—Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring announced tonight he will seek congressional action to invigorate the army command by replacing older officers with young men. Woodring proposed to advance younger men by two measures:

1. Legislation which would empower the secretary of war to remove over-age officers between captain and brigadier general from the active rolls of the army.
2. New and rigid physical examinations for all officers above the grade of captain, which would weed out those physically unfit for the rigors of a campaign in the event of war.

Woodring said he and the army high command had not yet determined what would be considered "over-age" in the various grades.

T. R.'s Action Recalled.

The idea of tightening physical qualifications was borrowed from the late President Theodore Roosevelt. When the latter came to the White House, mindful of the number of fat and lazy officers in the army, he issued orders that all officers be required to walk or ride on horseback a certain number of miles during a period of 24 hours.

The order brought a flock of retirements. Officers who knew that they could not make the grade resigned, rather than face dismissal.

Woodring presented no estimate of the number of officers who might be affected, but war department officials said many officers are far above the age at which they could be expected to meet physical requirements of field duty in the grade to which they are assigned.

See Improved Efficiency.

The war department said the cost of the replacement move would not exceed an average of $400,000 annually for ten years. It was announced that the new physical examinations would be "a further means of improving the efficiency of the army." They would be conducted by special medical boards.

Woodring said he will ask governors of all states to hold similar examinations for national guard officers.

"The net result of these personnel measures would effect an immediate vitalization of the initial protective force of the nation," it was announced.

The age of high ranking officers is considered one of the army's greatest problems. It has been recognized by both the army and navy that its ranking officers are not, for the most part, physically or mentally able to lead soldiers and sailors into battle.

Situation Not New.

The situation existed at the outbreak of the last war. Older officers were tossed aside and younger men put in their places. In the process valuable time was lost in whipping the army into fighting shape.

For some time, since THE TRIBUNE called this serious situation to the attention of the army high command, the problem has received concentrated attention by the army high command. Today's announcement by Secretary Woodring was the first step in a plan through which the army hopes to solve its problem.

It is expected the navy will adopt and support similar legislation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Baron von Weizsacker, foreign office aid, who received British envoy.

BERLIN, April 26.—The Nazi press tonight unanimously belittled British conscription, which was announced in London today. The German papers described it as a political gesture to soothe Britain's allies rather than as real military preparation.

"It is the provocative nature of the move and not its military aspect that interests us," a government spokesman said. He added, "You probably can train men to use umbrellas in six months, but you cannot train them for modern warfare in that time."

Under the conscription plan as announced by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, every man in Great Britain between the ages of 20 and 21 will be called for six months of military training. About 310,000 men will be affected, Chamberlain said, but it was estimated that 110,000 of these would be exempted for physical or other reasons.

Backs up Guarantees.

Chamberlain said conscription was decided upon to enable England to back up its guarantees of independence to several small nations of Europe. The army draft will run three years, Chamberlain said.

In official Nazi circles the announcement of British conscription was regarded as a quieting measure for Britain's allies. France had urged Britain to adopt conscription to back up its guarantees of the independence of Poland, Rumania, and Greece.

May Get Hitler Notice.

A government spokesman said that Reichsfuehrer Hitler in his address to the reichstag Friday probably would deal with Prime Minister Chamberlain's speech along with the Nazi answer to President Roosevelt's request that Hitler and Premier Mussolini give ten or twenty-five year nonaggression pledges to thirty-one nations.

Among newspapers commenting on the British action the Berliner Nachtausgabe spoke of "Chamberlain's absurd threat."

The organ of the military forces, the Boersenzeitung, commented:

"Even if we could see more in British conscription than a mere gesture, or an attempt to exert pressure, we can only shrug our shoulders. When the warmongers in London and Paris now try to calculate the strength of the future British expeditionary force we can only say, 'We don't care whether 100,000 or whether 300,000 Englishmen want to meet the same fate.'"

Labeled a Half Measure.

This evidently was a reference to Germany's western fortifications, which the Germans believe to be impregnable.

The Hamburg Fremdenblatt labeled British conscription as "half measures and a gesture that cannot convince." The newspaper said:

"There can be no better proof of the world political power radiating from the authoritarian states than the fact that the conservative Chamberlain government sees itself compelled to violate the most sacred trations of the insular nation and burden it with conscription."

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung declared that the short training period of British conscripts "may perhaps turn out useful militiamen for home defense and the ARP [air raid precautions] service, but will never produce that perfect technician required by a modern war."

Hitler Completes Speech.

Hitler last night completed the first draft of the speech he will give before the reichstag. Then he read the draft to Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Maj. Gen. Karl Bodenschatz, who is Goering's aide, and Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister.

It is expected he will revise and complete it by tomorrow night, when the official translators will translate it for broadcasting purposes Friday noon [5 a. m. Chicago time].

The Essener National Zeitung, mouthpiece of Marshal Goering, referred today to Mr. Roosevelt's plea for a nonaggression guarantee with this statement:

"May Washington, D. C., forgive us if Germany laughs just once at the suggestion that if Hitler gives a conciliatory reply to Roosevelt America may consider sending an ambassador back to Berlin."

British Envoy Received.

Hugh R. Wilson, United States ambassador to Berlin, was recalled to Washington, D. C., for consultation last November after an outbreak of anti-Semitism in Germany. He has not returned.

Sir Nevile Henderson, British ambassador, who was unable to see Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, after returning to Berlin from London on Monday, was received at noon today by Von Ribbentrop's secretary of state, Baron Ernst von Weizsaecker. The interview came only a short time before Chamberlain spoke.

English circles declared Henderson's mission was one of courtesy, to inform the Germans of the contents and motives of Chamberlain's statement about conscription. Henderson had been recalled to London on March 17, ostensibly to report on conditions resulting from Hitler's seizure of Czecho-Slovakia.

Unusual Treatment.

Diplomats commented that the treatment of Henderson was extraordinary, as an ambassador from any state customarily has the right to be received by the head of the government or the foreign minister if he so requests. Sir Nevile had asked to see Von Ribbentrop, but the foreign minister was busy today entertaining and talking with Foreign Minister Alexander Cincar-Markovich of Jugo-Slavia, who plans to leave Berlin tomorrow after a two day visit.

Informed persons said the Jugo-Slav minister's visit would end without Jugo-Slavia having joined the anti-communist pact.

Both sides, nevertheless, expressed satisfaction with the results of the visit. Cincar-Markovich in a statement said that his country would "foster most carefully" its relations with Germany which it valued highly.

ENGLAND DRAFTS BOYS OF 20 FOR ARMY TRAINING

310,000 Will Be Called Up Each Year.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 26.—Great Britain took another long stride in the direction of becoming a totalitarian state today when Prime Minister Chamberlain's government announced to both houses of parliament that, under pressure of international events, it had adopted a policy of conscription.

A bill will be introduced in parliament next week, Chamberlain told the house of commons, calling up every man between 20 and 21 years of age for military training. The prime minister said that about 310,000 men will be affected, of which it is estimated 110,000 will be exempt. They will be trained intensively for six months. Then they will pass into the territorial army, which is similar to the National Guard, or the regular army reserve for a period of three and a half years.

Limit Profits on Arms.

Parallel to this limited conscription measure, Chamberlain said he also would take steps to limit profits of armament firms.

Adoption of peace time conscription breaks British tradition. Not since the seventeenth century rule of Oliver Cromwell has such a step been taken.

There was conscription during the world war. That brought 2,100,000 men into the British army from the time it became operative under the compulsory military service act on Feb. 10, 1916—seventeen months after the war began—until the armistice was signed Nov. 11, 1918.

Warns Nation of Danger.

After telling the house of commons that conscription had been adopted with the object of enabling the country to carry out its pledges to come to the defense of its allies if they are invaded, Chamberlain said:

"We are not at war now, but when a country is training for war, when confidence in the maintenance of peace is being undermined and every one knows that if war were to come we might pass into it in a matter of not weeks but of hours, no one can pretend that this is peace time in any sense in which the term could fairly be used."

The conscription announcement came forty-eight hours before Reichsfuehrer Hitler's speech to the reichstag in which he will reply to President Roosevelt's plea for a pledge of nonagression for ten or twenty-five years. Hitler speaks on Friday.

Laborites Fight Proposal.

Trade unions and Labor and Liberal party leaders immediately launched a campaign to fight the conscription measure tooth and nail. They pointed out that Chamberlain had promised repeatedly there would be no conscription in peace times and refused to accept his explanation that these are not peace times.

Labor members of parliament in a special session tonight organized their counter offensive which will get underway first in a fierce debate in the house of commons tomorrow afternoon.

The debate will follow introduction of a motion by Chamberlain stating that the house of commons approves the conscription proposal and regards it as necessary to safeguard the country and fulfill promises of aid to other nations.

Labor to Offer Amendment.

Clement R. Attlee, Labor leader, then will offer an amendment to the motion, saying the conscription proposal is further evidence that the government's conduct of affairs through these critical times does not merit the confidence of the country or the house. The amendment, if adopted, would call for the government's resignation.

The Liberal opposition prepared an amendment less drastic than that prepared by the Laborites. It said: "This house cannot approve the proposed departure from the principle of voluntary service at a time when the rate of recruitment is outpacing the supply of war equipment; nor can it approve a partial system which would place the whole burden of compulsory service upon young men between 20 and 21."

The government's motion, however, is expected to be passed. Immediate passage and operation of the conscription bill also is anticipated when it is introduced next week.

Members Cry "Shame."

Chamberlain pleaded on behalf of his compulsory military training measure amid many interruptions and shouts of "Shame" from the opposition. He said that the international situation and the attitude of the powers with whom the British are seeking alliances and promising to guarantee make abandonment of the voluntary enlistment system mandatory. The volunteer system is obsolete anyway, he declared. It is based on the old practice that wars were first declared before action began, he explained.

The conscription machinery is expected to strengthen Chamberlain's hands in three ways.

FIRST—Militarily it will give the country 200,000 more soldiers at a time when recruiting is not meeting with the expected response.

SECOND—Diplomatically, it will make the little powers, which the British have been promising to aid if they are attacked by Germany, think the British really mean business.

THIRD—Politically it will give the Chamberlain government a greater grip over the trade unions and industry generally and enable extension of government control in other ways such as inducting unemployed into useful activities. It is considered that the last point is not the least of the effects desired from the conscriptive powers.

Draft to Last 3 Years.

The conscription bill will have a duration of three years, but can be extended for a year at a time with the approval of both houses of parliament. Provisions also are made to drop conscription before the expiration of three years if the government decides it is not necessary any longer.

The conscripts will be trained in Britain only, but if war breaks out liability to serve abroad will apply to all, whether already called up or not. Provisions will be made for individuals to anticipate or postpone the specified date of training where good reason is shown. Conscientious objectors will be exempt provided they undertake work of national importance.

The introduction of conscription will not affect the voluntary enlistment system in the regular services, such as the navy, the army, the royal air force, and the territorial army, and also the civil defense services.

Plans to Curtail Wealth.

Regarding war profits, Chamberlain told the house of commons that if war broke out legislation imposing special penalties on profiteeering would be introduced. He said any increases in profit or increases in individual wealth would be "appropriately curtailed to benefit the state" under the proposed legislation.

Prior to announcing conscription, Chamberlain said his government was prepared to discuss a general settlement with Germany. In response to a question, he declared:

"The British government would be ready to take part in a discussion with the German government with a view to a general settlement if they were satisfied such a discussion would be welcome and would be likely to have useful results."

Speaks of Roosevelt Plea.

In reply to questions on Mr. Roosevelt's peace appeal, the prime minister said:

"Although the British government has not received any specific invitation from President Roosevelt to participate in a world conference we have made it clear that we warmly welcomed his initiative and would be willing to participate in any conference.

"His majesty's government are willing to consider any proposal that may be brought forward for the better distribution of raw material, to the access of which there is practically no restriction in the British colonial empire."

CONSCRIPTION! 'IT HAD TO COME,' BRITONS ASSERT

LONDON, April 26.—(AP)—The first reaction of the average Briton to conscription was expressed tonight in four words—"It had to come." Another favorite expression was "a step in the right direction."

These terms of approval were mingled with the protests of Labor and the idealism of some who would have preferred a voluntary basis for increasing armed strength.

Even many of the latter were agreed with the majority on one point—stand up to the totalitarian leaders.

Government sources said a sampling of public opinion showed that 70 per cent of the country was behind the new move.

A restaurant proprietor declared: "For us to guarantee the territorial independence of Poland with the army we had was like me guaranteeing the Bank of England."

Socialists Alarmed.

Socialists regard conscription with foreboding, for the same reason that Sir John Simon, now chancellor of the exchequer, resigned as home secretary when world war conscription was introduced Feb. 10, 1916. Simon said then that Britain was "losing one of her great national possessions [civil liberty] that we entered the war to defend."

But Simon did not resign this time —nor was open objection raised in any other ministerial quarter.

Trade union leaders, who represent more than 5,000,000 men, say they fear consequences not only for industry but for the laborers themselves.

"How can a serious dislocation be averted?" one asked. "What of the problem which will be posed if a man is left after six months of soldiering without a job?"

Point to France.

Supporters of conscription attempted to quiet Socialist objections with the argument that it was urgently necessary to sacrifice liberty temporarily so as not to lose it forever.

They pointed out that other nations like France and Switzerland have conscription and still regard themselves as democracies.

Here's the way it looked, for instance, to Alfred Harkins, 20 years old, a plumber's helper: "I'm handy with tools and I might do a bit of good there."

Would his mother approve?

"She wants to see 'those fellows' stopped before there's war."

What about business?

A laugh. His pay is about $15 a week.

What about his fiancée, Sally?

Owls Keep Hile Awake; His Shots Wake Neighbors

A tree full of screech owls were keeping Charles O. Hile awake early today in his home at 823 Monroe street, Evanston. Mr. Hile took up his trusty rifle and picked off a couple. But his shots woke up the whole neighborhood. Mr. Hile was practically an insomniac by the time the police got through with their questioning.

FRANCE VOICES HOPE FOR WIDER BRITISH ACTION

Views Draft as First Step to Improve Army.

PARIS, April 26.—(AP)—Diplomatic circles welcomed announcement today of compulsory British military training as a first step toward improved organization of Britain's land forces.

Sources close to the government acknowledged they had hoped for a measure of wider scope, but said they were satisfied with this as a preliminary move.

They said they regarded the addition of an estimated 200,000 men to Britain's land forces as a constructive effort to save the peace of Europe.

Sold Military Information.

Louis Lucien Franck, 31 year old blacksmith, was given the death penalty under France's new law providing capital punishment for spying even in peace time. He was charged with having sold military information to a foreign power not named in the official announcement of the verdict.

Given life sentences were Marcel Ducellier, 26 years old, a laborer, and Lucien Adam, 21, a clerk who at the time of his arrest was serving with troops in France's Maginot line facing Germany. Franck was charged with being leader of the trio.

The verdict was considered further proof of the French government's determination to maintain strong control over the vital defense region facing the Rhine.

The government pushed its efforts to stamp out foreign propaganda in Alsace-Lorraine with confiscation of the current issue of the autonomy-advocating newspaper, ELZ, in Strasbourg.

Seize Copies of Paper.

Police seized copies of the publication when it appeared today with an attack against France for recent decrees dissolving three Alsace-Lorraine organizations for pro-Nazi activity.

The full name of the newspaper is Elsass Lothringen Zeitung [Alsace-Lorraine News]. It is the personal organ of Dr. Karl Roos, autonomy leader and member of the Strasbourg city council, who was arrested on Feb. 7 on an espionage charge. It was charged compromising documents were found in a raid on his home.

The newspaper is the only Alsatian newspaper authorized by German authorities to circulate across the border in Germany.

Acting under a new decree prohibiting attacks on racial or religious groups, officials of the Bas Rhin department canceled permission for an anti-Jewish meeting scheduled for tomorrow at Strasbourg.

Cancel Sports Contest.

Paris sports officials, to avoid the possibility of untoward incidents, canceled a French-German regatta to be held on the Seine June 2. The event had been planned as a competition between Paris and Frankfurt crews.

Premier Daladier held an unexpected conference with ranking military and diplomatic chiefs on France's position in the near east in connection with the international crisis.

Lengthy talks at the war ministry were understood to be concerned particularly with France's strained relations with her mandate of Syria and the means of handing over the republic of Hatay [Alexandretta] to Turkey without making those relations worse.

Annexation of Hatay was understood already to be agreed upon between France and Turkey and is considered by diplomatic circles to be part of Turkey's price for joining the French-British collective security bloc.

HITLER TROOPS BEAT U. S. DOCTOR IN RAID ON JEWS

VIENNA, April 26.—(AP)—Dr. Oscar Lavine, a physician of Mount Ranier, Md., reported to the American consulate general today that he had been attacked by a group of Hitler troops.

Dr. Lavine said the Hitler troops entered the café of the Stadt theater Monday night during blackout exercises in air raid defense. He said the troopers told all Jewish guests to leave the café and then beat them in the darkened streets. Lavine said he received slight injuries before getting away. The consulate asked him to make a written report to be forwarded to Washington, D. C.

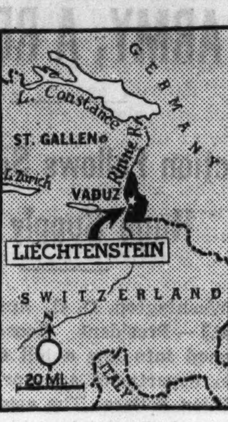
Lavine was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and fined 60,000 marks [$24,000] last Dec. 6 on charges of violating German currency laws. These penalties were reduced, on appeal, to four months' imprisonment and a fine of 40,000 [$16,000]. He now is seeking full clemency. Pending the decision he is at liberty, but may not leave Vienna.

Lindbergh in Indiana to Inspect Engine Factory

Indianapolis, Ind., April 26.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, inspecting the nation's aviation resources for the United States army, landed at Stout field, the Indiana National Guard airport, from Buffalo today. It has been reported he plans to inspect the plant of the Allison Engineering company, airplane motor manufacturer, and an experimental station at municipal airport here.

LIECHTENSTEIN JAILS NAZI CHIEF AS REBEL LEADER

VADUZ, Liechtenstein, April 26.—(AP)—Theodore Schaedler, the leader of Nazis in the principality of Liechtenstein, has been taken into custody on a charge of treason as a result of an attempted revolt last month, authorities confirmed today.



Arrow locates principality.

Schaedler is alleged to have attempted to lead a revolt on the night of March 24. He and his followers, it was charged, occupied bridges over the Rhine separating Liechtenstein and Switzerland at Schaan, and attempted also to take over public buildings.

The citizens of Schaan, however, routed the Nazis in a hand to hand encounter. Schaedler's arrest followed.

[Liechtenstein, with an area of sixty-five square miles and a population of 10,000, lies between Germany and Switzerland. It is in the Swiss customs system.]

FIND SEAMSTRESS HAD CASH, STOCK TOTALING $10,000

Police found $5,000 worth of securities and a bank book showing deposits of $5,000 yesterday among the effects of Miss Elizabeth McDonough, a seamstress living at 1420 Chicago avenue, Evanston. Miss McDonough, believed to have been about 75 years old, was found dead in her room on Tuesday. Heart disease was blamed. She had been employed by Evanston families for many years, but she had not been regarded as well to do. Police were searching for relatives when a Chicago woman, who said she was a cousin, telephoned that she would come to the undertaker's.

POPE PIUS SENDS SECRET NOTE TO ENVOY IN BERLIN

VATICAN CITY, April 26.—(AP)—Vatican sources reported today that a confidential note was dispatched by Pope Pius XII. to Msgr. Cesare Orsenigo, apostolic nuncio in Berlin.

Persons frequently in touch with the secretariat of state said they understood the message contained answers to a series of questions asked by the nuncio in a questionnaire received last Saturday.

Italian sources meanwhile heard that Vatican-German relations were improving. The newspaper La Stampa of Turin asserted: "The correctness of the Italian attitude during the recent conclave, [Gen. Francisco] Franco's victory [in Spain] in the signs and spirit of Catholicism, and the strong increase of Catholics in greater Germany are three events which cannot fail to have a beneficial influence."

Russia Hails Conscription as Proper Step for Britain

MOSCOW, April 26.—(AP)—British conscription was hailed in the soviet union today as another step in the right direction. Russian circles continued to maintain an attitude of reserve, however, toward developments in Berlin. Newspapers said it was believed the return of Sir Nevile Henderson, British ambassador, to his post in Germany would encourage the Nazis to take a strong stand.

SERBIANS OFFER CROATS RIGHT TO GOVERN SELVES

Agreement Expected to Be Signed Soon.

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, April 26.—Official circles here tonight considered that the solution of Jugo-Slavia's problem of the autonomy seeking Croats is near at hand, and that an agreement between the Croats and Serbs soon will be signed at Zagreb. Efforts are being made to have the signing take place on Friday, which is the birthday of Regent Prince Paul.

Premier Dragisha Tsvetkovitch left here unexpectedly this morning for Zagreb with the text of an agreement in his pocket. This was his fourth visit to the Croat leaders in as many weeks. He departed with the determination to bring the long drawn out discussions on the Croat problem to a successful conclusion at the price of any concession.

Premier Alarmed.

Tsvetkovitch was alarmed at the extreme danger which Croat dissatisfaction presented to the Jugo-Slav state at a moment when it is feeling the pressure of the Berlin-Rome axis.

Considering the fate of Czecho-Slovakia, the Jugo-Slav government saw the possibility of Italy and Germany using the Croat agitation for independence as a means of blackmail. Failing to get its end, the axis had a plan, Belgrade believed, for using discontented Croats as an engine for dislocating Jugo-Slavia and reducing it to impotence.

Tsvetkovitch and the Croatian leader, Vladimir Matchek, had a two hour conversation this afternoon which both said had been satisfactory.

A Seven Point Agreement.

In general they have reached an agreement on the following seven points as a basis for settlement:

FIRST—The Croats are to get immediate and complete autonomy in the regions of Slavonia, Croatia, and Dalmatia. These regions will be organized as two administrative districts, which will reduce the number of such districts in the country from ten to nine.

SECOND—The Adriatic seaboard from Shushak [Susak] in the north to Dubrovnik in the south is to come under Croatian control for all internal affairs, but port administration and all matters pertaining to commercial shipping and the navy will remain under national control.

THIRD—Croats will abandon their claim to central Bosnia, for which will be provided a mixed administration of Serbians, Croats, and Moslems.

Constitution to Stand.

FOURTH—The national constitution proclaimed by the late King Alexander on Sept. 3, 1931, will continue provisionally in effect, but Regent Prince Paul will use the power conferred on him to decree measures made necessary by the Serb-Croat agreement.

FIFTH—A new national cabinet is to be formed as soon as the agreement is signed. This cabinet will be a coalition one of Serbs and Croats and will include one representative of the Moslems, presumably the present minister of communications, Dr. Mehmed Spaho.

SIXTH—One of the first tasks of this cabinet will be to draw up a new electoral law which will satisfy the Croatians. New elections will be called after a slackening of international tension.

SEVENTH—Foreign policy and national defense are reserved for the government in Belgrade. So is national finance, but the local finances of the two Croat provinces will be entirely in the hands of the Croats.

Yield on Patriotic Grounds.

Dr. Matchek's fire eating young followers presented a toned down version of today's proceedings. According to them, it is entirely possible that within the next few days Matchek will sign a temporary agreement with Tsvetkovitch. They made it plain, however, that they consider this agreement falls far short of giving them the rights they think they ought to possess. They said they favored signing it only on grounds of patriotism in view of the urgency created by the present national danger.

Regent to Visit Italy.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, April 26.—(AP)—Prince Paul, regent of Jugo-Slavia, announced today that he would visit Rome on May 10 as the guest of the king and queen of Italy.

FASCISTS TWIT BRITISH FOR TURN TO CONSCRIPTION

Say It'll Be Burden on Sons of Albion.

ROME, April 26.—(AP)—The Fascist press twitted the British today for resorting to conscription, but there were indications, nevertheless, that the government was giving serious attention to effects of this action on the general European situation.

"It is a hard life for the recalcitrant sons of Albion," Il Lavoro Fascista said.

La Tribuna declared that advance information from London indicated the compulsory training would be a pastime—"just a few hours, tea at 5 o'clock and the week-end included."

Some press articles adopted a tone of satisfaction that fear of Italy and Germany compelled Great Britain to make her youth undergo military service—a step which the continental powers already have taken.

Points to Changing Times.

Giovanni Ansaldo, often regarded as the journalistic spokesman for Foreign Minister Count Ciano, wrote in Il Telegrafo of Leghorn:

"British Laborites demand at their meetings that authoritarian states be beaten and at the same time oppose conscription.

"You laugh? You find this contradictory and absurd? You are mistaken. All this is perfectly in line with British imperial policy which always beats states which annoy it but without the necessity of obligatory drafts.

"But, unfortunately for the Laborites, this is no longer in line with our times. To beat the authoritarian régime, it first is necessary to be soldiers. And then, dear little gentlemen, we shall see."

Duce Warns South America.

MILAN, Italy, April 26. — (AP) — Premier Mussolini's newspaper Il Popolo d'Italia warned Latin American countries today of a "threat" it said was contained in proposals of the United States to facilitate their rearmament.

"The threat is this," the newspaper said. "Once armed at the expense of and under the supervision of the United States and with a big bill to pay, the republics of Latin America may remain in a perennial state of subjection creating, in fact, a single mastodon empire—the Jewish democratic empire of the western hemisphere.

"A fable? It may be, but in this case one calls for another. In any case, is Mr. Roosevelt prepared to give assurances that the United States will not threaten, as above indicated and for a period of at least ten years, the independent nations of Latin America?"

571 WAR PLANES ORDERED BY U. S. ARMY, A RECORD

Action Follows Signing of Huge Supply Bill.

Washington, D. C., April 26.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today signed into law a bill calling for a war department appropriation of 549 million dollars. The army high command immediately placed a record breaking order for 571 war planes to cost more than 50 million dollars.

The purchase is the first step in a program to treble the army's air strength by increasing it to 6,000 planes. The huge single order was made possible by inclusion in the regular appropriation bill of some funds for immediate purchases.

The order was split among five manufacturers. In addition to planes, it called for purchases of engines and equipment.

Five Types Ordered.

Five types of ships were ordered. They are four engine bombers, single engine pursuit planes, fast climbing pursuit interceptors, attack bombers, and a small number of photographic planes.

Aviation sources reported that some of the fighting craft, those designed to bring down bombers, would be able at least to approach a speed of 400 miles an hour.

Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, who announced the war plane purchase, said that much money would be saved by placing orders now instead of waiting until the regular fiscal year opens July 1.

Air Base Funds Asked.

Mr. Roosevelt also asked congress today for $31,621,000 to start work on twelve naval air bases in Alaska, in several Pacific islands, Puerto Rico, and the continental United States. The bases, expected to cost a total of $66,800,000, were authorized in a bill the President approved yesterday. The navy said the work, which will require about three years to complete, could start this summer.

An announcement by the navy said that in order to speed deliveries of steel plates for warship construction a small part of its $25,000,000 world war ordnance plant at South Charleston, W. Va., would be leased to the Carnegie Illinois Steel corporation. The plant has been idle for some time.

CANADA TO TRAIN BRITISH AVIATORS TO FIGHT IN WAR

Peril of Air Raids on Dominion Stressed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., April 26.—Ian MacKenzie, minister of defense, today announced in the house of commons that the Canadian and British governments had reached an agreement for the training of British war pilots in Canada. He said the flyers would be trained under the direction of the Canadian department of national defense.

MacKenzie warned that Canada was no longer immune from attacks from the sea and from the air. He said Canada must be prepared to defend her seaports, shipping, and overseas trade from attack or interception by belligerents.

Minister Stresses Danger.

Enemy bombers, MacKenzie said, could fly from mid-Europe, drop their bombs on Canadian cities, and return to their home bases without landing. Submarines, he said, could attack Canadian ports and shipping.

The defense minister cast aside isolation as a myth and pleaded for still greater coöperation within the British commonwealth of nations. He declared:

"That consciousness of freedom; that national pride; that fine, free fiber of our people must now be mobilized through our realization of our great responsibilities and through the knowledge that science and invention have made isolation a myth and a dream; mobilization along the avenues of real and earnest coöperation—coöperation within the commonwealth of our own family of nations and coöperation for the preservation of the principles of liberty and freedom with the kin democracies of the world."

Outlines Training Plan.

Outlining the agreement for the training of military aviators, MacKenzie said it will operate for three years. He declared 126 pilots would be trained during that period for the Royal Canadian air force and the royal air force. For the R. C. A. F. 76 pilots will be trained and for the R. A. F., the remaining fifty.

To accomplish this the training camps at Camp Borden and Trenton, in Ontario, will be increased by 68 officers and 600 airmen. They will be added to the staff this year under the $6,000,000 pilot training scheme.

REPORT GERMANS MAKE 3 DEMANDS ON LITHUANIANS

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

WARSAW, Poland, April 26.—Germany has presented three demands on Lithuania, it was reported tonight from Kaunas, Lithuanian capital. They are:

FIRST—The trade turnover with Germany shall be increased by 25 per cent.

SECOND—Commercial treaties with other countries, including Great Britain, shall be revised to give certain privileges to Germany.

THIRD—A German trade agency for buying foodstuffs directly in the open market of Lithuania shall be established in Kaunas.

BRITISH ASK RUMANIA TO SET UP DYE WORKS, COMPETE WITH NAZIS

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 26.—(AP)—Establishment of a large dye and chemical industry in Rumania to compete directly in the Balkans with I. G. Farben, Germany's famous dye trust, is one of the main objectives of the British trade delegation now in Bucharest, an authoritative source said today.

At present the big German firm controls 80 per cent of the Balkan dye and chemical market. It was reported also that the British delegation seeks the same kind of oil and mineral concessions which Rumania granted to Germany recently.

CANADA HANGS KILLER SEIZED IN OREGON, ILL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

REGINA, Sask., April 26.—Harry W. Heipel, 24 year old ex-convict who was arrested last Nov. 19 in Oregon, Ill., where he had fled, was hanged today for the murder last Nov. 9 of J. A. Kaeser, a farmer of Moosomin, Sask., and former resident of Wisconsin.

Heipel was convicted of robbing and killing the 65 years old Kaeser, who had given him a lift in his auto. Heipel left the car in Winnipeg and went to Illinois to visit his mother.

Heipel's brother gave evidence against him.

Heipel worked as a farm hand near Oregon for several days before he was seized by Sherif Delos Blanchard of Ogle county. He admitted to Blanchard that he had served fifteen months in the Illinois state prison.

ROYAL COUPLES WILL BE GUESTS OF ROOSEVELTS

President Will Be Host at Hyde Park Estate.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 26.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt raced through a crowded schedule today and departed on a midnight train for his family estate on the Hudson river, where he will entertain two royal couples over the week-end.

Crown Prince Olav and Crown Princess Martha of Norway will arrive at Hyde Park, N. Y., Friday afternoon aboard the presidential yacht Potomac. They will be house guests of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt until Sunday morning, when they will pay a visit to West Point and continue on to the New York World's fair for the dedication of a Norwegian exhibit Monday.

Will Speak at Fair.

Sunday Mr. Roosevelt will motor down to the fair to open formally the exposition with an address which may be of international significance. On Friday Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler is to reply to the President's plea in a speech before the reichstag. It is probable that the President may comment on the reply in New York.

Sunday evening the Potomac will bring Crown Prince Frederik and Crown Princess Ingrid of Denmark to the Roosevelt estate. The Danish couple, who began an American tour at Los Angeles, will remain over night and leave Monday evening for the fair, where they will dedicate a Danish building Tuesday.

The President is expected to return to the capital Tuesday or Wednesday.

Has a Busy Day.

During the day the President raced through a long list of official callers, clearing his desk of business for his week-end visit.

In the early morning he made a brief speech to delegates to the White House conference on "Children in a Democracy" in the east room of the White House. He said that the safety of democracy depends upon the degree of health and education the nation gives its children to develop qualities of leadership.

"The success of democratic institutions is measured not by extent of territory, financial power, machines or armaments, but by the desires, the hopes and the deep lying satisfaction of the individual men, women, and children who make up its citizenship," he said.

DANISH ROYALTY LEAVES; CHICAGO SAYS COME AGAIN

With cries of "Come again," Chicago bade Crown Prince Frederik and Crown Princess Ingrid of Denmark and Iceland a friendly farewell early yesterday as the couple boarded a train for Detroit.

A large crowd gathered at the Michigan Central station to watch the royal party get into a private car attached to the Michigan Central's "Dominion Overseas." A wandering minstrel appeared, playing for some undisclosed reason, "Home on the Range."

The young couple, in the United States on a 34 day mission of good will, spent three days in Chicago, arriving Sunday night. They sail for Copenhagen May 10.

The crown prince and princess of Norway, Olav and Martha, will be in Chicago May 4-5. They arrive in New York today to begin a two month tour of the United States.

COAST ARTILLERY UNIT WILL MAKE 1,400 MILE TRIP

The 61st coast artillery, except for the headquarters battery, will leave Fort Sheridan Monday for a trip to Fort Leavenworth, Kas., and return. It will start home on May 11. The 1,400 mile journey will take about seven of the thirteen days.

Maj. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, 6th corps area commander, said the unit is capable of much longer marches than 200 miles a day and proved it last year on a trip through Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri. Campsites, consideration for civilian trafic and wear on men and equipment, however, were factors in holding the speed down this time, he said.

Woman Screams; Passing Police Squad Nabs Thief

When Mrs. L. A. Strauss returned to her home at 7352 South Park avenue yesterday afternoon a thief was just going out. He carried her purse containing $38. She screamed. A passing police squad heard her and arrested the thief, Harold McMartin, 31 years old, 6106 Stewart avenue.

Decide to Part

John Barrymore and Elaine Barrie, his fourth wife, dancing in happier days.

St. Louis, Mo., April 26.—(AP)—John Barrymore, explaining "We're just two people who didn't hit it off together," confirmed reports tonight that his fourth wife, Elaine Barrie, would divorce him.

The actor, who is appearing with his young wife here this week in "My Dear Children," said the two had decided to part—friends. She will probably charge incompatibility, he said.

Elaine, whom Barrymore described as "a very intelligent girl and a fine actress," was not immediately reached for comment.

Barrymore said as far as he knew the cast would remain the same for the St. Louis run, which ends next Saturday. Miss Barrie, 24, plays the rôle of one of Barrymore's three daughters in the play. Barrymore is 57 years old.

Barrymore and Elaine Barrie were married in Yuma, Ariz., Nov. 9, 1936. On April 23, 1937, Miss Barrie was granted a divorce from Barrymore. Later they had the decree set aside.

TELLS OF GIVING WOMAN POISON IN LOOP HOTEL

Boston, Mass., police notified the detective bureau yesterday that they were holding Paul Logan, who asserted he had given poison to a woman in room 1165 of the Morrison hotel last Dec. 26. Police records showed that Mrs. Frances Klopke, 40 years old, 2121 Grace street, had died in that room, but on Dec. 6. A note found near the body indicated she had killed herself while despondent over ill health. Lieut. Otto Erlanson of the homicide bureau said he was skeptical of Logan's story. Logan told the Boston police he formerly lived on North La Salle street in Chicago.

AMERICAN FLEET MASSES FOR TRIP THROUGH CANAL

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, April 26.—(AP)—Cruisers, battleships, and aircraft carriers of the United States fleet steamed swiftly into Limon bay this afternoon and, with drilled precision, took their positions in preparation for quick passage through the Panama canal. The vessels were suddenly ordered on April 15 to return to the Pacific.

Double lines of destroyers led by a cruiser arrived at Limon bay shortly after noon and the canal was closed to commercial trafic. Within a half hour cruisers, battleships, and aircraft carriers arrived while the canal still was jammed with more than twenty commercial and base force ships.

After weeks of almost constant maneuvers under sealed orders, the crews were granted shore liberty at Cristobal. Some sailors said they were not aware they had reached the canal until the ships entered Cristobal breakwater. Transit of the fleet through the canal was set for early Thursday.

RUSSIA REPORTED TO BE SEEKING BULGARIAN AMITY

Vladimir Potemkin [upper] and Premier Kiosseivanoff.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, April 26.—(AP)—The possibility that soviet Russia and Bulgaria might establish closer diplomatic relations was reported in informed quarters today after a conference between Premier George Kiosseivanoff and Vladimir P. Potemkin, first assistant foreign affairs commissar of Russia.

It was said the soviet union was considering the appointment of a minister to Bulgaria, a post that has been vacant for a year. Russia has taken little interest in Balkan affairs for a long time. Potemkin is en route to Ankara, where it is believed he will discuss Turkey's relations with Great Britain, France, and Russia.

Bulgaria chose the day of Potemkin's visit to give publicity to territorial demands against Rumania and Greece. The official censor directed that newspapers might republish articles from foreign newspapers on Bulgarian claims in the Dobrudja region of Rumania and for a corridor through Thrace to the Aegean sea.

ACCUSED KILLER ELUDES GUARDS, SLUGS WITNESS

Clash in Court Anteroom as Lawyers Argue.

A slugging in the Criminal court yesterday interrupted the murder trial of two young hoodlums who are charged with slaying John Delcourt, 49 years old, a handbook operator. Delcourt was shot to death Feb. 10, 1938, while resisting robbers in an alley near his home at 6604 Lowe avenue.

On trial are Peter [Husk] Biron, 22 years old, 5518 Dorchester avenue, and Stanton Cooke, 21, of 544 West 43d street. A third man accused in the slaying, Charles McCarthy, 21, of 5158 Morgan street, is a witness for the state.

Clash Over Confession.

McCarthy was testifying before a jury and Judge William J. Lindsay when attorneys clashed over introduction of Biron's confession, which they charged was obtained through force. McCarthy was taken to an anteroom and the others were started for the detention cell, by way of the anteroom.

Seeing McCarthy seated on a bench there Biron jerked away from his guard and rushed his accused accomplice, landing a heavy blow on the mouth before bailiffs separated the two. Both Biron and Cooke then were dragged away to cells.

Daughter Identifies Cooke.

Cooke, who already is under sentence of one year to life in prison for his part in seven robberies, was identified earlier in the day by Delcourt's daughter, Mrs. Hazel Coffel, 638 West 69th street, as one of the youths she saw running from the scene of the shooting. She could not identify Biron.

The two were first placed on trial last month, but a mistrial was declared after Frank McDonnell, one of the defense attorneys, disappeared for several days during selection of a jury. McDonnell faces a contempt citation before Judge Robert Jerome Dunne.

INDICT WITNESS FOR PERJURY IN PENDERGAST QUIZ

Kansas City, Mo., April 26.—(AP)—Lester Jordan, head of the garbage collecting firm that holds the city contract, was indicted on two counts of perjury today by the federal grand jury investigating financial affairs of Thomas J. Pendergast, Democratic political boss.

Jordan testified before the grand jury April 6, the day before it indicted Pendergast on charges of evading the income tax. The government charges Jordan gave false testimony about a $28,000 transfer of his company's stock to Pendergast. Jordan is a ward leader in the organization.

Convict Two in California as Housewife's Kidnapers

Yuba City, Cal., April 26.—(AP)—Robert and Ollen Grimes, fruit pickers from Kentucky, were convicted by a jury tonight of kidnaping Mrs. Norma Meeks, Rio Oso housewife, last Sept. 1. They will be sentenced Monday.

REBUKES POLICE OF KANSAS CITY IN UNION RULING

Kansas City, Mo., April 26.—(AP)—A federal judge from North Dakota, sitting here, granted an injunction against a labor union today, commenting that heads of the city's police department "have actually connived in truth and in fact with the lawless elements of your city."

Judge Andrew Miller of Fargo, N. D., restrained the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union from conducting a secondary boycott of the Donnelly Garment company. He denied an injunction against picketing the plant.

The ruling climaxed a long and involved hearing on the company's complaint against the I. L. G. W. U.

Judge Miller referred to the police situation at the time of sitdown strikes against two other garment companies here in 1937.

He said the Donnelly case posed "a particularly delicate question for this court because of happenings that have occurred here locally during the trial of this case with relation to the police force itself."

City Manager H. F. McElroy and Otto P. Higgins, director of police, resigned two weeks ago in a shakeup.

Recalling the strike at the other garment plants, Judge Miller said:

"I find from the evidence that at one time the police department had at least 70 policemen at its command whom they sent to those plants. Is it possible that a city the size of Kansas City could not eject 30 or 40 or 50 obstreperous females, not in any wise armed?

"I do not believe it. I do not mean to criticize those policemen. Soldiers and policemen take orders and usually obey orders. Their superiors knew what was going on. They have actually connived in truth and in fact with the lawless element of your city in taking the property of the owners in its lawful use and its possessions from them."

A secondary boycott is a campaign against a retail store, attempting to prevent it from handling the goods of a manufacturer against which a union is on strike.

KILLS SELF WITH GUN.

Stanley Wnorowski spoke yesterday to his partner, John Czaplainski. "I am going back to get some sleep," Wnorowski said. Then he went to the rear of their tavern at 1436 Eris street and ended his liwe with a bullet. Wnorowski was 43 years old.

TWO WEEKS PASS, LABOR TERRORIST KILLER STILL FREE

Police Believe Suspect Has Fled City.

The murder of James Lawrence, Wieboldt department store truck helper, was still unsolved yesterday, the fourteenth day since he was shot by labor terrorists. Police were searching for a man tentatively identified as one of the four gunmen who fired on the truck in which Lawrence was slain, but they indicated they believe he has fled from Chicago.

This fugitive is a labor union business agent who was arrested several days before the killing in an automobile near one of the Wieboldt stores. Police found the car loaded with strike weapons—bricks, baseball bats and short lengths of lead pipe. The union official was charged with disorderly conduct and was to be arraigned in court the day after the killing. He did not appear.

See Killer at Close Range.

Several witnesses to the slaying have told police that this man was one of the killers. They had opportunities to view him at close range because the killers, apparently unaware that they had shot Lawrence, jumped from their car and chased the truck driver for two blocks. Then they beat him and knocked him down.

The only police action yesterday was the assignment of ten new police squads to escort Wieboldt trucks. Capt. John Prendergast, chief of the uniformed police, said he now has sixty-six squads with 198 policemen detailed to this work.

Meanwhile, the controversy between the stores and the trucking unions was deadlocked in its twentieth day. There was no interchange of proposals between the store representatives and the union leaders, although both sides said they were anxious to consider any reasonable compromise.

Explains Stores' Position.

Attorney Adlai Stevenson, spokesman for the stores, said that Elmer Wieboldt, president, still is willing to negotiate a contract with the trucking unions. He insisted that Wieboldt agreed to terms of a temporary contract that was presented even before the unions called a strike of the store truck employés.

"The only stipulation that Mr. Wieboldt made was that he must be sure that a majority of his employés honestly wanted the trucking unions to represent them," Attorney Stevenson said.

Leslie Goudie, president of the joint teamsters' council, said he is willing to let the Wieboldt truckers vote on whether they want to go back to work immediatey.

"But if they vote down such a proposition," he said, "we ask that Mr. Wieboldt agree to accept the results of a second poll to be taken immediately to determine whether the unions shall represent the men."

SEALER CHARGES USE OF NAME IN RACKET; SEIZE 4

Four men were arrested last evening by Sergt. Frank O'Sullivan of Commissioner Allman's office in connection with the alleged use of City Sealer James O'Keefe's name in the solicitation of newspaper advertisments. They are:

Philip L. Friedlander, 640 Barry avenue, a radio announcer; James Rafter, 1950 Lincoln avenue, editor of the paper known as the Irish American; Terry Bannon, 608 Belmont avenue, who said he is a clerk in the office of County Clerk Michael J. Flynn; and Bernard Williams, 4756 Drexel boulevard. Williams carried an "I gotta drag" courtesy card signed by Sherif Thomas O'Brien. All were charged with an attempt to commit an offense and disorderly conduct.

PICKETS' CHARGE OF THREAT SENT TO GRAND JURY

Herman Wadler, accused of threatening with a gun two unionists who were picketing his produce store at 6520 South Cicero avenue, was ordered held to the grand jury on a charge of attempted assault yesterday by Justice of the Peace Henry Pendl, sitting in Willow Springs County Police court.

The complainants, John Moran, 737 West 54th street, a business agent for the meat cutters' union, and Mike Patterson, 8107 Merrill avenue, testified that they were not on Wadler's premises but on the highway a block away when the alleged threat was made.

A charge of disorderly conduct against Wadler and two of his employés, Harley Morgan and Gene Jaeger, was continued until May 3. It also grew out of the picketing activities of four unions which have been trying to organize Wadler's employés.

Farmhand Put to Death for Killing Ohio Couple

Columbus, O., April 26.—(AP)—Mumbling almost inaudibly, "I shall not kill," Harvey L. Roush paid with his life in Ohio's electric chair tonight for the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Homer T. Myers, for whom he operated a farm in Marion county. On April 30, 1938, he quarreled with Mr. and Mrs. Myers. Neighbors, attracted by flames at the Myers' farm home, put out the fire and found Mr. and Mrs. Myers' bodies.

LAW FOR LABOR PEACE EXPLAINED BY GOV. STASSEN

Conciliation Keynote, He Says on Chicago Visit.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota said last night that conciliation is the soundest method for labor legislation aimed to prevent industrial strife. The Republican governor, 32 years old, arrived in Chicago from St. Paul on the Milwaukee road's Hiawatha. He was accompanied by Mrs. Stassen.

Gov. and Mrs. Stassen will leave for Washington today or tomorrow, where he will confer with Republican leaders in both houses and with federal officials about relations of Minnesota and the federal government.

Program Already Enacted.

Quick action by the legislature has already put through the program for which Stassen campaigned last year.

"Main items in the program which went through the legislature," said the governor, "were the labor relations bill, the state government reorganization measure, civil service reform, and a reduced budget. Taxes on iron ore were raised, other taxes remain the same. An investigation of the former administration has led to eight convictions so far.

"Conciliation is the main feature of our new labor relations law. It provides for ten days of direct bargaining. There must be a ten day notice to the conciliator before a lockout or a strike. In case of a major lockout affecting public welfare, the governor may appoint a special conciliation board of three.

Law Emphasizes Bargaining.

"This new law emphasizes bargaining between the two sides. By the waiting period it gets away from the violence and loss of hasty action.

"We don't think the government should be a substitute for direct negotiations between the two sides.

"As to the political outlook for 1940, there is a great responsibility on the Republican party to revitalize nationally. It must have a sound program and it must carry conviction. The middle west in the last elections exhibited a definite swing. One thing that must be realized is that the future welfare of the farmer and his buying power is a fundamental problem. It is one great economic section in our national life that is lagging behind."

FARMERS WIN FIGHT WITH UNION AND RIGHT TO WORK ON HIGHWAY

Somerset, Pa., April 26.—(AP)—Aroused farmers and laborers of this usually placid community tonight won the right to work on at least one section of Pennsylvania's $60,000,000 "dream highway" without joining a union and paying a $15 initiation fee and $2 monthly dues.

The announcement that the County Construction company, building one of the links of the 160 mile all-weather thoroughfare, had abrogated a closed shop contract with an A. F. of L. union came as a climax to three days of excitement.

On Monday a union leader was held to the grand jury, charged with waving a pistol at a crowd which came to demand he waive the initiation fee. Yesterday two A. F. of L. organizers were driven out of town and the union headquarters wrecked. Today farmers swept down on the highway workers and persuaded all to stop work.

CHICAGO'S H_2O (1)

By CALEB

THE saga of Chicago's water-supply covers more than a century—from 1834, and the digging of a small well by three men, to 1936, the year which saw completion of the 11½-mile, 16-foot tunnel that runs underneath Chicago avenue. Population, during that period, rose from around three thousand to nearly four million; and the statistics of current consumption, expressed as "pumpage gallons," are staggering. In the latest year for which figures are available, this total reached, for city and suburbs, over a billion gallons daily.

The plant necessary to supply such stupendous consumption must of necessity be enormous. It comprises a municipal power plant, six lake intake cribs, two sewage pumping stations, fourteen tunnels, and twelve water-pumping stations. These stations have a capacity of over two billion gallons daily—thus assuring an adequate reserve for fire-fighting purposes, as well as for daily commercial and residential needs.

Simple and easily stated facts! But behind them, and buried in the records of a city of whirlwind-swift expansion, are stories of foresighted planning, gigantic engineering achievement, monumental labor, heartbreaking defeat, unanticipated triumph, storm, explosion, disaster, and gallant individual heroism, that would furnish a narrative as arresting as any that fiction has ever produced! . . .

To the actualizing of that story, hundreds of brave, unselfish, able, and today mostly unknown, men have given their lives. From among them stands out one, in particular—the name of Ellis S. Chesbrough, first of the city's many fine engineers to "father" the project which culminated in today's splendid municipal water system.

It is to him, as well as to the numerous and nameless other heroes of its evolution, that tribute will be paid as we sketch, in subsequent issues, the highspots of this story of how, when, and where Chicago secured, and today enjoys, its supply of aqua pura.

JUVENILE COURT BEHIND TIMES IN HANDLING CRIME

Records Show Offenders Younger Each Year.

[This is the third of a series of articles on the workings of the Juvenile court.]

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

Statistics on crime reveal that the Juvenile court has not kept pace with changing times.

Criminal court records show that the average age of criminals has been decreasing year by year. These records show that more than 75 per cent of crime now is committed by men 23 years old or younger. Many robbers, burglars, auto thieves, and rapists are less than 18 years old.

And yet, the sob sister element of social workers, who have come to play an important rôle in the Juvenile court, are agitating for a law to raise the age limit for defendants in the court. These workers seek to make it impossible to prosecute any one less than 18 in the Criminal court for any crime except murder and rape.

Proposal Opposed by Judges.

Judge Frank Bicek, who presides over the Juvenile court, does not particularly favor this suggestion of the social workers. Nor do the judges of the Criminal court. To carry out the suggestion, some of the judges say, would be putting a premium on crime.

Judge Bicek, like all his predecessors in the Juvenile court, has had no experience in the Criminal court. As a lawyer his practice was limited almost solely to civil litigation. He has not had the opportunity to see the other side of the youthful crime question as it is unfolded day after day in the Criminal court.

The Juvenile court is the only court of record where the judge literally acts as judge, prosecutor, and defender, except insofar as he may be swayed one way or another by the social workers designated by law on the pay rolls as probation officers. In few cases does a lawyer appear in the court to represent the defendants.

Law Provides for Juries.

The law provides for jury trials in the court, but such procedure is almost unheard of. A court bailiff said a jury trial was held recently, but it was the first one in the six years he has been in the court. The law says: "In all trials under this act [the juvenile act] any person interested therein may demand a jury of six or the judge of his own motion may order a jury of the same number to try the case."

Into this court come many of the criminals of tomorrow under the guise of delinquent boys and girls. Many of the so-called delinquents brought before the judge have already attained full criminal knowledge, recent revelations at St. Charles training school for boys disclosed.

Despite the seriousness of many of the charges, the judge assumes full responsibility for the operation of the court. He seldom has the benefit of the composite judgment of a prosecutor and defending lawyer to guide his judgment. Every other court handling crime cases has a prosecutor and defending lawyer, no matter how rich or poor the defendant.

Parents Ignorant of Law.

A survey of the parents brought into the court disclosed they were not apprised of their legal rights to a jury trial and representation by a lawyer. Most of the parents are too poor to employ legal counsel and many of them hardly intelligent enough to understand what is going on. They said they were discouraged by the social workers from consulting lawyers or friends with legal knowledge.

An assistant state's attorney, Stanley Gross, is assigned to the Juvenile court. Under the law the prosecutor is obligated to prosecute those charged with crime and at the same time to see that no citizen is deprived of his legal rights. He is presumed to represent all the people.

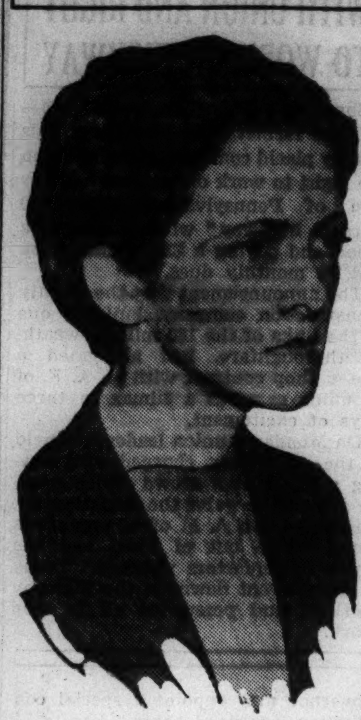
During a recent three day observation of the court the assistant prosecutor appeared before Judge Bicek only once. Although many of the defendants brought before the judge were charged with felonious crimes, even attempted murder, no prosecutor was on hand.

Asks About Sex Case.

Mr. Gross' one appearance was only for a moment to inquire what the judge did with a case involving a group of north side high school pupils charged with taking liberties with a freshman girl.

The prosecutor in the Juvenile court appears to devote most of his time in his office advising social workers on how to draw up legal complaints for other courts and deciding whether sex crimes should be pressed in another court.

Driver in Court



[TRIBUNE Photo.]

VICTORIA COUBRETTE.

Merten Neuman, 4834 South Wolcott avenue, was sentenced to five days in the county jail in Safety court yesterday for driving while intoxicated. Mrs. Victoria Coubrette, 11426 South Park avenue, was sentenced to three days for reckless driving. Neuman and Mrs. Coubrette lost their driving privileges for one year.

John A. Vincent, 420 Diversey parkway, a broker, was fined $120 by Municipal Judge James M. Corcoran of Evanston for driving while intoxicated. Vincent was arrested when he did not stop after his automobile sideswiped another car in Evanston April 2.

CAR THEFT TRIPS BROTHERS NAMED IN 20 ROBBERIES

Two brothers, arrested by Kensington police as automobile thieves, confessed yesterday that they had committed more than twenty robberies in five months. Many of the victims identified them last night.

The prisoners are Stanley and Edward Lapa of 11721 South Morgan street. Stanley, 26 years old, was released from Joliet penitentiary last November after serving six years for grand larceny. Edward, who is 20, had twice been placed under the supervision of juvenile authorities. They said nearly all their stickups recently had been in taverns and drug stores.

Edward Lapa was seized by Lieut. Albert Jenner and his squad at 123d and Morgan streets in a car that had been reported stolen. He involved Stanley, and the ex-convict was found by the police at the family home.

DOCTOR SLAYING ATTRIBUTED TO GANG REVENGE

Police Hunt Motive in Holdup Shootings.

Recent holdup shootings were being carefully scanned last night in the hope that one of them may lead to the killers of Dr. James McDonald Scott. The elderly physician was shot to death in front of his office at 1151 South Western avenue Monday night. The new theory is that Dr. Scott may have refused to treat a gunshot victim and was slain in revenge by the bandit's companions.

Supporting the theory, police said, is Dr. Scott's purchase of six rolls of bandages and a quantity of adhesive tape Monday. These were not found in his office after his death. He was slain as he left his office late in the evening.

Beside the chair in which he treated patients was an open bottle of mercurochrome, often used for the treatment of gunshot wounds. Police considered it odd that a physician should leave such a bottle uncapped. They said this indicated Dr. Scott might have left his office hurriedly after receiving a threat. The precision of the assassination made it apparent that it was done by experienced killers.

An inquest was opened yesterday and continued to May 9.

Danzig Court Jails Pole for Slander of Hitler

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, April 26.—(AP)—The Danzig emergency court today sentenced Felixa Lawikowska, a Polish citizen, to two months' imprisonment for slandering Reichsfuehrer Hitler. Afterward she is to be expelled as an undesirable alien. Shouting "Heil Moscow" cost a 29 year old Polish servant girl named Langowska three weeks in jail. Her fiancé, Will Gurski, was sentenced to four months in jail for anti-Nazi activities.

JAIL WATCHMEN WHO STOLE FROM JEWELRY STORE

Two watchmen employed by a private patrol service were sentenced yesterday to terms in the bridewell for stealing jewelry from a store they were hired to protect. The men are Frank W. Brown, 31 years old, 1927 Erie street, sentenced to one year, and Gerald Eastham, 26, of 2653 21st street, 90 days.

On Christmas night, Sergt. Bernard Reilly told Judge Matthew D. Hartigan, Brown kicked in the glass door of a store at 1508 Fullerton avenue. Then he notified the police of an attempted burglary. Instead of guarding the store during the rest of the night, Brown and Eastham entered and stole a watch and three stickpins.

Brown was arrested April 18 when several persons complained that he was posing as a policeman. Brown confessed the burglary and implicated Eastham.

Butcher Gets Year in Jail for Meat Cleaver Attack

Hyman Goldberg, 32 years old, a butcher, was found guilty yesterday by Judge Walter T. Stanton in Criminal court of assault with a deadly weapon. Judge Stanton sentenced him to one year in county jail and fined him $1. Goldberg previously had been found sane at a sanity hearing. Ruben Schubert, 321 South Pulaski road, charged that Goldberg threw a meat cleaver at him when he went to Goldberg's butcher shop at 4746 North Kedzie avenue to foreclose a mortgage.

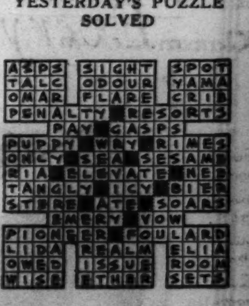
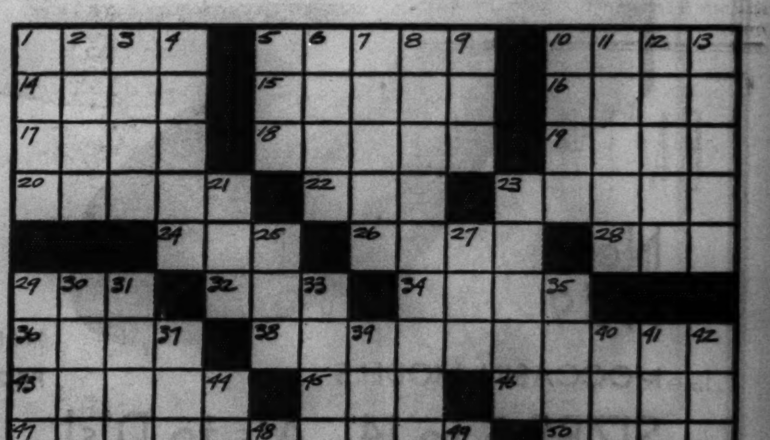
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





COUNCIL BALKS ON CONGRESS ST. WIDENING PLAN

Refuses to Grant Funds for Survey.

Ald. A. G. Lindell.

Proponents of a plan to make Congress street a wide boulevard, at an estimated cost of $50,000,000, suffered a setback yesterday when the city council declined to approve an immediate appropriation of $20,000 for a survey of the proposed project. After Mayor Kelly expressed doubts that it was legal to take the money from the traction fund, the matter was sent back to the council finance committee. This body already had recommended the appropriation.

During the debate Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th] said he was not sure of the wisdom of the Congress street improvement and suggested a change in trafic arrangements to give some immediate relief to west side residents suffering through trafic congestion. New one-way streets were recommended by the alderman.

Calls Group a Minority.

"At best," he said, "it would take years to complete the Congress street plan. Meanwhile, the people would have to wait helplessly while a minority group strives to make its dreams come true. The way to early relief lies in adapting existing streets to a larger volume of trafic."

The plan he advocated, which is also supported by the Chicago Motor club and a number of civic organizations, is to give eastbound automobiles exclusive use of Washington boulevard from the city limits through Garfield park. The eastbound trafic then would pass into Warren boulevard, as at present, and continue through Union park. Next the eastbound trafic would flow into Washington boulevard again and along it to the loop.

Westbound motorists would use Randolph street as a one way lane from the loop to Union park. Thence to Garfield park they would use Washington boulevard as far as Maypole avenue, then West End avenue to connect with Austin boulevard at the city limits. To connect Maypole avenue with West End avenue, a route a quarter of a mile long would have to be opened between Laramie and Long Avenues.

Puts Cost at 1½ Millions.

Ald. Lindell said this would cost only $1,500,000 and provide important benefits. He said he did not want to commit himself to the far more expensive Congress street plan.

He said he wanted to know the cost and the total number of pieces of property to be taken, the tax loss the city would suffer, the number of families and businesses to be relocated, and what safeguards would be given the "social and taxable resources of Chicago."

The recommendation for one-way streets was referred to the council committee on trafic.

Prof. Paul H. Douglas, new alderman of the 5th ward, presented a long resolution condemning housing conditions among the city's Negro residents and recommending the appointment of an inter-racial relations commission of fifteen members to study the matter. Five of the members would be aldermen. The proposal was referred to the rules committee.

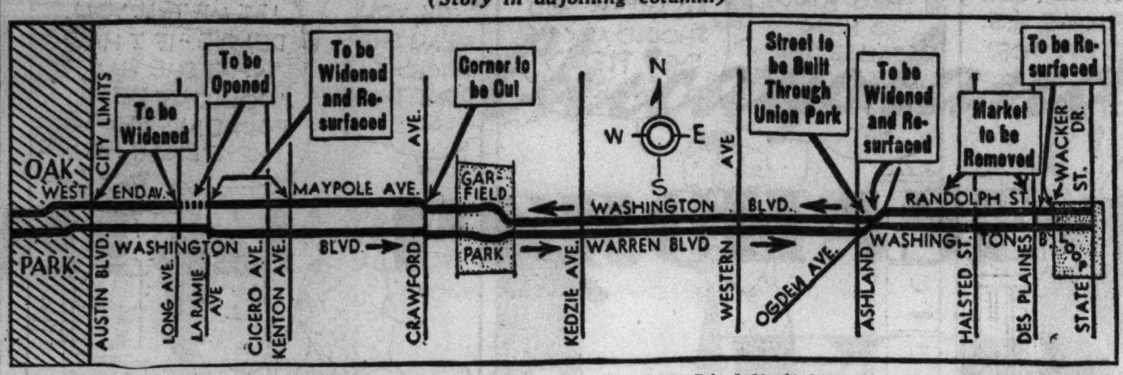
Subway Bid Accepted.

The contract for construction of a section of the State street subway under the Chicago river was awarded yesterday to the Merrick Chapman Scott corporation of New York by the city council. This section, which will cost $466,450, will be floated up the river after it has been built elsewhere will be sunk into a ditch to be dredged in the river bottom.

Ald. John J. Grealis [44th] was appointed to the Aero commission and the recreation commission by Mayor Kelly. Ald. Douglas also was appointed to the recreation commission.

Plan to Relieve West Side Trafic Congestion Supported

(Story in adjoining column.)



The plan supported in council meeting yesterday by Ald. Lindell (9th) to relieve west side trafic congestion at minimum cost. The creation of these two one way drives to the west city limits would cost but a million and a half dollars, compared with the estimate of 50 millions to construct a wide boulevard on Congress street, a plan which received a setback in the council yesterday.

AUTO HITS WORK CAR; PROJECTING RAILS INJURE TWO

Two persons were critically injured yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a surface lines work car at 63d street and California avenue. Two iron rails extending beyond the platform of the car smashed the windshield of the automobile and struck the victims.

The injured persons are Benjamin Bloomenthal, 15 years old, 1239 South Kedzie avenue, and Theodore Saunders, 23 years old, 1532 South Lawndale avenue. They were taken to Holy Cross hospital.

Miss Patricia Krimiss, 26 years old, 5012 Winthrop avenue, died last night of injuries incurred April 16 when the car in which she was riding with Nich Visco, 30, of 6401 West 18th street, Berwyn, struck a Montrose avenue street car at Central Park avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 290 persons had been killed by automobile in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of the deaths 225 were due to accidents in Chicago. The city's injury toll in the same period was 6,025.

THOMAS DOWDLE FILES PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Thomas P. Dowdle, a member of Dowdle Brothers, a contracting concern, yesterday filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the federal District court through his attorney, Louis Dennen. The petition listed liabilities of $122,298 and assets of $400.

The largest liability was an income tax lien of $71,276 for unpaid taxes from 1926 to 1929 inclusive. In 1930 Dowdle and his brothers, John J. and Raymond, were indicted for evading taxes on $4,000,000 from sanitary district contracts during the whoopee régime.

The criminal charges were dismissed in 1936 at the request of the attorney general. It was reported that Raymond and John Dowdle settled their income tax deficiencies. The brothers are nephews of Patrick A. Nash, Democratic national committeeman.

DIES IN DAUGHTER'S HOME.

Oregon, Ill., April 26.—[Special.]—Mrs. Dorothea Helm, 78 years old, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. Arbogast. She was born in Freeport.

5 UTILITIES FACE SUIT BY CITY ON SUBWAY PROJECT

The city will begin a test case today to force five utility companies to move their equipment from the streets to make way for the subway improvement. Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes said millions of dollars are involved.

The city contends that the utility companies must remove the equipment at their own expense. It has called upon the companies to begin the removal, in accordance with a new city ordinance, but the companies have not complied.

Hodes said he would file proceedings in Circuit court against the Commonwealth Edison company, Western Union Telegraph company, Chicago Railways company [street car lines], Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, and the Illinois District Telegraph company.

It is expected the case will be carried to the Supreme court. The suit asks removal of the equipment at State street and Grand avenue and State street and Chicago avenue where subway work is in progress.

INTRUDER CLUBS WIFE, 19, AND HER HUSBAND IN BED

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Grunow, 3139 North Francisco avenue, were attacked and clubbed in their bed early today by a mysterious intruder who then leaped out the window. Mrs. Grunow, who is 19 years old, was awakened by a voice admonishing the family dog. She sought to awaken her husband and was struck over the head with a club. The husband then was beaten. Shakespeare avenue police were investigating.

3 ST. CHARLES PAROLEES ADMIT $1,100 ROBBERY

Three young robbers, all parolees from the St. Charles School for Boys, are under arrest and have confessed to North avenue police that they took part on April 12 in a $1,000 robbery of Mrs. Mary Pusateri, 3518 Potomac avenue.

One of them, Mitchell Tetela, 18 years old, was seized last Friday. The others, Rudolph Dobrovitz, 18, of 2042 Huron street, and Curtis Taylor, 17, of 1939 Erie street, were arrested Tuesday.

Tetela and Dobrovitz were driving cars were arrested. They admitted they had bought the vehicles with the stolen money. Dobrovitz also said he had given Michael Chapel, 19 years old, 1933 Ohio street, $150 to buy himself a car. Chapel is under arrest.

ALDERMAN HITS SHARP DROP IN WPA WORKERS

Ald. William J. Cowhey [41st] complained yesterday in the city council that the ousting of workers from the WPA is rapidly overburdening city relief resources. He suggested that money now spent for direct relief might be made to go farther if it were used as the city's share of work relief projects. WPA employment in Chicago has been reduced from 121,000 to 82,000 since last October.

Atlanta, Ga., April 26.—[Special.]—Four southern states—Georgia, Alabama, Florida, and Mississippi—today observed memorial day in tribute to fallen soldiers of the confederacy. A parade was held in Atlanta. Among the marchers were members of the Ku Klux Klan, dressed in the hooded regalia worn by klansmen in the stormy reconstruction period that followed the civil war.

VOTE VALIDATION OF THREE G. O. P. JUDGE NOMINEES

Senate Also Passes Cook County Court Bill.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 27 [Thursday].—[Special.]—The state senate early today gave aid to Republicans of northern Illinois whose nomination of three candidates for Circuit judge in the 17th circuit was invalidated through failure of the officers of the convention to file certificates of nomination.

Senator Ray Paddock [R., Round Lake] obtained approval of a bill which, taken with pending house measures, would extend the time for filing nominations until May 11. The vote was 36 to 0. No objections were raised in debate, although the Democrats chided the Republicans as they joined in obtaining an unanimous vote.

Once the program is through the legislature the names of Judge Ralph J. Dady of Waukegan, Judge William L. Pierce of Belvidere, and Attorney Thomas Gill of Rockford will be certified to Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes as the G. O. P. nominees in the 17th circuit, which includes Lake, McHenry, Boone, and Winnebago counties.

Court Increase Voted.

Immediately after the Paddock bill was passed Senator Harold G. Ward [D., Chicago], Mayor Edward J. Kelly's legislative spokesman, called and passed his measure to increase the membership of the Superior court of Cook county from 28 to 36, the additional eight judges to be elected in June, 1940. Approval was given by a vote of 33 to 5.

A third important action at this post-midnight session of the senate was passage of a resolution, proposed by Senator Joseph E. Heckenkamp [D., Quincy], calling for appointment of a committee of five senators to investigate fees and charges made by the Union stockyards of Chicago and East St. Louis.

The committee will be named by Lieut. Gov. John Stelle and is directed to make its report by June 1. Like all legislative investigating committees, this group will have the power of subpenaing books, records, and witnesses.

Two Oppose Resolution.

Opposing the resolution, which was passed 31 to 2, were Senators John M. Lee [D., Chicago] and R. Wallace Karraker [D., Jonesboro].

Senator Ward introduced a measure at the close of the session to increase old age pensions in Illinois from $30 to $42 monthly. This bill was presented with the backing of Lieut. Gov. Stelle, it was said, and would make the state's maximum burden $27.

Senator William J. Connors [D., Chicago] obtained advancement to third reading of his bill to put racing on a five day week in Illinois.

BEG YOUR PARDON

In an obituary last Saturday on the death of the Rev. Lafayette Dillard Beck, it was incorrectly stated that he was former field secretary for the Lebanon university at Lebanon, Tenn. The Rev. Mr. Beck was former field secretary of the Southwestern Presbyterian sanitarium at Albuquerque, N. M., and for the James Millikin university at Decatur, Ill.

In a dispatch from Springfield printed in THE TRIBUNE yesterday and referring to charges made by Senator Earl B. There is no connection between the two companies.

EXTRA HIGHWAY POLICE BILL DIES IN HOUSE BATTLE

Move to Revive Act Is Called '$80,000 Steal.'

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 26.—[Special.]—Efforts of the state administration to revive and pass an $80,000 appropriation, which was defeated yesterday, failed today. The bill, which was denounced by economy advocates as an $80,000 steal, was beaten again and this time buried.

The bill was to provide more state highway policemen during May and June to enforce the drivers' license law.

Yesterday the bill got 100 votes, two short of the number required. When the house convened today the official journal of proceedings showed that a motion to reconsider the vote had been made.

Secrecy Charge Overruled.

"You can't play secret politics with the clerk's office," said Benjamin S. Adamowski, leader of the Democratic minority, who joined with Republicans in fighting the bill.

Adamowski and other members said that despite the official record the motion to reconsider had not been made yesterday. After a conference Speaker Hugh W. Cross [R., Jerseyville] ruled that the measure was up for another vote.

Roll call today gave the bill only 88 votes—twelve less than yesterday Twenty-one Republicans voted for it. Two Democrats voted "no" with Adamowski, several others remaining silent.

Pegged Levy Bill Offered.

A pegged tax levy bill for the Chicago park district was introduced today. It may result in a long fight, such as occurred last session in the house on a similar measure.

About $10,500,000 tax income is sought for the tax year 1939. In addition to the estimated $5,800,000 which will be realized from the three mill tax now permitted, the bill proposes a pegged levy of $4,700,000. Pegged levies to assure at least $11,000,000 for the tax years 1940 and 1941 are proposed. For 1937 and 1938 the levy was pegged at $7,600,000.

Cook County's April CCC Enrollment Totals 2,239

Two thousand two hundred and thirty-nine Cook county youths were enrolled in the Civilian Conservation corps during April, Leo M. Lyons, Chicago relief administrator and executive secretary of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, announced yesterday. Most of them will be sent to camps in Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan. Applications for the July enrollment are being received at district relief offices and at the certification offices, 1257 North Paulina street.

VOTE TO INDICT KONKOWSKI IN 2 MORE JOB CASES

Frank E. Konkowski, former alderman of the 26th ward, was reported named by the grand jury yesterday in two more true bills for the fraudulent sale of police jobs. The complainants were Louis J. Salaka, 27 years old, 4250 Crystal street, a bartender, and Samuel Zaccone, 28, of 4309 Hirsch street, a barber.

Konkowski and Stephen Idzikowski, a political lieutenant, were acquitted on one charge of job sales last March 25. They face trial on a second case. In addition, another indictment was returned recently. They also face charges May 1 of conspiracy to obstruct justice in attempting to defeat the pending trial.

According to Thomas Bugan, assistant state's attorney, Salaka and Zaccone said they paid Konkowski $500 each on his promise to get a job, and that $350 was refunded when their names were not posted on the police civil service list. They were to have testified at his first trial, but changed their stories at the last minute.

MORE ENDURANCE!

The Real Facts About KNOX GELATINE!

News reports were headlined recently that gelatine, just plain unflavored gelatine, increases endurance. So many thousands of inquiries have been pouring in, that the Knox Gelatine Company takes this means of answering the most frequent of the questions.

Q: Exactly what can Knox Gelatine do?

Q: What is the proof?
A: A series of laboratory tests, conducted on human subjects.

Q: What further proof is there?
A: Several leading universities are using Knox Gelatine on their training tables for this purpose. Business men, golfers, manual laborers, and other individuals have reported beneficial results. (Letters on file at our office.)

Q: How do these people take Knox Gelatine?
A: They simply take 4 envelopes a day for the first week, then drop to 2 envelopes a day. It is taken in a glass of cold water or fruit juice (or half water and fruit juice). Sprinkle the gelatine on top of the liquid, let the liquid absorb the gelatine; then stir briskly and drink immediately before it thickens.

A: No. Most people find it easier to take one envelope at a time, with or between meals.

A: No.

Q: Does the gelatine disturb the normal diet?
A: When taken as above, it neither disturbs digestion nor interferes with normal appetite.

Q: Is Knox Gelatine fattening?
A: No. There are about 28 calories to 1 envelope. This is approximately 1/3 the number of calories in one egg

Q: Will a flavored gelatine do?
A: No, because ready-prepared flavored gelatine desserts are about 85% sugar and only about 10% gelatine.

Q: Why should Knox Gelatine always be used?
A: Because it is made from sound, selected bone stock, manufactured under strict hygienic conditions under constant bacteriological and chemical control. It is handled from plant to consumer with a care equal to that given certified milk. It is neutral, tasteless and easy to take. The Knox plant is always open to public inspection.

Q: Is Knox Gelatine expensive to take?
A: After the first week, it will cost less than a pack of cigarettes per day.

A: This depends on the individual. For a true test, the gelatine should be continued daily for at least one month.

INDICT MANTON, FORMER JUDGE, FOR FIFTH TIME

Conspiracy Is Charged in Omnibus Bill.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 26.—[Special.]—An omnibus indictment containing charges of conspiracy to barter judicial decisions for bribes aggregating more than $185,000 was filed today by the federal grand jury against Martin T. Manton, former presiding judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here.

It was the fifth indictment returned against Manton since he resigned on Jan. 30 and contained the first complete picture of the general system of official corruption the former judge allegedly headed. He was accused not only of accepting bribes but of having agents solicit payments from litigants before him. Four co-defendants and three confederates also were named.

Provides Lesser Punishment.

By a strange quirk Manton will be subject to a lesser punishment if convicted on today's superseding true bill than if found guilty on the preceding four indictments. United States Attorney John T. Cahill announced Manton would be tried on the new indictment.

Conviction on the earlier indictments would have carried a possible maximum prison sentence of eighteen years for the former judge and six years for his co-defendants. Since the latest indictment contains only one count, conspiracy, the maximum sentence for each defendant would be two years.

There is no charge in the new indictment of bribery, although the actions described in the 22-page document would come within the bribery statute.

Manton Sets Precedent.

The reason given by the federal prosecutor's office for this surprising omission was that Manton himself as a judge had established a precedent under which a briber and acceptor of a bribe could not be tried together on the ground that the offenses were distinct. The government was anxious to try all defendants together in the present case. Hence charges of violating the bribery statute were not included.

The basis for the government's case lies in the fruits of a year's investigation by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York county, who turned over his data to the federal authorities on the theory that the suspected crimes lay within federal jurisdiction. Manton resigned from the bench after Dewey dispatched a letter to Hatton W. Sumners, chairman of the judiciary committee of the house of representatives. His resignation halted possible impeachment.

Four Indicted with Manton.

Indicted with Manton were William J. Fallon, friend and business associate of the ex-judge; John L. Lotsch, banker under sentence of a year and a day for taking commissions on loans made by his bank; George M. Spector, insurance man, and Forrest W. Davis, accountant and friend of Fallon.

The trial is scheduled to start May 22 before Judge W. Calvin Chestnut of the federal district court of Maryland, who was designated by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes to handle the Manton case. Defense motions will be heard May 3.

MARION TALLEY SOBS IN COURT OVER DAUGHTER

New York, April 26.—(AP)—Marion Talley broke down and sobbed today at the hearing on her petition for custody of the daughter she left as a new born baby to enter the movies nearly four years ago. She testified she left the child reluctantly and at the behest of her estranged husband, Adolph Eckstorm, a singing coach, in order to fulfill her Hollywood contract.

[Assoc. Press Wirephoto.]

Tears came to her eyes again when she was asked to identify a snapshot of her daughter, who celebrated her fourth birthday yesterday.

The child—called Susan by Miss Talley and Betty Ruth by Eckstrom—suffers from an eye disorder. She was examined last week by a physician who will be called to testify as to whether she needs an immediate operation. Miss Talley contends the operation is necessary and that Eckstrom is without money to pay for it.

Does Your Breath Shout 'FALSE TEETH'?

Stera-Kleen Prevents False Teeth Odor—Cleans Without Brushing

"False teeth odor" is the curse of denture wearers. Ordinary brushing or antiseptics often will not remove scum and food particles that collect on your plate or bridge. This uncleanliness gives off the most offensive of breath odors—you do not know if you have it—but others do.

Prevent this odor by using STERA-KLEEN and make sure of absolute cleanliness. STERA-KLEEN dissolves scum and food particles from the tiny crevices of your plate that brushing does not reach. It is safe—economical—easy to use.

Stir a little STERA-KLEEN in water, put in your plate or bridge for a few minutes. Rinse, and it is ready for use without brushing. Daily use prevents "false teeth odor." Get STERA-KLEEN today. Only 30¢ a package at any drug store.

MRS. COLETTA SCHLETT.

Norwalk, O., April 26.—[Special.]—Harold Hastings today took the witness stand here in his trial for the automobile murder of Carl Schlett and asserted his complete innocence. He denied that he had taken Schlett riding the night that the latter was run down and killed fifteen miles outside of town. And he also denied that he frequently had been intimate with Schlett's wife.

Mrs. Schlett yesterday told the jury that Hastings had taken her husband in his car to go to a riding academy on the edge of town the night of the murder. She also said that she and Hastings had been intimate two or three times a month since June, 1937.

"I know I didn't take Schlett riding that night," said Hastings. "It just wasn't me. And Mrs. Schlett and I were together only two or three times in all our eighteen month friendship."

MORAN-PARKER JURORS HEAR SPECIAL AGENT

The state yesterday completed the first week of its trial of George [Bugs] Moran, Frankie Parker, and three others charged with conspiracy to forge $62,000 in American Express travelers' checks. Harold Keyes, special agent for the company, testified before Judge James F. Fardy in Criminal court that he had gained the confidence of the gang and had obtained evidence for the indictment. The state expects to end its case this week. Defense testimony probably will continue all next week. The other three defendants are Frank Hicketts, Robert Sexton, and Daniel Driscoll.

ARREST DOZEN MORE SUSPECTS IN MURDER RING

Husbands Poisoned for Part of Insurance.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 26.—[Special.]—A dozen more suspects in an insurance-murder ring were arrested here today. The ring is believed to have taken seventy-five lives in four eastern seaboard states.

Investigators also disclosed inner workings of the ring for the first time. It was said ring members, operating under the leadership of a man who practiced witchcraft and was called "the rabbi," made their living by murdering the husbands of dissatisfied wives.

The plotters solicited killings in Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, and New York, an investigator said.

Solicitors Call on Wives.

"When members of the ring heard of a woman they believed might be interested in collecting insurance on the life of her husband, they would send an agent to see her," the investigator said.

"The agents would talk around the subject. Sometimes they made love to a wife and suggested getting rid of her husband so they could be married. If they succeeded, they would point out that there should be a business arrangement.

"The general rule was that the wives had to do the killing. The contact man would say he could get the necessary poison from a second party. The second party—or brains—would look into the insurance angle.

Minimum Rate $300.

"If the policy on the husband's life was more than $1,000, the ring would take 10 per cent of everything over the first $1,000.

"In instances where the wife was unwilling or afraid to go through with the poisoning, she would introduce a member of the ring to her husband. The agent would invite the husband out to dine frequently and would put poison in his food."

Thus far one man has been convicted of first degree murder, a woman has pleaded guilty of three slayings, and there others persons await trial on murder charges. Some of the ring's deepest secrets were disclosed by Mrs. Carina Favato, confessed poisoner of three men, who was arrested several weeks ago.

Hearings Ordered on 45th Ward Recount Petition

The petition for a recount of ballots cast in the 45th ward aldermanic runoff election, filed by John Haderlein, the defeated candidate, was referred yesterday to the city council judiciary committee for public hearings. Haderlein, according to the official canvass, was defeated by Ald. Edwin F. Meyer by 619 votes. The petition charges that Haderlein was deprived of more than 740 votes through fraud and errors.

WIFE AWARDED DIVORCE FROM FEILCHENFELD JR.

An uncontested divorce on the ground of cruelty was granted yesterday by Judge Rudolph Desort to Mrs. Thelma Feilchenfeld, 27 years old, from Arthur Feilchenfeld Jr., 30, owner with his father of a chain of loop hat shops. Under questioning by her attorney, Benjamin B. Davis, the wife testified yesterday that her husband struck her last July 15 and again on March 10, when they separated. Mrs. Feilchenfeld was awarded custody of two children, Arthur III., 5, and Judy Lynn, 1. The husband was ordered to pay $25 a week for their support.

FALLS SIX FLOORS TO DEATH.

Michael Duda, 50 years old, a window washer, was killed yesterday when he fell from the sixth floor of a coffee plant at 2133 Pershing road. A bolt to which his safety belt was fastened apparently gave way. Duda's home was at 733 Noble street.

FIRST ROOSEVELT REORGANIZATION STEP UNDER FIRE

Called Act to Perpetuate Wasteful Agencies.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 26.—[Special.]—Congress was called upon today to decide within ten days whether it approves or disapproves President Roosevelt's first government reorganization plan, which he submitted yesterday.

Representative John Taber.

Representative John Taber [R., N. Y.] introduced a concurrent resolution in the house declaring congress not in favor of the President's proposals. Taber denounced them as destructive of the morale of the permanent agencies included in the chief executive's setup and designed to promote a permanent continuation of the so-called emergency agencies.

Under the stringent terms of the reorganization act such a resolution must be reported within ten calendar days by the special committee on government organization, to which it was referred.

Clear Path for Vote.

If the committee does not act by May 6, the tenth calendar day, it becomes in order for Taber or any other member favoring the resolution to move to discharge the committee from further consideration of the measure. Such a motion is highly privileged under the act. One hour's debate is provided and a vote follows immediately.

If the committee is discharged the house may proceed immediately to vote upon the Taber resolution, with debate limited to ten hours.

Passage of the resolution in the house would not kill the President's plan, however. The senate's concurrence [in the resolution] within sixty days of the program's submission is required. The deadline for congressional disapproval of the program thus becomes June 24.

Adjournment Means Defeat.

If congress adjourns before June 24 the President's plan is killed automatically for this session and will not be considered until next year.

Taber told the house that Mr. Roosevelt's program calls for consolidation of temporary relief agencies with permanent government agencies. This would have the effect, he asserted, of reducing the efficiency of the permanent agencies to the "notoriously low level" of the relief agencies.

"The plan is utterly destructive of efficiency in the old agencies and their personnel," he declared. "Grouping the bureau of public roads and the public buildings branch of the treasury's procurement department with the WPA and the PWA would poison the former departments with the waste and extravagance so prevalent in the latter groups.

Assails NYA and WPA.

"Of course the really serious and dangerous part of the reorganization proposal is that which puts the notoriously inefficient National Youth administration and Works Progress administration in a setup of a permanent character.

"Unless the congress meets its responsibilities and comes to the rescue of the government, by disapproving this plan, the forces designed to destroy the efficiency of the government will have accomplished their purposes and destroyed whatever is left of efficiency in the agencies affected."

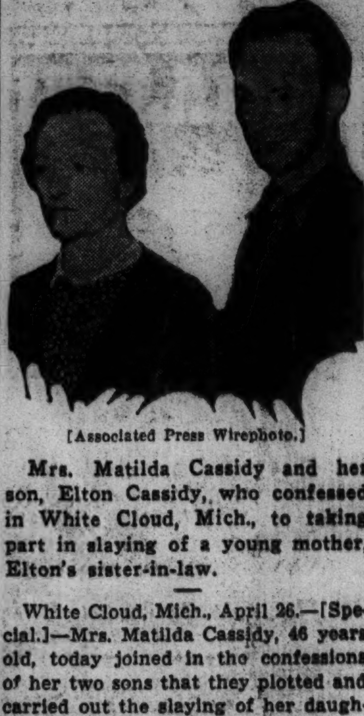
"A large increased overhead is provided for in each of these setups," he said. "No efficiency, no economy and nothing in the interest of the people will be accomplished by it."

Admit Slaying



[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Mrs. Matilda Cassidy and her son, Elton Cassidy, who confessed in White Cloud, Mich., to taking part in slaying of a young mother, Elton's sister-in-law.

White Cloud, Mich., April 26.—[Special.]—Mrs. Matilda Cassidy, 46 years old, today joined in the confessions of her two sons that they plotted and carried out the slaying of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Helen Cassidy, 20.

She said they first planned to poison the young woman, the mother of four children, but she vetoed that method for fear the youngsters would get some of the poison. It then was decided to choke the girl to death and leave her body hanging to simulate suicide, Mrs. Cassidy related.

Charles Cassidy, 24 years old, husband of the victim, and his brother, Elton, 23, confessed last night. Elton admitted he was the actual killer.

The three—Charles, Elton, and their mother—were charged with first degree murder today and were held for trial Friday in the Circuit court.

Authorities released two other members of the Cassidy family who had been held for questioning. Prosecutor J. Donald Murphy said the slaying was motivated by a family quarrel in which the young wife's housekeeping and religion were criticized.

DOCTOR CLEARED BY JURORS OF ABORTION COUNT

A no bill voted by the grand jury in the case of Dr. Benjamin H. Breakstone, who was recommended held by a coroner's jury on a charge of murder by abortion was recorded yesterday in the Criminal court.

The coroner's jury acted in the case of Mrs. Hermine Leith, 19 years old, 644 Surf street, who died following an operation Feb. 12. The grand jury refused to indict Dr. Breakstone on April 20.

First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley said there was insufficient evidence to indicate a crime had been committed. He said the only evidence was the opinion of a coroner's physician that an abortion had been performed. Dr. Breakstone said he operated to drain a pelvic abcess caused by intestinal influenza.

18 BURGLARIES ARE CONFESSED BY EX-CONVICT

Otto Loe, who said he is an ex-convict from Florida, confessed eighteen south side burglaries yesterday to Capt. Edward Kelly of the Woodlawn police. Loe rode about in a squad car pointing out places he had entered. Loot from eight of his burglaries was recovered in pawnshops. Loe, who is 40 years old, gave his address as 6545 Kimbark avenue. Capt. Kelly said Loe was looting the home of Noel Dillard at 1042 East 62d street Tuesday when Dillard surprised and captured him.

Benton Harbor, Mich., April 26.—[Special.]—Miss Anna Belle Dykstra, 18 years old, a laboratory worker of Kalamazoo, was chosen tonight to be queen of the seventeenth annual southwestern Michigan blossom festival. She and her court will rule over the celebration to be held here and at St. Joseph for a week beginning Sunday.

Her selection from among eighteen contestants marked the first time in the festival's history that one city's representatives have twice won the crown. Kalamazoo's Miss Dorothy McBride was queen last year.

The second and third place winners will be the queen's maids of honor. The other contestants and two hostesses, Ruth Lynn Holder, 18 years old, and Florence Yack, 17, previously selected as Miss Benton Harbor and Miss St. Joseph, will comprise her court.

The queen and her court will visit Chicago Friday and Saturday, returning here Sunday for the week of festivities. Miss Dykstra will be crowned at a ball in St. Joseph on Wednesday night.

STATE SENATE VOTES INCREASED FUNDS TO 2 MONTHS' RELIEF

Springfield, Ill., April 26.—[Special.]—Senator Harold G. Ward [D., Chicago], majority leader and Mayor Edward J. Kelly's legislative spokesman, today won the Illinois senate's unanimous approval of bills raising the state's share of the relief burden from $3,900,000 to $4,500,000 monthly during May and June. The vote was 36 to 0. Measures to continue relief at that figure after July 1 are expected to be presented later.

Ward introduced a series of bills today to put Illinois relief on a permanent basis. It would be administered by a board of five appointed by the governor and approved by the senate. This board would serve staggered terms and its successors six year terms.

PONTIAC PAROLEE AND PAL CAUGHT AFTER 3 THEFTS

Two men, one a parolee from Pontiac and the other now on probation in the Boys' court, were seized late yesterday after they had eluded a police squad in a running gun battle on the northwest side. Three women later identified them as purse snatchers.

The prisoners are Alex Kuzma, 21 years old, 2424 Chicago avenue, paroled from Pontiac last December after serving five years for robbery, and Peter Hocuk, 23, his roommate, who still has a year's probation to run on a charge of auto larceny.

After robbing the three women they were sighted in their stolen car by Policemen Karl Koehler and Edward Sureck at Belden and Central Park avenues. The policemen chased them to Belden avenue and Hancock street, where the thieves abandoned their car. A short time later the two policemen spotted Kuzma on foot, seized him. Hocuk was nabbed later.

They have deep, rich, satisfying flavor—unusual freshness. They'll make you wonder why you have been paying much higher prices for coffee that thousands say "cannot hold a candle" to A&P Coffee.

The reason is simple to explain. Our own resident buyers select the cream of the crop right at the plantations in South America. Then, off to your A&P store go these superb blends—Eight O'Clock, Red Circle and Bokar. All the extra handling charges and in-between profits are eliminated, and this accounts for their sensationally low prices. It further explains why thousands who formerly paid high prices for coffee now save up to 10¢ a pound.

You get these master blends, still in the bean with all their flavor sealed in by Nature. Not until you buy the coffee is it ground, just right for your method of making. Remember, fresh grinding is the secret of a cup of good coffee.

OUR AUTOCRATIC STATE.

The first executive order regrouping federal agencies under the reorganization act has been submitted to congress. Three new superagencies are created: The Federal Security agency, the Federal Works agency, and the Federal Loan agency. Some agencies are transferred either to the executive office or the department of agriculture. Although congress is not disposed to take snap judgment on this new setup, Representative John Taber, New York Republican of the house appropriations committee, said he would introduce a resolution of disapproval. Within a sixty day limit congress has the right to disapprove the changes.

In the message accompanying the order Mr. Roosevelt said his whole purpose in submitting the plan is to improve the administrative management of the republic, "and I feel confident our nation is united in this central purpose, regardless of difference upon details." That assumption disregards the principles upon which opposition to the present administration is based. Here is a colossal governmental structure which was supposed to contain only temporary machinery to pull the country out of a depression. The purpose now, as Mr. Taber remarked, is to make a permanent form for governmental activities which have deflected the resources of the country from private enterprise to political management.

A Nazi or Fascist could look at the three new agencies and their component parts and find something very familiar in them. This is the setup of a totalitarian state. These authorities, administrations, and corporations now rearranged for more direct control by the chief executive are agencies by which the government pursues its program of mobilizing national activities under what the Germans call the Fuehrer.

Mr. Roosevelt says that his chief object is greater efficiency. That means greater control over private enterprise, further extensions into the economic field, further manipulation of finance and production. The planned society is unrepentant in spite of the proof of its failure. People should realize that there is no stopping place for such a society short of the absolutism which exists in Germany, Italy, and Russia. The controls will not work unless they are complete and autocratic.

The New Deal doesn't keep its promises to drop reform and permit recovery because it would be false to itself if it did that. It will be false to everything but itself. The welfare of the New Deal and the welfare of the country are not bound together. They are opposed to each other. Eventually they would go down in a common crash, but as long as there is anything to be had out of the victim the parasite can prosper. These have not been six years of misfortune for the New Dealers. They have been having a good time.

They have scads of money. They have unlimited authority. They can play with the machinery of the country and throw it out of gear. They can tax productive industry into stagnation. They need not live within that revenue. They can borrow all they want. With other people's money they have been living high and enjoying all the pleasures of command and authority.

These years of depression have been years of prosperity for the New Dealers. Many of them came from obscurity to high place. On their own resources they never spent much money because they hadn't made any. They had never been in charge of any important enterprises. Consequently they never had enjoyed the exercise of authority. Now they have it. They have the money and they have power. They can boss citizens about. The world is theirs.

Give this up? Not so long as they can hang on to it. It is not their purpose to stop planning, reforming, and destroying. They will not stop. They must be stopped.

COLLEGIATE DIVIDENDS.

Statistics compiled by the federal bureau of education show that relatively few college graduates are, or have been, on relief. The figures were obtained from 46,000 graduates of thirty-one colleges and universities of the classes from 1928 to 1935. Only 2 per cent of the men [and 1 per cent of the women] had been on relief at any time.

These figures are taken to mean that a college education pays a cash dividend and perhaps that is true. The facts as presented, however, do not prove the case. The other day this newspaper published a map of Chicago in which the city was divided into relief districts. It showed that in the Irving district on the north side, with a population of 612,000, only 2.1 per cent were on relief. In the Chase district, containing 360,000 inhabitants, only 2 per cent were dependent upon charity. On the south side two districts, containing together more than 600,000 people, showed an aggregate dependency of a little more than 4 per cent. It seems altogether probable that some of the college graduates on relief were difficult to locate or ashamed to confess the truth, and if this is so, 2 per cent is too low a figure for the whole group, but even if the proportion is correct, it is no better than is found in two districts in Chicago containing, together, nearly a million inhabitants and not a great deal better than in two other districts containing 600,000 more. That is to say, the average for college graduates is little, if any, better than the average for more than a million and a half Chicagoans, of whom perhaps 10 or 15 per cent may have gone to college.

To get and hold a job and, therefore, stay off relief calls for intelligence, integrity, skill, perseverance, good breeding, and perhaps some other mental, moral, and physical assets. It may be true, but it remains to be proved, that the universities do or can do much, except by way of professional training, to develop any of these traits and capacities.

Somebody should try to find out what has happened to the boys and girls who voluntarily left college before graduation. It would be interesting to discover whether there is any relationship between the length of exposure to higher education and the subsequent success or lack of it. If a college education makes for material success, as some people seem to think, it should follow that the men and women who went to college for three or four years have been measurably more successful than those who were in college for only a year or two.

THE WIEBOLDT STRIKE MURDER.

Two weeks have passed since gunmen murdered James Lawrence in the wave of terrorism incident to the Wieboldt strike. Police have obtained the license number of the murder car, and other evidence, but arrests have not been made.

Chicago, it has been noted before, has an intelligent police force. Its members are capable of finding the killers, and no doubt will find them, if they are not pulled off the case by political interference.

Arrests in such a case should be more easy than in the usual murder. Commonly, when a murder is committed, police are put to some effort to discover the motive—to discover who might benefit by the killing. Such speculation is saved them in the labor murder. The beneficiaries of the crime are apparent. The problem is reduced to discovering who, in a group of logical suspects, was the actual killer, and accumulating the evidence necessary to convince a jury of his guilt. There is every reason to believe, as has been said, that the Chicago police can accomplish this task if there is no political interference with the investigation or with subsequent prosecution.

Ald. Rowan and his council labor committee have been working faithfully to settle the strike at the Wieboldt stores. It is to be hoped that they will soon achieve a solution fair both to the company and to its employés.

It goes without saying that the Lawrence murder is a matter apart from the strike settlement. The point would not be worth mention, if it were not that in some past strikes the parties to the settlement, private parties both, have attempted improperly to extend a settlement to include absolution for violence. Murder is not a permissible subject of arbitration.

HITLER TO THE WORLD.

It has been observed of Herr Hitler that when some violent speechmaking was expected of him he was less provocative than anticipated. He is seldom what could be described as temperately or judicially minded and undoubtedly finds in public speaking a stimulant to autointoxication. It has been said of him that he is a dull fellow with the pen but finds his ideas and his expressions flowing readily if he can wind himself up with rhetoric.

Pathologists at long distance have been studying his public appearances and performances for evidence relating to his mental state. It is the common theory that he is an interesting exhibit for the psychiatrist, and one conclusion is that he will progressively develop and reveal some distinct forms of abnormal mentality.

Another common judgment is that he is crazy like a fox, and, even if a megalomaniac, plans his maneuvers craftily with due consideration for the proper moment and with correct appraisal of his antagonist's weakness or indecision. Apparently he intends in his speech tomorrow to seize what he regards as a great occasion to confound his enemies and critics, probably with a recital of their own shortcomings, with the history of their own aggressions, with a description of the world as it is, and an assertion of Germany's right through might to get its share of the exploited countries.

He may do all this and still be no more warlike than the governments which oppose him, including that of the United States, which may well be the chief object of his oratory.

The United States government invited itself to be the principal guest at this Nazi party and to receive a full share of Herr Hitler's attention. It put itself on the spot for whatever happens.

EQUAL RIGHTS FOR MEN.

Five men are locked in the County jail for failure to meet their separate maintenance payments, we learn from a recent article by Miss Winn.

It isn't so many decades ago that women had almost no legal rights as against their husbands. The wife was little better than a slave in her husband's house. He could lock her up if he so desired and make her like it.

Men can no longer imprison their wives, but wives can and do imprison their husbands. In Illinois the wife can obtain a separate maintenance decree which forces the husband to support her until her death, but, because the decree is not a divorce, prevents him from marrying again and living a normal life. If the husband rebels against this unnatural arrangement and refuses to pay, or if for any reason he can't pay, he can be slapped into jail on charges of contempt of court and, if he is a poor man, held there until he rots or the judge relents.

The legal and social bonds which imprisoned women have been broken. Now it is necessary to break the man's fetters. Bills have been introduced in the Illinois legislature to achieve this end. The man against whom a separate maintenance decree has been obtained will be permitted to sue for divorce after two years of living apart from his wife. He need not sue for divorce unless he desires to do so; but, if he sues, the fact of separation will be grounds for divorce. If these bills are enacted a weapon of blackmail, injustice, and cruelty will have been destroyed.

ONLY THE TRUTH.

An old Negro, passing a graveyard, saw the grave of a man he had known and paused to spell the words on the tombstone. Finally he had it: "I still live," read the inscription.

"Jes look at dat," exclaimed Old Ned. "Who he think he foolin'? If I'm ever daid, I sho'll be man enough to own up to it."—Exchange.

MANSIONS OF WICKER PARK.

Regions of old houses, especially the neglected mansions of perhaps a better time, have always pleased our fancy. We remember Paris more fondly for the Faubourg St. Germain and the Marais than for the Opéra district and Montmartre. History comes to life in such environments, in full bloom of vanished costumes and forgotten manners.

Chicago has written its saga partly in the mansions of its fortunate industrialists, and the streets where these houses stood in their opulent youth are bywords in the city's traditions. Ashland avenue, Prairie avenue, Lake Shore drive, Michigan boulevard, Grand boulevard, Drexel boulevard—these were fine places for walks in the '90s, especially if you were a lad who had never been inside one of their hundreds of baronial halls. . . . Well, all these regions have their stories, which have been told often; but did you ever hear of the mansions of Wicker Park?

This is an oasis in the gray, smoky plain that stretches northwestward—the unlimited grimness that you see from a downtown skyscraper window. You reach Wicker Park by North avenue, about a mile west of Goose Island; or by the Logan Square elevated, at Damen avenue; or by Milwaukee avenue. The park itself is a triangular area of trees and lawn, which was given to the city by a certain Wicker who held and profitably sold the lots that faced it. In the '80s and '90s a branch of the mansion builders settled there, and did themselves proud.

We first saw the mansions of Wicker Park thirty-six years ago, and they clung in our memory. They were pleasant houses to look at, suggesting happier and more home loving inhabitants than their rivals of the more fashionable districts. We never saw them again until yesterday—saw, that is, their few survivors.

* * *

An expert in Wicker Park lore informs us that only one of the houses now standing is worthy of mention, but the district still has much to say about its past in architectural impressiveness. The rooming house blight has not made a complete conquest.

Among the old Wicker Park mansion dwellers were the Uihleins, stemming from the Milwaukee brewing family; James J. McGrath, an alderman; O. W. Potter, roller mill magnate; John Buehler, German-American banker; John Mohr, boiler manufacturer; Charles Herman Plautz, a former city treasurer; W. T. Johnson, a state senator; and Frederick E. Herhold.

This is a bit of old Chicago that would serve admirably as background for a novel, but literature has completely neglected it.

TYPOGRAPHICAL TRAGEDY.

I wrote a lover's masterpiece
And mailed it to my dear Louise;
Ach so! It made her very sore
And she is my Louise no more!
I bow my head in deepest shame—

A Vote for Towertown.

I second the motion [4-22-'39] that we call the near north side district, now a night club rialto, Towertown. . . . In 1922 and 1923 M. M. Musselman, then of the City News Bureau, and I, then of the Chicago Evening Post, started a campaign to this effect. We kept the name alive for quite a while; then we quit newspapering and the movement died. I am glad to see that you have revived it. By gum, we'll develop traditions in this here city yet.

A Good Tree for Graveyards.

Keep the address of your own forlorn sycamore tree [4-24-'39] secret if you please, but tell the Indiana society to go out to Oak Woods cemetery and look at the row of them on 71st street from Cottage Grove to Woodlawn avenue. There is another row of them on the Cottage Grove side of the cemetery, but with fewer trees. . . . And don't let any one send you to Turkey Run to see tulip trees or to China to find a ghinko.

Divinity.

The Dictator of Bridgeport.

Concerning the good old days in Bridgeport [4-21-'39]: At a political meeting held in Kaiser's hall on Archey road, Ald. McCormick delivered a speech and then asked if any gintleman in the hall had any remarks to make. Well, one gintleman said about two words and after they carried him out, the alderman repeated his question, but enough said.

A CHILD'S JINGLE OF VERSES.

There was an ole lady who didn't have no teef;
Her diet it was scanty and she couldn' eat no beef;
Her sad lack of crushers, incisors and rollers,
To say nothing of bicuspids and wisdoms and molars
Was enough to drive any one daffy.
She couldn' even eat taffy!
And of course not nuts,
Or the tenderest cuts
Of steak.
It was a shock to the nation when she died of starvation
On her ration

The Language of Vacant Lots.

Did any one ever discover the origin of the use of the word "van" in so many expressions youngsters use? There was "van dibs," meaning, "You gotta give me some." And "van haves," meaning, "I saw it first; it's mine!" When some game was proposed you weren't allowed to back out if some one else yelled, "van all in it!" And you couldn't change sides if some one else called, "van no changing!"

M. A. H.

[Note by Linemaster: In our boyhood and neighborhood it was "fen," not "van." There is a French verb form, "défendu," which is as common on street signs as "verboten" in Germany. It means "forbidden." Hence the street urchins' "fen"!]

The latest problem is to change or not to change—from winter to summer underwear, of course. This amounts to a confession that we are not hardy enough to wear little pastel panties through the year.

WHEN CHILDREN SWALLOW POISONS.

CHILDREN are professional swallowers. Despite the numerous warnings that have been sounded that every poisonous preparation must be kept well out of reach, newspapers continue to record tragedy after tragedy wherein these tots have imbibed solutions of lye, washing powder, drainpipe cleaner, paint remover, or some other noxious chemical. Even though the mishap be discovered at once and the immediate toxic effects be combated adequately, nevertheless the subsequent complications may prove disastrous. As the burned and destroyed mucous membrane heals, all too often scars result and contractures occur, thus preventing food from finding its way into the stomach.

Let us assume an episode of this character. Despite superficial burns about the mouth and throat the youngster will be eager for water even though gulping is painful. Within seven to ten days symptoms will subside and swallowing will improve, possibly returning to normal. This period of seeming recovery is quite deceptive, for within three or four weeks not only solids and liquids, but even saliva may be expectorated. Because of the spilling of foods into the bronchi, there is usually a harsh cough, marked loss of weight caused by starvation, and some fever.

In a recent report by Martin and Arena on 50 cases of lye poisoning, these little patients were found with the esophagus [the tube leading from the throat to the stomach] glued together so tightly that edibles entered the gastric pouch with the greatest difficulty. Most of these sufferers were not seen until a month after the initial incident, at which time signs of obstruction became evident.

These authors emphasize the fact that more damage may be inflicted by the type of first aid employed. No attempt should be made to induce vomiting and under no circumstances should a stomach tube be used as this merely irritates an already inflamed area. Instances have been noted in which actual perforation of the esophagus attended this procedure.

The antidote for lye [an alkali] is diluted vinegar, lemon, grapefruit, or orange juice, followed by olive oil and a large amount of fluid. Then, for the first two days after the accident, only water should be given by mouth. If swallowing is interfered with normal salt solution may be injected under the skin. By the third day the swelling will have receded sufficiently so that liquids as well as soft, nonirritating meals may be taken.

On the fourth day a large rubber catheter should be introduced into the stomach and kept in place for two minutes. This tube is well oiled, closed at both ends, and filled with small shot or mercury to keep it distended. At first it should be passed every other day, later once a week, and the treatment continued for at least three or four months. This will aid the separation of raw inner surfaces of the esophagus. Sometimes more trouble is encountered with the parents than with the child in carrying out this plan. Inasmuch as the little boy or girl seems to be able to eat satisfactorily they can see but little sense in repeating this performance again and again.

If the treatment has been inadequate and blocking is complete one of these victims presents a pathetic picture. Hollow eyed, emaciated, well nigh skin and bones—the outlook is unfavorable. In severe cases it may be necessary to make an opening into the stomach so that nourishment may be supplied. But these youngsters are poor surgical risks and this should be avoided if possible. In other instances the child may be persuaded to swallow a small silk thread and from this tiny beginning, enlargement of the duct may be begun.

Under the leadership of Chevalier Jackson, a federal law was passed which provides that household lye and other caustics be properly labeled. Despite this precaution, solutions will be left carelessly about the home where children may drink them.

NUTS.

V. I. J. writes: Would eating nuts daily have a tendency to cause constipation?

REPLY.

No. If thoroughly chewed and well digested they form a valuable addition to the diet. I know individuals, however, who cannot assimilate the extra oil. Some skin irritation follows and pimples are likely to occur.

SUBSTITUTES FOR SPINACH.

R. B. writes: My son won't eat spinach—no matter how I prepare it. But he eats lots of lettuce. Does this supply enough iron?

REPLY.

Lettuce or other leafy vegetables may be substituted. Don't punish your son further.

WON'T GO TO DOCTOR.

B. P. writes: My father has a pain in his chest. He refuses to visit a physician. He is a mortician.

REPLY.

He can't dread going to a doctor half as much as the physician hates to go to him. At least, he has a chance. Pain indicates trouble of some sort which should be traced to its origin. Remember the old adage, "A stitch in time," etc.

NONE.

W. T. writes: I have been told that it is very unwise to drink milk if one has high blood pressure. Is there any basis for this statement?

REPLY.

RUBBERS.

S. C. writes: What is the objection to wearing rubbers continuously? Would the same criticism apply to rubber or gumsoled shoes?

REPLY.

The chief objection is lack of ventilation—allowing perspiration to accumulate. This is of little consequence in rubber soled shoes.

GUM BOIL.

E. B. writes: What can be done to relieve a gum boil?

REPLY.

The lesion may require opening. It means the presence of infection which has burrowed into the soft tissues surrounding the tooth. Visit your dentist. In order to avoid recurrence special attention should be paid to oral hygiene, vitamins, and general resistance.

VIOLENCE IN LABOR DISPUTES.

Chicago, April 23.—How can the rank and file of our American labor unions ever expect to better their condition as workers while the organizations they support are controlled by the gun and the blackjack?

It is well known that many employers have resorted to and encouraged acts of gangsterism in their relations with their employés; but this should only point the way for labor leaders to use more intelligent methods. It requires no intelligence to use a gun or a blackjack. It doesn't require an ounce of courage for five or more thugs to shoot or maim one defenseless person; and it most certainly does not add to the prestige and respect of the labor organization which resorts to such tactics.

A labor organization must conduct its business in a legitimate manner, and be an organization of honor, able to set an example to stupid employers who use ruthless methods in fighting labor; it will then be an organization which every worker will be proud to be a member of.

Since 1881 labor in the United States has advanced but very little; as a labor organizer I can very easily prove this by checking the history of labor unionism to the present day. Chicago is not by any means a union town, and never will be until the rank and file take the entire situation into their own hands and clean up.

NUMEROLOGY.

Chicago, April 17.—Inclosed you will find a translation from Polish of an article from the Kurjer Poznanski of March 28:

"Masaryk was born in 1850, came to power in 1918, governed for 17 years, at his abdication was 85 years old. Addition of these figures gives 3870, divided by 2 leaves 1935—the date of Masaryk's abdication.

"Wilhelm II., born 1859, ascended the throne in 1888, ruled for 30 years, at the time of his abdication was 59 years old. Addition of the figures gives 3836, divided by 2 leaves 1918—the date of Wilhelm's abdication.

"Benes—born 1884, came to power in 1935, governed 3 years, at the time of abdication 54 years old. Sum of figures 3876, divided by 2, 1938. And, as before, the figures correspond.

"Now notice! Hitler, born 1889, came to power in 1933. To the present has been in power for six years. Age at present 50 years. Sum of figures 3878, divided by 2, 1939. . . ."

TRAFIC PLANNING BLUNDERS.

Chicago, April 19.—A few vicious civic conditions I find difficult to explain to out of town visitors and admirers of our beloved Chicago:

Those absurd, hazardous, trafic jamming, lightning bolt shaped turns on the new outer drive bridge, instead of an "S" shaped curve—even if any turn or curve whatever at that point were necessary.

The network maze of looping, merry-go-round driveways through the south park systems—a time wasting, mystifying pinwheel of roads where a northbound motorist can be southbound in a twinkling or headed up a dead end street if he doesn't tote a compass.

And the befuddled, "Alice In Wonderland" type of fused trafic channeling imposed in the North Michigan avenue and Lake Shore drive route which completely bewilders the inexperienced.

MEXICAN RAILROADS.

Chicago, April 15.—At a time when Amlie and Benson straws indicate the direction of the wind toward ultimate nationalization of the railroads during the impending war sired third term it might be interesting to your readers to have the lowdown on what is happening to the Mexican railroads.

Aside from such a trivial matter as stealing the lines from their foreign owners the Mexico City counterparts of Washington turned the lines over to the employés for operation.

In recent weeks I have talked to several American railroad officials who have either been in Mexico recently or do business with the road south of the border. Their off the record accounts of what has happened would cause a seasoned traveler to take that abortional form of transportation, the bus, sooner than trust his carcass to a train.

A true story of conditions beyond the Rio Grande would give a good conception of what we will have in 1944.

NED ALVORD.

ONE WAY TO ANSWER.

Chicago, April 16.—If I were Hitler or Mussolini I would reply to the President's message as follows: "Do you realize that there are millions and millions of unemployed people in the United States who are in misery and want and millions more who live in constant fear and dread of losing their jobs? I would suggest that you do something about that, and guarantee them, say, ten years of steady employment, or maybe twenty-five, if we dare look that far ahead. I am sure that your people would appreciate that very much. After you have taken care of the suffering in your own country, come around again and we will talk to you about international affairs."

VARIATION ON AN OLD THEME.

Chicago, April 21.—In answer to anti-Nazi German B. Rieprich let me state this: If Mr. Rieprich is so dissatisfied with present day Germany, why not go over there and change it to his liking instead of showing his courage in denouncing the German-Americans here?

BANKRUPTCY ACT.

Chicago, April 17.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I filed a voluntary petition and was adjudicated a bankrupt in January, 1933. I was discharged Oct. 15, 1934. I again filed voluntary petition and was adjudicated bankrupt Jan. 17, 1939. I understand the attorney for one of the creditors intends to object to my petition on the ground that it is not six years since my last discharge. I understand that discharge must be applied for after one month and not later than twelve months after date of adjudication.

1. Can attorney for creditor have my application for discharge denied on the ground it is not six years since last discharge?

2. If discharge is denied because of the above reason, does that also nullify my adjudication in bankruptcy?

3. If discharge is applied for on the twelfth month after adjudication and is denied because six years have not passed since last discharge, am I eligible for immediately filing a new petition in bankruptcy on the same debts?

4. Would it be possible to have action delayed on my discharge and the time extended so that date of discharge would be six years since last discharge?

H. E. L.

1. Section 32 of the bankruptcy act reads as follows: "The judge shall hear the application for a discharge and such proofs and pleas as may be made in opposition thereto by the trustee or other parties in interest, at such time as will give the trustee or parties in interest a reasonable opportunity to be fully heard; and investigate the merits of the application and discharge the applicant, unless he has been granted a discharge in bankruptcy within six years." [Page 322.] Hence we would say that the period should be calculated from discharge to discharge.

2. Yes.

3 Yes, if six years have elapsed since discharge.

4. Yes, as we understand the facts. Ordinarily it is advisable to employ an attorney for such proceedings and this is even more clearly the case where you know in advance that you are trimming close to the line.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SUBSTITUTE FOR WILL.

Chicago, April 17.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. I deeded my property to my sister and wish to know if I can keep the deeds as a will until my death before it is recorded. If so, how long after my death will she have to record it?

2. Must I go before a notary to acknowledge this?

3. If I make a will do I have to acknowledge same before a notary?

4. I have about $10,000 in real estate. What of that? Does the government get a share in case I should leave a will? I have some money in the bank.

5. Can I make a joint account at the bank so that no one can get it until after my death? I mean that my sister can't draw on it until after my death?

6. How can I fix it with the bank?

D. E.

1. We advise against relying on an unrecorded deed as a substitute for a will, since this invites litigation on the question as to whether the deed was validly delivered during the grantor's lifetime.

2. Yes.

3. No.

4. The exemption on a gift to a sister is $10,000 worth.

5. In general, a joint account means that either party can withdraw. If you do not let your sister know that you had created the account, then presumably she would not withdraw, but this might involve complications.

6. The best way to ascertain what arrangements you can make with the bank is to talk with the bank.

Defendant's Charge Is Denied by Deputy.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Morrison, Ill., April 26.—[Special.]—Dr. Lyle Dingman, young veterinary surgeon who is on trial on a charge of having slain his wife, Laura, was called to the stand today in the midst of the state's case. He astounded the crowd which packed the Whiteside county Circuit court room by saying State's Attorney L. L. Winn had promised immunity to him if he changed the first story he had told about his wife's death.

His testimony was given with the jury excluded while his attorneys fought to exclude the statement containing his second story, which is regarded as incriminating. Judge Francis J. Coyle will rule tomorrow on admissibility of the statement.

First Story Changed.

After finding his wife's body in the yard of their home in nearby Prophetstown, Dingman, who is 32 years old, said he did not know how she met her death.

Two days later, while he was in technical custody, he made the second statement in which he said she accidentally fell out of the window of their second floor bedroom, after a scuffle. The prosecution contends that he either pushed her or she fell when he pursued her, and that he allowed her to lay dying outside through the freezing night.

Dingman was called to the stand by his attorney, Jacob Cantlin.

"States Attorney Winn said my first story was a lie and if I changed it, he'd see that I got out of this, Dingman said.

"Did the state's attorney really say that?" inquired Judge Coyle.

"He did," the defendant replied.

"Deputies from Sherif Roy Crook's office took me from Prophetstown to Morrison on March 21," Dingman said, "without asking me if I wanted to go. When I got to the courthouse Dr. Keeler was there. [This was a reference to Dr. Leonarde Keeler of Chicago, inventor of the lie detector.]

Divorce Bill Exhibited.

"He asked me about the first story I had told and I repeated it. Then he said I was lying and should change my story or no court and jury would believe me. He called me a nitwit, too."

Dingman said he refused to sign the statement which was made in the presence of State's Attorney Winn and Deputy Sherif Charles Westendorf.

Earlier Winn and Westendorf were called to the stand outside the jury's presence. They told of Dingman making his second statement and denied any threats were made against him or that any promises of immunity were given.

Gets a Divorce

MRS. MARY SENATE HOWES STEWART.

Rapid City, S. D., April 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary Senate Howes Stewart, daughter of W. W. Howes, first assistant postmaster general of the United States, was granted a divorce yesterday from John Alexander Stewart by Circuit Judge A. R. Denu. The complaint charged mental cruelty. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart were married in Washington, D. C., nearly two years ago.

CHICKENS STRAY; 4 PERSONS SHOT TO DEATH IN FEUD

Paris, Tex., April 26.—(AP)—Four persons were shot to death and two others wounded near Emberson, Tex., today. Officers began searching the Oklahoma-Texas border section for Marion Mackey, a farmer, whose wife said he had threatened to wipe out a neighboring family.

Chief Deputy Sherif George Robertson said the shooting apparently grew out of a feud between Mackey and the family of J. W. Snow, living a few hundred yards away. They had had words, he said, over chickens straying out of their pens.

The dead were: J. W. Snow, 79 years old; Mrs. Leo Dennis, 50, daughter of Snow; Mrs. Willie Kemper, 45, daughter of Snow; Dee Chandler, 46, a neighbor.

LIFTS INJUNCTION AGAINST FURTHER '34 TAX REFUNDS

Affects Only Those Who Paid Under Protest.

Judge Harry M. Fisher in Circuit court yesterday dissolved a temporary injunction which had restrained County Treasurer John Toman from refunding a portion of their 1934 taxes to property owners who protested the levy.

Judge Fisher, who issued the injunction last Dec. 19 in response to a taxpayers' suit, ruled yesterday that County Judge Jarecki had jurisdiction when he authorized the blanket refunds. The refunds, which affect 124,751 parcels of property, will average about $3.50, county officials said.

Payments Stopped by Toman.

Some taxpayers received refunds while Horace G. Lindheimer was county treasurer. Payments were stopped by Treasurer Toman after the injunction was issued.

Judge Jarecki had ruled that 34 cents of the 1934 tax rate, or about $7,700,000 of the total $160,000,000 property taxes, extended in the city for that year, was invalid. It was stated at that time that those who had paid in cash would get a cash rebate. Those who still owed part of their 1934 taxes would have the overcharge deducted from the unpaid balance.

Large Payments Withheld.

The injunction suit brought before Judge Fisher had alleged that many of the property owners were not entitled to refunds because they did not pay under protest and file objections in the County court.

Many large taxpayers who carried their objections to the courts had withheld at least the amount of the rebate later authorized by the Illinois Supreme court. For this reason most of those now entitled to refunds are small property owners.

COUNTY MAILS LAST BATCH OF 1938 TAX BILLS

The last of the 1938 property tax bills for the county were sent out yesterday, it was announced at the office of County Treasurer John Toman. The penalty deadline for the payment of the bills is June 1, with the second instalment of realty taxes due Sept. 1.

Collections of 1938 taxes since the first bills were sent out April 9 approximate $4,000,000. According to William J. Lake in the treasurer's office, this volume is unusually large this far in advance of the penalty deadline.

STATE IS URGED TO DEFEAT MILK CONTROL PLANS

Committee Hears Ills Under N. Y. Law.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 26.—[Special.]—Charges of vicious practices in the milk industry of this metropolitan area were heard here today by an Illinois delegation headed by Dr. H. A. Ruehe of the University of Illinois. The ills, as described, were under control laws such as now proposed in bills pending before the Illinois legislature at Springfield.

The visiting group, appointed by Lieut. Gov. John Stelle to investigate the operation of milk price fixing boards in the east, listened to Mrs. John Frazier, a professional social worker, blame big dealer corporations and farmer leaders for milk prices above the purchasing power of a low wage multitude in the city.

The price was cut here from 13¾ cents to 11½ cents last month after control laws were invalidated by a court decision now on appeal before the United States Supreme court.

Farmers Are Penalized.

Mrs. Frazier is vice chairman of a milk consumers protective committee and secretary of United Neighborhood Houses, like Chicago Hull house. She has been associated with some radical groups in New York.

"The farm organization leaders work hand in hand with the dealer corporations," she declared. "Through stooges for the distributors, any farmer who doesn't stay in line is penalized by cutting off his market.

"The system of classifying the milk, boosting the price paid to farmers for milk going into bottles, and lowering the price for milk going into cheese or butter, is against the interests of farmer and consumer alike. Its benefits are solely for the farm organization and for the big dealers.

Recoup on Ice Cream and Cheese.

"The dealers, keeping books with mirrors, are able to show that they do not make a profit on the bottled milk because of high prices paid to farmers. And then the dealers recoup with profits from ice cream and cheese made from milk bought at suppressed prices.

Farmers in the Chicago milk shed sell most of their milk on the two price system. Arthur Hartman of Hampshire, Ill., producer representative in the delegation, quoted $1.43 a hundred pounds for bottle milk as the current Chicago price paid to farmers.

Farmers appearing before the house agricultural committee at Springfield last week said one argument for a state control board was to audit dealer books to certify that milk they sold for the lower price didn't leak into the higher price usage.

"Whatever you do," Mrs. Frazier urged, "don't attempt to fix retail prices. This situation has given New York a social problem. With the aid of WPA labor, we interviewed 21,000 consumer families and found that in the lowest wage group the consumption was less than a fourth the minimum for health—due solely to prices.

"This survey showed that consumption per family increased in proportion to its purchasing power until the $50 a week class was reached. Only those with $50 a week or more income did not restrict their use of milk due to its cost."

Control Boosts Prices.

To date, Dr. Ruehe's party has found that milk control, such as proposed for Illinois, increases the retail price 2 cents a quart to give the farmers ½ cent more a quart for that part which is bottled. Such control, it was noted, has a tendency to stimulate overproduction and depress prices.

Others in the group, returning to Lieut. Gov. Stelle's milk conference next week, are: Mrs. Wilbur E. Firbley, president of the Chicago Housewives league, representing consumer interests; Frank Gillespie, secretary of the Chicago dairy workers' union, representing organized labor, and Arthur Buehring of De Kalb, Ill., president of the Illinois daily products association, representing dealers.

Marriage on Rocks

MR. AND MRS. POTTER D'ORSAY PALMER.

Sarasota, Fla., April 26.—[Special.]—The brief marriage of Potter D'Orsay Palmer, heir apparent to a $10,000,000 fortune, and the bride he found in a Florida restaurant, was on the rocks today. His wife, the former Pluma Louis Lowery Abatiello, retained a local lawyer to file suit for separate maintenance charging habitual drunkenness and cruelty.

Attorneys began conferences to effect an out of court settlement. With no agreement reached, Mrs. Palmer's attorney said her suit would be filed tomorrow.

Mrs. Palmer has moved out of the Palmer cottage which is not far from the roadside tavern where Pamer met and courted her. Two days of whoopee in the tavern followed their marriage last Dec. 4. Palmer subsequently was cut off by his wealthy father for taking his fourth wife, but there was a reconciliation.

A FIERY TENANT GETS HEATED UP OVER HIS RIGHTS

When a man leases an apartment that apartment is his to do with as he pleases. This view was expressed yesterday in Town Hall court by Edward Fraser, 47 years old, 735 Junior terrace, who was charged with disorderly conduct by his landlord, Robert J. Colomb. When other tenants complained of smoke, Colomb found Fraser's bed burning, the varnish on the floor blistered and Fraser—well, Mr. Fraser was a bit under the weather.

"I was entertaining an out of town buyer," he told Judge Mason S. Sullivan. "Naturally we drank a lot. I don't know how the fire started, but there's nothing in the lease about not setting fires."

The judge thought this interpretation of the lease was a bit broad, but he told Fraser that if he would pay for the damage done the case would be dropped. Not only will he pay, Fraser said, but he will also move.

STILL OPERATOR FINDS EVEN FLAG CAN'T SAVE HIM

Memphis, Tenn., April 26.—(AP)—Puzzled by an American flag and a white banner found fluttering over a raided still, R. A. Beman of the federal alcohol tax unit said he obtained this explanation from the grizzled prisoner:

"I been figgering I was making whisky within my own rights as long as I grew my own corn, ground it into meal, and made it into whisky under an American flag.

"The white flag? O, that's the flag of truth I been waving above my still all these years."

Publisher Accused of Income Tax Evasion.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 26.—[Special.]—After Moses L. Annenberg, wealthy publisher, ended a series of conferences with the department of justice on income tax deficiencies, it was learned tonight that the government will move at once to indict him on charges of tax evasion at Chicago.

Neither the government nor Annenberg would comment on the nature of the conferences. It was expected that Attorney General Frank Murphy might reveal that he will order presentation of the case to the federal grand jury in Chicago, Annenberg's financial headquarters.

Confer for Two Days.

The conferences were begun yesterday with Murphy and his aids arraigned against Annenberg and his attorneys. Annenberg's legal staff is headed by Weymouth Kirkland of Chicago.

At the department of justice, it was said that the conferences were sought by Annenberg in conformance with the government's policy of giving a hearing to any one whose tax matters are under investigation. The bureau of internal revenue has been looking into Annenberg affairs for many months.

U. S. Wants Half Million.

The conference, it was learned, did not change the government's position that indictment should be sought for tax deficiencies reportedly about $500,000. No offer in compromise was made, however, according to reports.

Attorneys for Annenberg, it was said, attempted to show that errors made in Annenberg's tax computations were due to the nature of his business and the fact that his income came in so rapidly over the years in question that his auditors were unable to keep pace with it.

JAYNE DIVORCE ACTION BECOMES A STOCK SHOW

The tangled Jayne divorce action was snarled again yesterday—this time over the couple's joint ownership of horses, cows, and pigs. Mrs. Mildred Jayne of 7400 Langley avenue went before Judge Philip J. Finnegan to ask that her estranged husband, Frank, of Woodstock, be ordered to pay temporary support pending the hearing of her divorce action.

Attorney Norman Becker, representing her, charged that some of the live stock had been sold at ridiculously low prices.

"There was Bessie, for example," said Mr. Becker. "Bessie was as fine a cow as ever was, and she was sold for $50!"

Attorney Catherine Carpenter, for Mr. Jayne, countered by saying that Mrs. Jayne had been spending the money her husband paid her in handbooks. Canceled checks were offered in proof. Mr. Becker said the checks were cashed by bookies because their locations were convenient. Judge Finnegan passed the case on to Master in Chancery Daniel A. Covelli, ordering him to report May 10 on Jayne's ability to pay.

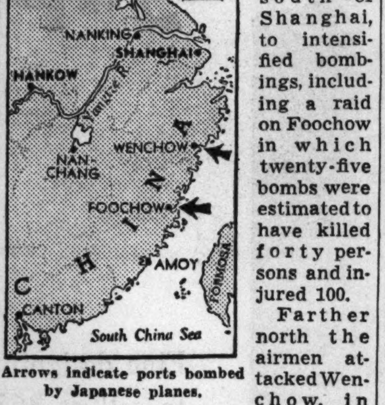
JAPANESE BOMB PORTS SOUTH OF SHANGHAI; 40 KILLED, 100 INJURED



Arrows indicate ports bombed by Japanese planes.

SHANGHAI, April 26.—(AP)—Japanese aircraft today subjected the China coast, south of Shanghai, to intensified bombings, including a raid on Foochow in which twenty-five bombs were estimated to have killed forty persons and injured 100.

Farther north the airmen attacked Wenchow, in southeastern Chekiang province, a gateway for Chinese foreign trade which the Japanese for some reason had not attempted to blockade. Besides being bombarded from the air Chinese forts at the mouth of the Wu on which Wenchow is situated were shelled by Japanese warships. Commerce was cut off.

Following up the April 18 occupation of Kuling, a mountain resort just south of the Yangtze river port of Kiukiang, Japanese forces reported killing 900 Chinese and capturing 300 in occupation of the surrounding Lushan mountains.

INDICT 23 MEN IN CLEVELAND'S POLICY RACKET

Cleveland, O., April 26.—[Special.]—Twenty-three reputed key men in Cleveland's notorious Hill mob today were named in three indictments. They are charged with blackmail and extortion in connection with their taking over of the city's 5 million dollar a year numbers game racket from the Negro operators eight years ago. Six have been arrested.

The indictments, returned by the Cuyahoga county grand jury, climaxed a year's investigation by Cleveland's safety director, Eliot Ness, former Chicago federal agent, Ness, former Chicago federal agent.

Police attribute six unsolved murders and numerous shootings to the organization tactics of the former Lonardo bootleg mob that went into the numbers racket when the bootleg business faded.

Allegretti, who operated the numbers game for Capone in Chicago, arrived in Cleveland in 1931, left in 1934 to die of tuberculosis in Arizona.

2 WPA PROJECT WORKERS HURT IN DYNAMITE BLAST

Two WPA employés were injured by the accidental discharge of dynamite yesterday in the business section of the village of Thornton. The blast blew off part of John Pfeiffer's leg. Pfeiffer, who is 33 years old, lives at 2702 Chicago road, South Chicago Heights. Less seriously injured was John Greene, 27, colored, of 1546 Union avenue, Chicago Heights.

The men were doing some blasting when there was an explosion. Officials said they believed Pfeiffer accidentally struck a percussion cap with a drill, setting off some dynamite that had failed to explode in an earlier blast.

6,252 PHYSICIANS HANG OUT THEIR SHINGLES IN 1938

The number of physicians beginning practice in the United States last year was 6,252, the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical association discloses. The majority of the new physicians are recent graduates of medical schools. During the year 3,630 physicians died. The net increase, therefore, was 2,622.

There were 5,606 graduates of approved United States medical schools examined. Of these, 2.9 per cent failed. From schools outside the United States, principally in Europe, 1,166 graduates were examined, with failures totaling 38.6 per cent.

Two schools in Illinois each had 173 graduates examined. Graduates of Rush Medical college were examined in 34 states, while the 173 graduates of the University of Illinois College of Medicine were examined in sixteen states. Of the Rush graduates 2.3 failed. The University of Illinois had 0.6 per cent failures.

SEIZE FIVE MEN, GIRL AS MEMBERS OF ROBBER BAND

Five men and a girl, alleged members of a west side theft ring, were arrested yesterday by the Racine avenue police. Last night it was reported that several of the band had confessed stealing and stripping thirty automobiles and selling the parts in a store they conducted at Union avenue and Maxwell street.

The prisoners are Anthony Pariso, 21 years old, 528 North Oakley boulevard; Fred Bartel, 25, of 2209 Warren avenue; Anthony Dionedes, 30, of 1345 North Lemoyne street; Nicholas Lucesi, 23, of 516 North Oakley boulevard; Miss Lucille McMahon, 20, of 1822 Grand avenue, and David Ferrara, 34, of 2338 Grand avenue.

All the men except Ferrara, the police said, were in the auto-stripping plot. Ferrara is a grocer and is alleged to have purchased stolen foodstuffs from the others. He denied this.

PINT SIZE PLANE MOTORS ROAR IN MODEL EXHIBIT

Skilfully Designed Craft Delight Spectators.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

The mechanic stopped fumbling with the carburetor. He swung the propeller, and the airplane motor burst into a scream of power. The airplane shook and quivered as if impatient to be off in flight. This occurred yesterday afternoon in the exhibition hall of Hotel Sherman.

The airplane and the motor were miniatures. The mechanic, J. L. Clark, president of the Central Gas Modelplane society, was able to hold the perfect little model in his hands while he allowed the one-seventh horse power motor to race for a few seconds to the delight of a group of spectators.

Exhibits Valued at $12,000.

It was all a part of the society's third annual display of model airplanes and the tiny gasoline motors that fly these little replicas of full scale machines. More than sixty models, valued at $12,000, are on display in the hall. Most of them are so perfectly made that photographs of them appear to be those of their larger counterparts.

One of the prettiest of the models is that of a Fokker triplane, a type flown by the famous Richtofen squadron of the Imperial German army in 1917. This little machine, owned by built by James Kelly, 830 Lawrence avenue, a cabinet maker, has a wing span of 30 inches and weighs one and a quarter pounds. The motor is one-seventh horse power.

Another prize model is a scale reproduction of the Howard DGA-8—a plane built in Chicago by Bennie Howard, famous aircraft designer and transport pilot. The model has a wing span of 4 feet 8 inches and weighs 4½ pounds. Its single cylinder two-cycle motor develops one-fifth horse power. Alfred Szibay, 858 North Marshfield avenue, spent two years building this ship and worked from the original Howard plans.

Seaplane Draws Attention.

One of the most interesting machines in the show is the model seaplane designed, built, and entered by E. P. Lott, a pilot for United Air Lines between Chicago and New York. Lott's model, beautifully finished in cream and red, is a high winged monoplane with a span of 40 inches and weighing one and three-quarters pounds. The motor is one-seventh horse power.

The tiny floats for the ship were built like the floats used on large seaplanes. Instead of metal, however, their builder used Balsa wood. They are hollow and are covered with thin Balsa strips. Lott has flown this little plane off the water many times and it performs brilliantly in the air, according to Clark.

More than 20,000 persons are expected to see the models during the remaining two days of the show. The hall is open from noon until 11 p. m. Models in all phases of construction are on exhibition, and there is also a display of the tiny engines that weigh only a few ounces complete with spark plugs and gasoline tank.

CCC PLANS OPEN HOUSE TO MARK 6TH ANNIVERSARY

The sixth anniversary of the civilian conservation corps will be observed with an open house celebration at the Skokie lagoons project west of Winnetka on May 14. This was announced yesterday by Capt. Max Edelstein, commandant, and E J. Lundin, project manager. Capt. Government trucks under direction of the national park service will take visitors on a tour of inspection.

STATE CLOSES CASE IN KILLING OF U. OF I. YOUTH

Urbana, Ill., April 26.—[Special.]—The state rested this afternoon in the trial of Mrs. Margaret Strothers, Negress resort operator, charged with murder in the shooting of William Spurrier, University of Illinois sophomore, on Feb. 16.

The defense immediately moved for a directed verdict of acquittal, but the court overruled the motion.

Two minor witnesses then were put on the stand by the defense. Three or four more will be called tomorrow. Mrs. Strothers will be a witness for herself.

The jury probably will take the case late in the day.

Spurrier was killed when he and five other University of Illinois students went to Mrs. Strothers' hotel at 1 a. m. to get beer. Refused admittance, one threw a bottle through a window. Shots were fired from the hotel.

AIR PILOTS ASK CITY TO EXTEND DAYLIGHT TIME

The Illinois Air Pilots' association yesterday asked the city council to extend the period of daylight saving time at least a month beyond Sept. 29. Most of the student flyers work during the day. They now have only a few hours in the evening when it is light enough for safe flying. Extending the period in which Chicago's clocks are set ahead would give them many more hours of valuable daylight, the association's letter stated. The matter was referred to the judiciary committee for a hearing. Chicage makes its twenty-first annual shift to daylight time at 2 a. m. Sunday.

So they bought a corner newsstand. They kept it until a year ago last December, when they sold it and bought another. They still operate this one, which is at Wells and Eugenie streets. They live near by at 1615 North Wells street.

The Sudmans work from 5:30 in the morning until 8 at night, with the exception of Sundays. On that day, Fannie says, a little apologetically, they work only from 6 a. m. to 2 p. m. They sell about two hundred papers and a few magazines daily, making a profit of from fifteen to nineteen dollars a week. Never twenty. Out of this they buy food and clothing and pay eighteen dollars a month rent for their home.

Take Turns Running Stand.

Fannie is 41 years old and Harry is 54. They take turns running the stand, each working three hours at a stretch. The time is so arranged that she can get home at noon to prepare lunch for their two children, Seymour, 10, and Anna, 9. In the winter, when it's cold, Fannie says they "hide in a hallway" and wait for customers to stop by the stand.

Fannie is proud of her children. The boy is in the upper fifth grade and the girl is half a grade behind him. Anna skipped two half grades, Fannie says. Seymour didn't, although he's a "smart boy."

Both Fannie and Harry were born in Russia and came to this country when they were young. Both are citizens. Fannie says she's worked hard since she was 10.

Take Nothing from Government.

"We never take from the government a penny," she adds. "Even if I could make as much by going on relief and not having to work I wouldn't do it. Relief is not good, though if people are starving they have to give to them. I don't know much about politics. I want to make my living, that's all."

Harry says: "I like to earn what I spend."

Fannie talks of people she's heard of who have a hard time getting along. Her head, wrapped in a stocking cap, sways from side to side and she makes little clucking noises of distress. She stops in a moment and smiles.

"It's worse in Europe," she says.

BOMBERS ARE HIGHLY OVERRATED IN OPINION OF GROVER LOENING

West Palm Beach, Fla., April 26.—(AP)—Grover Loening, airplane manufacturer and designer, today called the bombing plane a highly overrated implement of warfare that will play only a minor part in any future conflict.

"A bombing plane never took anything," he told a civic club. "Its bombs have little effect other than to terrorize civilians, and any nation that allows itself to be terrorized by an air raid is a nation of sissies."

Loening declared the Spanish civil war had proved the ineffectiveness of bombing fleets, which were more or less ignored after the first raid scares.

The real war worth of the airplane will be in delivering foot soldiers, he said, pointing to Germany's use of transport planes to get troops into Austria and Italy's similar tactics in seizing Albania.

MOVING ORDERS SLUMP; PREDICT A QUIET MAY 1

Moving day, the annual spring bugbear of householders, probably will not produce as much activity May 1 as is usual. This, at least, is the conclusion drawn from two of the customary indices—the movers and real estate agents.

Figures from only one other agency, the Illinois Bell Telephone company, indicate an increase in the spring apartment switch. Up to yesterday the utility had received 13,573 orders to move phones on May 1. This is an increase of 12.6 per cent over the same period in 1938.

Daniel Healy, secretary of the Movers' Association of Chicago, which comprises 400 units, predicts a slower moving day. Although moving rates are the same, Healy said, there are considerably fewer orders on file.

The fact that rents are remaining at the same level as last year is tending to make householders satisfied with present dwellings, according to Frederick P. Kirschner, vice president of the Chicago Real Estate board. There have been a few reductions in rents at the larger flat buildings, he said, and a few increases in the smaller units.

WOODHULL WOMAN DIES AT 83.

Woodhull, Ill., April 26.—[Special.]—Mrs. Clara Huffman, 83 years old, died yesterday. She was born near here, but was taken by her parents by oxen and covered wagon to Kansas as a small child, and lived in the Indian country during the civil war period. Later she returned to Woodhull.

SERVICES TODAY FOR DR. MORGAN, PIONEER SURGEON

Emeritus Professor in N. U. Medical School.

Funeral services for Dr. William E. Morgan, pioneer Chicago surgeon, will be held at 2 p. m. today at 6110 Cottage Grove avenue. Dr. Morgan died early Tuesday at the age of 81.

Dr. W. E. Morgan.

Dr. Morgan occupied a unique place in Chicago medical history. He taught the first course in operative surgery in the middle west, numbering Dr. William Mayo among his students. He was a noted surgeon himself.

He was born in Madison, Wis., and was the first student to take a premedical course at the University of Wisconsin—from 1876 to 1879. He then attended the old Chicago Medical college, forerunner of Northwestern university medical school.

Intern at County Hospital.

Upon graduation, he became an intern at Cook County hospital. His roommate was the late Frank Billings, celebrated surgeon. In 1885 Dr Morgan joined the medical college staff, teaching anatomy as assistant to Dr. Christian Fenger, a pioneer surgeon.

In 1902 he became a full professor, teaching operative surgery. He had maintained offices on the south side since 1884 and was on the staff of Mercy hospital for many years.

N. U. Medical Counselor.

He was emeritus professor of operative and clinical surgery at Northwestern, occupying this post at Loyola medical school after Mercy hospital switched its alignment from Northwestern to Loyola. Since 1924 he had been a medical counselor, an honorary post, at Northwestern.

Although he retired from practice and teaching ten years ago, he still was widely known.

A son, Charles W., of 1610 Hyde Park boulevard, survives. Burial will be in Graceland cemetery.

NEW SIGNATURES ON CRAWFORD AV. PETITION FILED

New signatures on the petition seeking restoration of the name Crawford avenue to Pulaski road were turned over to the city council committee on streets and alleys yesterday. They will be held on file pending receipt of an opinion from Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes as to whether they legally can be added to the original petition filed last year.

State law requires the council to change the name of any street if the change is asked by owners of 60 per cent of the frontage of abutting property. But the city map department found that the total frontage represented by the original Crawford avenue petition was 9,727 feet short of the minimum. If the new signatures, representing an additional 10,739 feet, can be added the complete petition would meet the terms of the law.

A second petition seeking to have the name Crawford avenue given to Haussen court also is before the council. It was lacking in the required number of signatures. Additional signatures for it also are to be filed.

LOSES HIS CLAIM ON GIFTS MADE TO DEAD FIANCEE

Gifts made to a fiancée cannot be recovered, under the law, from her estate after death. This decision was handed down yesterday by the Illinois Appellate court and was concurred in by Judges Joseph Burke, Oscar Hebel, and Denis Sullivan.

Last fall Henry P. Urbanus, 3401 North Monticello avenue, brought suit to recover several articles of jewelry he had given Miss Loretta Burns, who died on June 1, 1935. Defendants were a brother and three sisters of Miss Burns. Urbanus contended that the gifts were made solely in contemplation of marriage. A jury in the Superior court awarded him $750.

In reversing the judgment of the Superior court, the Appellate court ruled there had been no breach of the marriage troth and that Urbanus was not entitled to reclaim the articles.

Mrs. Mary Whilden Dies at 89 in Big Rock Home

Mrs. Mary Whildin, one of Kane county's oldest native born residents, died yesterday in her farm home near Big Rock, twelve miles west of Aurora. She was 89 years old. Her husband, Edward C. Whildin, survives. The Whildins were married sixty-six years ago. Funeral services will be held in the home at 2 p. m. today with burial in Kaneville cemetery.

Slattery, former chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, was appointed by Gov. Henry Horner to succeed the late Senator J. Hamilton Lewis.

ANDREW G. KERN KILLED AS AUTO UPSETS IN OHIO

Andrew G. Kern, 55 years old, for the last twenty years associated with the petroleum industry in Chicago, was killed Tuesday when the car in which he was riding overturned near Vanwert, O. Mr. Kern, who lived at 4124 North Whipple street, was en route to Washington, D. C., with a brother, Edward P. Kern. He was born in Chicago and was formerly employed by the Standard Oil company. He is survived by two daughters, Claudia, an employé of THE TRIBUNE, and Bernice, and a son, Edward. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday in Our Lady of Mercy church, Troy street and Montrose avenue, with burial in St. Boniface cemetery.

Doctors Are All Right, but Nurse Comes in Handy, Too

Huntington, Ind., April 26.—(AP)—When Mrs. J. G. Webb was made ill by fumes from a water heater, her husband phoned his son and daughter-in-law, who live nearby. They came and found the elder Webb ill, too. They telephoned Dr. J. B. Eviston. The doctor found both couples sick. He called a nurse. The nurse found Dr. Eviston ill, too. She opened the doors and windows. The doctor recovered, treated the others, and finally said all were out of danger.

Attorney Wins Suit, but Loses Coat and Gloves

Attorney Charles Lewis, 428 St. James court, argued a case yesterday in the small claims court of Judge Victor Kula in the city hall. He won, but his pleasure in the victory was spoiled when he turned to pick up his topcoat and gloves, which he had left on a bench in the room. They had been stolen.

MOSCOW IMPRISONS SIX SPECULATORS IN PHONOGRAPH RECORDS

MOSCOW, April 26.—(AP)—Six speculators in phonograph records were convicted in the Moscow city court today and sentenced to prison terms ranging from five to eight years.

Testimony showed that they had bought the best records before the public had a chance to purchase and then resold the discs at a big profit.

An alleged spy and wrecker, who it was charged used "poison pen" methods to stir up discontent against the soviet régime, was convicted in Baku and sentenced to death. He was Hussein Zade Mahmed, charged with having been recruited by a foreign intelligence service. He wrote hundreds of letters falsely denouncing honest workers with the result that many innocent persons were expelled from the communist party.

Betty Armour Selects June 3 as Wedding Day

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE first Saturday in June has been selected by Miss Betty Armour as the date for her marriage to Gerald Vanderbilt Hollins Jr. It will be a small home wedding on June 3, in the Lake Forest residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Armour, with perhaps a few more friends invited to the reception.

The youthful bride's attendants all are childhood friends, except young Mrs. Philip D. Armour, who was married to Betty Armour's cousin last November. Mrs. Armour was Miss Julia Henry of Philadelphia. She is to be a bridesmaid and so are Miss Mary Gardner, Miss Mary Adams, Miss Betty Keith, Mrs. Carleton Ellis Jr. [Anne Winston], and Miss Elizabeth Cushing of New York. Miss Kay Goodman will be Miss Armour's maid of honor.

It will be good news to Miss Armour's friends to learn that Mr. Hollins is moving back to Chicago after his marriage. His home originally was in New York, but he came to Chicago to engage in the shipping business after finishing at Harvard in 1936. Last winter, shortly before his engagement to Miss Armour was announced, he was transferred to Cleveland. His list of wedding attendants is not complete yet.

The wedding is to be an afternoon one, at 4 o'clock. The Lake Forest Garden club's annual flower show is to be held that day and the day following, June 3 and 4.

Mrs. Bruce MacLeish Heads Woman's A. C.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Athletic club Mrs. Bruce MacLeish was elected president for the coming year. Other officers are Mrs. Mark W. Trude, Mrs. Philip Miller, and Mrs. Charles Ward Seabury, vice presidents; Mrs. George L. Cragg and Mrs. Stanley Zaring, recording and corresponding secretaries, respectively, and Mrs. Alexander H. Revell Jr., treasurer.

Mrs. William Nelson Pelouze is the new bridge chairman, so she is in charge of the World Bridge Olympic game that will be played at the club tonight.

This international event will be staged simultaneously all over the bridge-playing world, starting at 8:01 o'clock. Sixteen prearranged hands will be played in competition with players all over the world. In addition, four extra hands will be dealt by President Whalen of the New York World's Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Pelouze will play with

The "Baby" Hair Cut Is Both Popular and Practical

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

This is the "baby" hair cut, one of the most popular—and practical—coiffures developed since hair climbed off the shoulder blades. Expert shaping and a soft permanent are its fundamentals, with the hair cut to a length of three or four inches over the entire head. It can be worn, as shown here, in soft ringlets all over the head but can be adapted to other fashions as well. Not only the baby-faced can wear this coiffure; it is a trim, flattering fashion for the mature woman whose face needs a soft frame. And it's a practical "natural" for the curly haired. The Housewife

Have you seen the handsome new electric toasters? The bread goes in at the end, instead of the top, and it comes out the other end toasted to just the right degree. And the process is automatic, of course, and as accurate as clockwork.

The secret of this toaster is a movable arm inside that rocks the bread up and down between the heating units. This prevents scorching and assures even toasting. An item like this would make an excellent wedding present. It is fairly expensive.

Girls! Improve Your Speech if You'd Succeed

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

We petition you, young women, to take this matter of speech improvement seriously. Take it very, very seriously! Otherwise one of these days you will wonder why you are discriminated against in social life and certainly in career development.

We have been talking speech improvement for a long time with a feeling, however, that our audience listens with a shrug: "That's not for me!" Now, we want to emphasize with all the force at our command that you must take up speech improvement, for it has come to mean everything in your favor or disfavor, as the case may be.

Maybe no one has corrected you. Maybe you're not conscious of harsh, nasal tones, slurred words, general bad delivery of remarks. Better ask some one and be willing to take it on the chin when you're told what's wrong. One thing, you will find speech improvement study a delightful experience, as well as an improving one.

Even if it were a difficult pursuit, we'd still urge you young women to brush up in this field. Two girls, to our knowledge, were recently let out of a large organization because their voices and their method of expression got on the nerves of the controling officers. Then, we're told often of job applicants getting no further than filling out application blanks because of serious speech shortcomings.

We have before us at this moment of writing a brochure on speech improvement for the use of classroom teachers. In this pamphlet one reads that a pleasant, audible voice is impossible if there is undue strain on the vocal mechanism. The chief strain is apt to be in the region of the larynx and the lower jaw. If the voice is harsh or nasal, the following relaxation exercise will be found helpful:

Drop your head forward on the chest. Let it hang until it seems to pull the body down with its own weight. Dangle the arms loosely. Without bending your knees, allow your head to descend toward the floor. When your relaxed fingers touch the floor without the slightest stretching, resume an upright position. Repeat this relaxation several times. Be sure you are slumping, not stretching to the floor.

Gingham Given Glamor Role in Summer Styles

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The move to glorify gingham is an eye appealing success. The coolest looking footgear ever designed comes in navy and white or black and white checked gingham cotton.

Use them with a matching bag to pick up plain colored linen, cotton or airy net street outfits and as the perfect foils for dull black or navy blue linen street dresses.

Whopping big bags come in gingham checks, in practically all colors, the checks being the half inch size . . . big, swanky handles in contrast color of scarlet, shiny black or white and a few greens make them splendid finds with extremely modest price marks.

Smaller, more precise checked gingham is used for wrapped turbans, for swanky wide belts, gloves, and naïve flowers to pull through the buttonhole of your jacket or blouse lapel.

Unusual color combinations can be found in quarter-inch checks in aqua and navy, fuchsia and dark green, and so on. Pouch bags, belts, gloves, flowers, and prim straight sailors with streamers at the back all boast the fresh charm of cool, kindergarten gingham.

Youth May Call Elders' Side of Story Nagging

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am 20 and my sweetheart is 22. We have known each other for five years, but it is only for the last six months that we have started going out together steadily. And I have a problem which I am going to put up to you.

"My boy friend's mother objects to his going around with me because she wants him to continue his school career. She thinks that I will stand in his way. It isn't that she dislikes me personally, but that she feels that if he goes out with one girl only, it will take his mind off his school work.

"The fact is that I am just as anxious for him to continue his studies, which will take three more years to complete. He goes to college at night and works by day. Since he has been going out with me he has become even more ambitious and more anxious to make good because of me. His marks have gone up and he studies twice as hard. But his mother is continually nagging him and offers his brother as an example. The older brother does not have a steady girl.

"To sum things up, she is making life miserable for the both of us. My problem is 'Should I give up my boy friend, although we are madly in love, or should I continue to stand her nagging for three long years, or is there some other way we might quell her unfounded anger. My boy friend has told her that I would be the last to stand in his way, but she does not believe him because she continues nagging and whenever she can, she keeps him from coming to see me.

"DOT."

Dot, you haven't a problem outside of a common to your age ailment—namely, impatient youth. It's your impatience that reads nagging into the boy's mother's behavior. She wants that boy of hers to succeed. She's probably making sacrifices to see him through school, from which you'll get the benefit, understand, not she, if you marry the boy.

Try to see her side, Dot. Ask her what she thinks is fair to her, to you and to the boy? You may find her a perfect dear when you approach her without that chip of impatient youth on your shoulder.

Passenger.

A stewardess on one of the airlines got to work late at the Chicago airport and didn't have time to check the passengers before the plane took off. About 200 miles out one of the passengers looked up wonderingly and commented: "They sure give you a ride for a dollar, don't they?"

Picturesque Visitor.

Lucius Beebe, New York columnist and originator of the phrase "café society," was eating luncheon at the Pump room yesterday, dressed soberly in brown, but living up to his reputation to some extent by drinking champagne with his lunch. He is on his way to the coast and stayed over long enough to see Miss Gertrude Lawrence in Skylark last night.

* * *

No information was available as to the amount and contents of his luggage, though once when Mr. Beebe went to Hollywood for a ten day stay he took nine suits and seventy-two shirts. Nor as far as is known did he wear the diamond gardenia he once wore to one of Noel Coward's openings, which glittered distinctly in the darkness, offering serious competition to Mr. Coward behind the footlights.

Midnight Episode.

Musician Crown Prince.

Guests at the banquet in honor of the Danish crown prince and crown princess at the Stevens noticed that when the piece Dr. Marinus Paulsen composed in honor of the occasion was played Crown Prince Frederik followed it note by note from the copy Paulsen had given him.

The crown prince is a composer himself, a pianist, and a music lover. He told Rudolph Reuter, after the Chicago pianist had played at the Baumann reception, that he occasionally conducts acts from Wagnerian operas, but not in public. He has conducted at rehearsals of opera in Denmark, which are attended by invitation. Also, he leads the orchestra that plays in his castle at Amalienborg, and he leads the military band on occasion.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Notes from an Airplane.

Flight No. 6, Eastbound, April 26.—That must be Omaha dead ahead. . . . You can see the city every time the plane swings a bit. . . . As the Irishman said who ate his first oyster, "'Tis indeed a wonderful world in which we live." . . . Last night, at Warner's Beverly theater, your reporter covered the première of "Juarez." . . . Eight hours later and 1,750 miles away, he is about to drop out of the clouds into Omaha for the première of "Union Pacific." . . . 'Tis indeed a wonderful world and what will they think of next?

Whether or not it's ethical to go to a "Union Pacific" première via airplane is something else again. . . . It is something like going to the Indianapolis auto races on a horse.

During the night the pilot told me that we'd passed over the train carrying the Paramount stars and starlets who will give Omaha a closeup view of Hollywood. . . . It's smart showmanship to preview big pictures in cities that rarely get a glimpse of the glamor girls and boys. . . . The movies have rediscovered the "road" which once yielded millions of dollars to circuses, vaudeville, and the legit theater. . . . The movies finally are doing what P. T. Barnum would have done.

From Omaha it will be only a short jump to Chicago and then on to New York for the opening of the world's fair, and then back to the coast. . . . Glad the boss okayed the trip to New York. . . . I had an awful yen to see the fair light up. . . . Maybe I'd better get some wires ready. . . . We're circling now to make a pass at the Omaha airport, and I can send the telegrams from there.

The River Bend Feud

By William MacLeod Raine

(Copyright: 1939: By William MacLeod Raine.)

SYNOPSIS.

Jeff Hunter, an American mining engineer, awaits execution in a Mexican jail by order of Pancho Banderas, rebel leader. A peon friend helps him escape to Texas. Jeff stops at a cabin where Joan Raleigh, lost in the vastness of her feudal ranch, has taken refuge. She treats him haughtily but offers him food. Jeff tells her of his escape from Mexico. He helps her find her way home. Joan's brother, Phil, suspects Jeff of being a spy for the ranch's enemies. When they learn Jeff went to college with their Cousin Raeburn, however, they invite him to be their guest. Word comes that Banderas is in hiding after being routed from Mexico. Jeff goes with Joan and her brother Bill to Trail End.

INSTALMENT X.

THE FAMILY SKELETON.

At the courthouse Bill parked the car. "Watch your step if you are going uptown," he told his sister seriously. "The less you say to any of these birds here the better it is. They're still sore as a boil about Hauch shooting Sutter. The fellow got what was coming to him, but you can't tell them that. Don't start anything. If you hear any insulting remarks, why, just don't hear them. Expect I'll be ready in half an hour."

"Half an hour of Trail End is quite enough for me," Joan said.

Bill disappeared into the office of the county commissioners and the other two strolled down to the drug store where fiction was kept in stock.

A paved road had brought them as far as the line fence, but the main street of the town was a dusty thoroughfare full of chuck holes. Many years ago it had been surfaced, but there was hardly a yard that had not long since been worn down to the original clay. The buildings had the same down at the heel air of neglect. Most of them were built of adobe and were showing evidence of crumbling. Those made of wood had not been painted in a decade.

The few people they met stared at Joan curiously, but she gave no sign of being aware of their existence. Jeff could understand why the Raleighs were not popular. It was not only that they were sons and daughters of privilege. They met the hostile jealousy of their neighbors with an indifference bordering on insolence.

There was only one customer in the drug store. He was working a slot machine and had his back to them. Joan named the book she wanted but the owner of the store did not have it. She stopped a moment to look over the magazines.

The man at the slot machine turned at the sound of the girl's voice and looked at her. He was slender, not yet 40, and his thick black hair was sprinkled with gray. A set of fine white teeth flashed in an ironic smile.

"Trail End isn't often honored with your presence, Miss Raleigh," he said, and swept from his head in an elaborate bow an expensive broad rimmed white Stetson hat.

She paid not the least attention to what the man said. He might have been in the jungle ten miles away for all the recognition given him.

The man continued to speak to her, ignoring brazenly her silence. "You'll be glad to know that Bob Sutter, the man your foreman, Hauck, tried to murder, is getting along very nicely. Or will you?"

Joan said to Jeff: "Amazing how many of the cheap western and detective magazines there are now. I shouldn't think there would be readers enough for them."

"They have some good stuff in them, too," he answered.

"Nothing like good literature," the man at the slot machine mocked. "Have you a copy of 'God's Anointed,' Brown? Or 'Princess of the Blood Royal'? I'd like to read up on by betters. Find out how they tick, if I can."

Jeff did not like the man's looks. He was handsome, in an obvious fashion, but there was something sinister about his smile. His narrow eyes suggested both trickiness and cruelty. Probably he was intelligent, but he might easily be too clever. His raffish impudence marked him for a bounder.

Very steadily Jeff looked at the fellow. When he spoke it was to the young woman. "If you are ready, Miss Raleigh."

As they walked out of the store they heard a sudden violent oath from the man at the slot machine. "You'd think they were God Almighty," he cried. "They act as if they were doing us a favor by shooting us, and then they come to town in their you-be-damned way and look through us as if we didn't exist. Even the women come strutting their fancy men."

Jeff continued to carry on his conversation with Joan, but he knew she had heard the last sentence as well as he.

"You see the vermin with which we have to deal," she said, a heightened color in her cheeks.

"What is the fellow's name?" asked Hunter. "Who is he?"

"Name of Mallow—Dave Mallow. He calls himself a real estate agent. Years ago he tried to play up to us, but Phil wouldn't have anything to do with him. They had a run-in later and I think Phil had to use a whip on him. So he set himself up as a leader of the opposition. He is a go-between—takes his orders from a man above and sees the riff-raff executes them if he can."

"And the man above?" Jeff asked casually.

Joan hesitated. Glancing at her face he saw his question had put a finger on a raw spot. "Sorry, don't answer. I'll withdraw that," he added.

She flung out a hand in her characteristic gesture of impatience. "It's the family skeleton, but it doesn't matter. Everybody knows it. And anyhow the villain is no blood relative of ours."

"If you'd rather not talk about it," Jeff suggested.

"O, I don't care," she answered. Yet there was a tenseness in her voice as she talked. "My aunt married a scoundrel, one of these spidery devils who lie in wait for women with money. He is traveled, well educated, and a smooth talker. One of the things he forgot to tell her about his romantic past was that he had spent a term in the penitentiary at Joliet. My aunt is dead now, but she lived long enough to find him out. He is a complete cur. Her spirit was crushed by his bullying, though when he did it in public it was in the suavest, most polite way. She left him and filed a petition for divorce.

"Without making an appointment he called on her at her New York apartment a few days before the hearing was to be held. Four days later she died. An autopsy showed she had been poisoned. No proof was ever found that he killed her, but we are convinced he managed to leave the poison pill in a bottle of veronal. She had made a will giving him only what she was forced to leave him by the law, but he produced a later one we feel sure is a forgery. That case is pending. His name is Butler Lane. He lives now at San Antonio. He is the head and front of all this recent agitation stirred up against us. Of course, there is nothing they and he can do but annoy us. We're entrenched within our rights."

Jeff was not so sure of that. History is full of instances where pride such as hers had been tumbled. He felt there were two sides to this feud. This man Lane might be all she said he was but he would not have been able to stir settlers to unlawful action unless they felt they had a grievance not endurable. To take one instance, in modern America a privileged group had no right to fence up hundreds of miles and refuse to permit a public road to run through the place. To get her reaction to criticism he casually suggested this. The girl's response was immediate and decided. It was their property and they were entitled to do as they pleased. She did not argue this. She merely stated a fact with the finality of a Supreme court decision.

Hunter chuckled. He had been put in the doghouse.

On the courthouse steps Joan said, stiffly, "I'm going in to join Bill."

Hunter smiled placidly. He was not in the least disturbed at her annoyance. "Think I'll drift down the street and buy some tobacco," he replied. "Be back at the car in a few minutes."

She turned and walked swiftly down the corridor. Jeff liked the rhythm of her movements. They had the balanced coördination of perfect health. As he strolled along the broken pavement he kept the girl in his mind. She had, he thought, good entertainment value. An interesting girl, full of lights and shades that offered variety, one better to watch than to marry. Maybe she would make a good wife for a nice yes-man, willing to fetch and carry for her, one who would always keep in mind that he had married money. But not for one who stood on his own feet.

He passed a grocery, a barber shop, an ice cream parlor, and a hardware store. Dave Mallow came up the street and turned in at a pool room. Jeff decided to replenish his tobacco there. It was possible Mallow might start to ride him. If he took it humbly enough the realtor might become insulting enough to justify his knocking him down. That would be a pleasure.

Dawdling Is Passing Phase of Childhood

Dawdling. Distracting, desperate, despairing, demoralizing dawdling!

Mothers galore could, I'm sure, add to the adjectives I've set down to accompany that affliction they suffer when their children are somewhere between 7 and 12—and dawdle.

Slowness. I know that as this word goes into print most mothers will want to call across space, "Put it in capitals, please!" Of all the difficult, distracting behavior of the in-betweens, this matter of slowness is most irritating.

My advice is: Keep your sweet disposition all through it, because you'll have to stand some of it, and why let it spoil your fatal beauty? Seriously, most children just have to be slow for a spell, and also, seriously, they do outgrow it, if that's any comfort. The best you can do is to use some incentives that appeal to them, try a few tricky devices, and a lot of praise.

Heres' another distracting trait: Objections to doing chores in the house or out, and to helping generally.

Advice: Make a game of helping; be free in bestowing praise for help; use a "let's work together" attitude; find some aim or incentive so that the boy or girl is interested in the reason or need for doing the work,

Thursday, April 27.

Early ideas may look like winners but will fade when exposed to a little sunlight of calm reasoning, so don't lean on them heavily; wait. Balance of day good for polishing up old starts. Rest of week sees increasing frictions; avoid 'em.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead from this to next birthday brings temporary problems concerning distance, elders, your past; take the inner way out, seek happiness, liberty, from within. Emotional year. Danger: May 29-July 3; Sept. 27-Oct. 14; Feb. 13-March 2, 1940.

Chinese Troupe Gives Program of Ancient Arts

BY CECIL SMITH.

In Orchestra hall last evening the Chinese Cultural Theater group presented "An Evening of Cathay," a mixed program of ancient Chinese dancing, music and drama. The program was sponsored coöperatively by the Adult Education council, the American Friends of China, and the Chicago Church Committee for China Relief.

The members of the group are cultured and aristocratic Chinese artists, brought together for a good will tour of the United States by Averil Tong, wife of the counsellor of the Kwangtung provincial government. Unfortunately Mrs. Tong herself was unable to appear last night.

The other members of the little company, however, gave many charming vistas of the sensitive, subtly inflected, highly formalized art of old China. Virginia Chang, a beautiful young actress from Shanghai, and Ung-Ping Kwan, an important theatrical star of Peiping, mimed together the tale of a young queen who became drunk after the emperor cast her aside for another favorite.

Six musicians of a virtuoso order demonstrated on stringed instruments and flute the typical music of China, with its restricted five note scale and its absence of harmony. James Zee-Min Lee, speaking exceptionally good English, served as narrator and expositor.

Closing a six months' season of weekly children's performances, the Jack and Jill players will present "Robinson Crusoe" in the Civic theater Saturday morning at 10:45. Marie Agnes Foley both dramatized and directed the play.

According to advice from the local offices of the Federal Theater project, Harry Minturn has not resigned as Illinois state director of the project, as reported last week.

Crowd Keeps Spencer Tracy on Boat Train at London

LONDON, April 26.—(AP)—A boat train with Spencer Tracy, American motion picture actor, aboard pulled into Waterloo station tonight and then immediately backed out. Railroad officials explained that Tracy "probably would have been crushed to death" by thousands of fans who packed the station. Tracy and his wife, who arrived at Southampton aboard the liner Queen Mary for their first trip to Europe, got off the train comfortably at another station.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis DeWitt tonight. The Pelouzes' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce P. Adams, will play with the Durmont McGraws at the same club. About fifty will dine at the club and then play in the tournament.

Other Groups in City to Play in Olympic.

Those who play bridge on Thursday night in the Polo room of the Ambassador East hotel under the direction of Mrs. Vincent Healy will take part in the Olympic tonight, of course. These weekly gatherings of bridge enthusiasts are an outgrowth of the defunct Crockford's, which flourished for a while in the Blackstone hotel.

Playing tonight will be the Huntington B. Henrys, Mrs. Clive Runnells, Miss Harriet McLaughlin, the Donald Douglases, the Morrison Wauds, the Charles Glores, Mrs. de Koven Phelps, the Joseph Valentines, Mrs. Frank Wilhelm, Mrs. Esther Greis, Mrs. Hampden Winston, Mrs. Henry McIntyre, and Count Bolognesi.

Charles B. Pike, who retired from the presidency of the Racquet club before his term expired, was elected to the board of directors at the recent annual meeting. A. Watson Armour III. is the new president.

Mrs. Walter Dillingham to Leave Tomorrow.

Mrs. Walter F. Dillingham of Honolulu will leave for the east tomorrow after a brief visit with Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed. Mrs. Chauncey McCormick will give a small dinner for Mrs. Dillingham tonight. Mrs. Dillingham has taken a house in Cambridge, Mass., for May and June.

Miss Frieda Foltz, whose broken ankle has improved so much that she is hobbling about on a cane, will give a cocktail party today from 5:30 until 7 o'clock at her Schiller street home. The occasion is to give Mrs. Inez Stark a chance to tell something about the benefit auction for the Chicago Artists' union.

The auction will be on May 11 at the Lake Shore Athletic club.

"'The Importance of Living,' or the West Through Chinese Eyes," is the subject that Dr. Horace J. Bridges will discuss tonight in a lecture at the Cradle.

The infant daughter born last Sunday at the Burrows hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Plummer has been named Stephanie Constance for her father and his aunt, the late Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick. The infant is a grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Plummer of England.

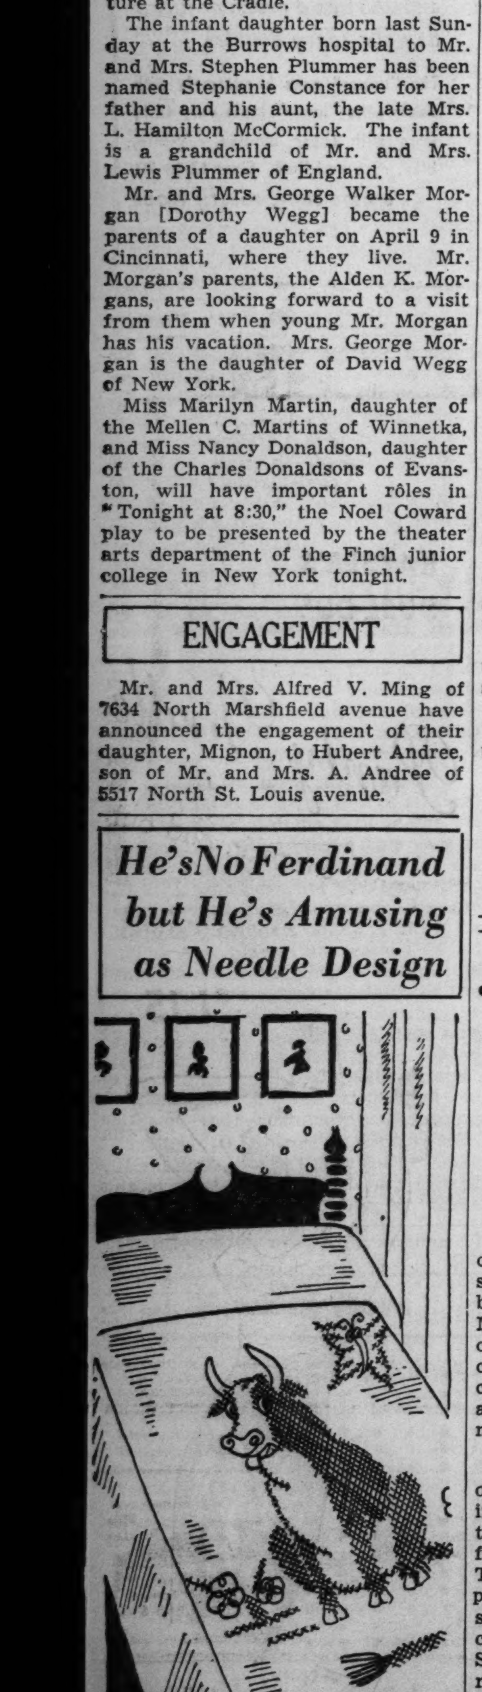
Mr. and Mrs. George Walker Morgan [Dorothy Wegg] became the parents of a daughter on April 9 in Cincinnati, where they live. Mr. Morgan's parents, the Alden K. Morgans, are looking forward to a visit from them when young Mr. Morgan has his vacation. Mrs. George Morgan is the daughter of David Wegg of New York.

Miss Marilyn Martin, daughter of the Mellen C. Martins of Winnetka, and Miss Nancy Donaldson, daughter of the Charles Donaldsons of Evanston, will have important rôles in "Tonight at 8:30," the Noel Coward play to be presented by the theater arts department of the Finch junior college in New York tonight.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred V. Ming of 7634 North Marshfield avenue have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mignon, to Hubert Andree, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Andree of 5517 North St. Louis avenue.

He's No Ferdinand but He's Amusing as Needle Design



BY NANCY CABOT.

His name is not Ferdinand, and he does not represent a brand of tobacco. He is merely one of the lighter hearted members of the bovine tribe. This amusing cross-stitch design serves admirably as a wall hanging, for a pillow, or for a clever color spot on a studio bed in a den. There is a miniature of this same fellow included on the large transfer pattern.

For the hot iron transfer pattern, No. X-577, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

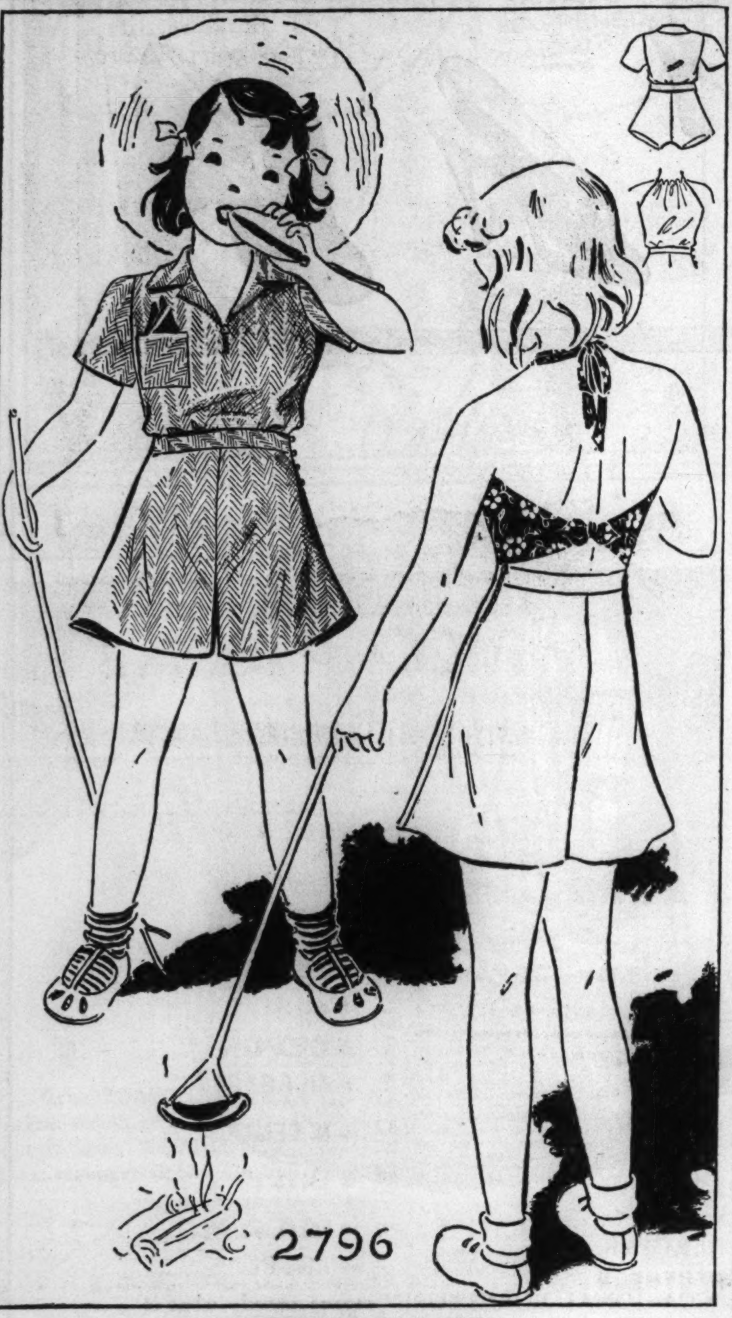
Play Clothes Allow Freedom



CHILDREN'S PLAY SUIT.

Freedom is the essence of children's play, and their clothes plan an important part in this freedom. The genius who designed the play suit for children did the youngsters and their mothers a great service. These suits afford comfort for the children and cut down on laundry and wear and tear, the problems of the mothers who must keep up the wardrobes.

Presented today is a new version of the play suit. At the left, a model with wide shorts and a tuck-in blouse that has an opened rever collar line and a patch pocket. You may use any type of inexpensive cotton for this two piece outfit.

At the right is a version for sun-seekers. It has a halter top to go with the trousers. You might combine printed top with a harmonizing plain shade for the trousers, or vice versa.

Style No. 2796 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, 12, and 14. Size 8 requires ⅞ yard of 35 inch material for the shorts; 1 yard of 39 inch material for the blouse; and ½ yard of 35 inch fabric for the halter.

Clotilde patterns are 10 cents each. Address orders to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Joint Service Starts Reunion of Methodism

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kansas City, Mo., April 26.—[Special.]—Century old schisms over slavery and autocracy of bishops began to be healed in American Methodism here today. Three principal American branches of that church opened a joint unification conference which is expected to form a single Methodist church with 8 million members.

Despite threats in the deep south of a civil injunction against the uniting conference, the 960 representatives of the three churches knelt before the altar of the Grace and Holy Trinity Episcopal cathedral for corporate communion. The service was sung by white and maroon robed choristers of Boston University School of Theology. Celebrants representing each of the unifying churches officiated.

The election of the Rev. Dr. Lud H. Estes, Memphis, Tenn., as secretary of the uniting conference was pointed out by delegates as the first voting weather vane. Dr. Estes, who is secretary of the general conference of the southern church, received 553 votes against his northern opponent, Dr. Edgar R. Heckman, Tyrone, Pa., who was given 305 votes.

The vote was interpreted as showing that the southern and the Methodist Protestant delegates probably will stick together in voting on important questions.

One leading question on which the southern and Protestant groups are united is the use of tobacco by pastors. The northern church forbids the use of tobacco in any form. But pipes and cigars—even an occasional cigaret—are being used by southern and Protestant clerical delegates on the street and in hotel lobbies.

The proposed new "discipline," or rule and doctrine, book for the united church includes the prohibitive rule against tobacco for pastors. Delegates say that the rule may be let alone—but be disregarded by those who wish to do so.

Canape Making Is a Job for Two Amateur Cooks

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Two heads are better than one when it comes to make canapes. You may have your own ideas about pretty little creations and taste-teasing tidbits, but if you take another amateur artist to the kitchen with you you'll have more fun and produce more tempting party pleasers than you could alone. Furthermore, you can spend plenty of time on each small dainty if there is help. Sister, daughter, cousin, mother, or even husband may prove an inspiring partner in this game.

To begin with there must be plenty of bread, light and dark—perhaps including fruit or nut bread, and several very sharp knives. You'll want cookie cutters of various shapes, soft butter, and a variety of spreads and garnishes.

Some of the canape bread may be fried on one or both sides in butter, or dropped into deep hot fat to brown to golden color. Some may be toasted on one side only, without the use of butter. The rest of the bread may be left in its soft, natural state. Contrast in texture always is important in a tray of canapes.

Breads aren't the only bases for canapes, of course. There are hundreds of commercially prepared canape bases and crackers, a few of which may be selected for sweet variety's sake. Potato chips, pastry rounds, and puffed crackers also are good canape beginnings. Here's how to make puffy cracker bases.

PUFFED CRACKERS.

Soak small soda crackers in ice water for 8 minutes. Drain on paper towels. Remove to a greased cookie sheet with a flexible spatula. Brush over with melted butter and bake in a very hot oven, 450 degrees, for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate, 350 degrees, and allow puffs to dry out for about 20 minutes. They should be delicately browned and crisp.

Seasonings such as paprika and curry powder may be added to the butter which is brushed over the crackers before they are browned. A spicy canape base is not inappropriate, though usually the spiciness is reserved for the canape spread or garnish.

Given a half dozen or more different canape bases and a variety of hapes—rounds, half moons, diamonds, stars, hearts, triangles, and strips—the canape maker proceeds to spreads.

And here's where ingenuity has its fling. Seasoned butter, sardine paste, cheese spreads, deviled meat pastes, olives, pickles, capers, chili sauce, horseradish, nuts, pimiento, caviar, green pepper, and such tasties cover the canape bases in neat patterns, imaginative designs. Sharp flavors, blended by mixing, tasting, then adding a speck of this, a dash of that, make the best canapes. Only a little less important than flavor is attractive appearance of the canape. Garnishing may be a simple or complex matter, but each tiny tidbit must look so inviting that guests will have to hesitate before choosing among them.

A mimeographed booklet, "Taste-Teasing Appetizers," goes into this matter of canape making more thoroughly than I've done here. In the booklet also are recipes for other kinds of appetizers, hors d'oeuvres, and cocktails. For a five cent stamp, sent to me in care of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, the booklet is yours.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

Many of the penalty doubles that one hears in expert circles are based on the doubler's skepticism about the opponents' bidding rather than on intrinsic values in his own hand. This highly speculative type of doubling is popularly referred to as "doubling by ear."

When the ear is keen enough and the knowledge of the opponents' bidding habits accurate enough, excellent results may follow such doubles, but woe betide them when they go wrong! Then overtricks in abundance are apt to be the harvest. In today's hand West fancied himself as an "ear doubler," but, judging from the results, I'm inclined to think he was deaf as a door post.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	Pass	1 spade!	Pass
2 clubs!	Pass	3 no trump	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

Just in case many readers, after perusing the above bidding, think the compositors and proofreaders have gone mad, I hasten to say that this actually was the bidding as it took place at one table of a recent duplicate. Obviously North-South were on a "psychic" spree. South's first response was, of course, intended as a two edged weapon. He wanted to keep the opponents from mentioning their likely spade suit and also hoped to stop a spade lead if he, as he planned, were to play the final contract in no trump. This is no staunch defense of South's tactics. I am merely acting as reporter in this case. North, as may be seen, went really "fancy" on his second turn at the auction. Instead of raising his partner's spade bid he tried to stave off a club lead by mentioning the suit. Then, when South jumped to three no trump and West doubled, North must have sensed that his partner's spade bid had been phony and decided to gamble it out along the lines South had chosen.

Questionable as was the bidding of North-South, however, it is really West's double that must come in for derision. As West explained later, in a decidedly crestfallen tone, he had figured his own singleton diamond as portending a bad break in the suit, with probable stoppers in East's hand. Since he himself could hold off the spade and club suits [after a fashion!] and as he had heart strength, he had decided to make a gambling double. He was "very sorry about the whole thing, but so forth and so on." All this explaining, however, unfortunately took place after the grinning declarer had raked in twelve tricks. West had opened his fourth-best heart and declarer had jumped on East's jack with a suppressed whoop, after which he had snickered and said: "Hold your hat, boys, and get ready for an awful lot of discarding!" Whereupon he had led a low diamond toward dummy and, to West's unutterable horror, East had not only failed to follow suit but, when asked "No diamonds, partner?" had stoutly maintained that he was not revoking. Declarer threw his two remaining hearts on the ace and king of spades, and then actually could have taken all thirteen tricks, but [not unnaturally] decided to run the rest of his diamonds rather than risk the club finesse, and so ended up with the losing club queen in his hand. Ironically enough, it was East, the doubler's partner, who took the only trick that was taken by his side!

"Doubling by ear," or doubling simply because one has a hunch that the opponents are overboard, is by all odds the most delicate maneuver at the bridge table and, as such, requires judgment that amounts almost to a sixth sense. I recommend that all readers who cannot be sure that they possess that sense confine themselves to the more orthodox types of doubles in which they can count, or almost count, the setting tricks.

Infant Welfare Will Observe 25th Baby Week

The Infant Welfare society of Chicago will launch its 25th annual baby week Sunday, in conjunction with infant welfare organizations throughout the nation. The program will emphasize health education and the prevention of infant illness, particularly among the underprivileged.

Philip D. Armour, president, called attention yesterday to the work of the society, which operates eighteen stations in the poorer areas of the city. In 1938, he said, 14,719 infants, pre-school children, and expectant mothers received attention from the society's ninety-six doctors, nurses, and nutritionists. The cost of the work was $12 a year for each child cared for.

The 3,000 women who make up the woman's auxiliary of the Infant Welfare work steadily all during the year to raise money for the society and to make garments for the children. Occasionally they give parties as a means of raising funds, but only once during the year do they have a party that is strictly "for fun only." This is the annual spring luncheon just before Baby week.

The luncheon was given yesterday at the Arts club. Attending it were the presidents and publicity chairmen of the thirty-five centers.

WILSON'S Weekly MEMO by GEORGE RECTOR

Among the inevitable incidents of life, death and taxes may loom large, but to the housewife, the use of leftovers is equally inescapable. You might be surprised to learn that even the smartest of restaurants have to meet and conquer the same problem. Today therefore, I am giving you a menu, most of whose cast are staging a "return engagement" at the family dinner table.

POSITIVELY LAST APPEARANCE

Even the successful career of one of those incredibly toothsome Wilson's Certified Tender Made Hams must come to an end sometime and I know of no better way of its staging a last appearance than in golden brown croquettes, combined with cold lamb or chicken if you have them on hand. Here is a suggested menu:

Menu

POTATOES AU GRATIN
NEW PEAS
TOMATO ASPIC SALAD
MIXED FRUIT CUP
WAFERS

Ham Croquettes

Chop fine 1 cup of ham cut from the shank of a Certified Tender Made Ham. Combine with 1 cup cold lamb or chicken, also chopped fine. Season with salt, cayenne, ¼ teaspoon celery salt, 1 teaspoon minced onion and 1 teaspoon finely chopped parsley. Bind together with 1 cup thick white sauce and shape into croquettes. Dip in dried bread crumbs, then in beaten egg and again in crumbs.

Deep fat fry in Wilson's New Certified Pure Lard heated to 365° F. or until a one-inch cube of day-old bread will brown in just 50 seconds. (Quick, Watson, the stop-watch!)

DEEP FAT FRYING With Wilson's New Certified Pure Lard

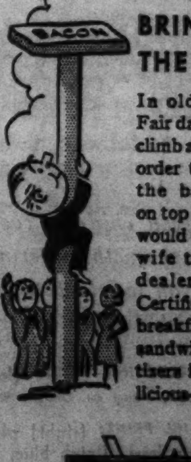
Even if you are not familiar with deep fat frying, you can approach it boldly when using this new Certified Pure Lard. (It's digestible and nutritive.) Put about 2 pounds of it in a 3-quart kettle, allowing plenty of space for its cheerful bubbling. If kept under refrigeration good lard can be used over and over again, with no absorption of food flavors.

To conclude our menu, potatoes left from the day before will do well for the potatoes au gratin. For the dessert, combine any canned fruits that may be opened, such as pears, peaches or cherries, with fresh fruits such as oranges, bananas and apples. Serve chilled.



BRING HOME THE BACON!

In olden times, on Fair day, a man would climb a greased pole in order to "bring home the bacon" placed on top of it. Today, he would simply send his wife to the nearest dealer for Wilson's Certified Bacon. For breakfast, in entrees, sandwiches or appetizers it is simply delicious—try it!

LILLARD GIVES UP ONLY EIGHT HITS IN DEBUT

Champions Decide Game in Fifth.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Gene Lillard, who gave up third basing for pitching because he wanted to be a Cub and expected Stan Hack to live to a ripe old age, yesterday demonstrated the wisdom of his decision by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 1. It was Gene's first casting in a major league match and the young man rounded out a snappy performance by being stronger through the ninth inning than he was at the start.

Lillard allowed only eight hits and only two of them came in the same inning, the eighth, when Paul Waner singled, sank in a double play and Arky Vaughan singled. Lillard missed a shutout in his big league debut in the seventh. The bases were loaded with none out by one of the three walks he gave, a single by Pep Young and a whisk on the uniform to Bill Brubaker. The Pirates lone run of the afternoon came across on a forceout while Lillard was mowing them down to get out of the jam in great shape.

Cubs Bunch Hits.

If any one thought Gene wasn't in a full nine inning mood, the misapprehension was removed in the final inning. Young struck out, Brubaker grounded out, and Pinch Batter Jim Tobin fanned to end the game.

The Cub offense was crammed into one inning, the fifth, when they made all their runs on a single by Gus Mancuso, a double by Dickie Bartell, an intentional pass to Hack, a single by Bill Herman with the bases loaded, and a single by Jim Gleeson. The Cubs made only one hit off Cy Blanton before the big fifth and only one each off Mace Brown and Joe Bowman after the fifth.

The Cubs again functioned without batting aid from their spring muscle fellows, Hank Leiber and Joe Marty. Neither got to base and neither got the ball out of the infield. The only ball either has knocked out of the infield in two days was a fly Hank lifted to Johnny Rizzo in Tuesday's game. Since the Cubs won all three Pirate games, no one worried especially about Hank and Joe, figuring them to function when hits are needed in Cincinnati today and tomorrow.

Sixth in Row for Pirates.

The victory was the fourth straight for the Cubs and the fifth in the six games they have played this season. It was the sixth straight loss for the Pirates, who have not won since they spoiled the season opener for the Reds in Cincinnati on April 17.

The first place Cubs gained on all the teams in the league except the Cardinals and it was all right for the Cards to keep apace by beating the Reds, 1 to 0, what with the Reds having been only a half game behind the champs until yesterday's doings.

The Cub defense continued to please the customers by going through its third errorless game. Home folks haven't seen a Cub make an error this year. Yesterday Lillard was helped considerably by three

STUDY HURDLES FINISH; GIVE PENN TRACK VICTORY

New Haven, Conn., April 26.—(AP)—The University of Pennsylvania track team tonight was declared the winner of its meet with Yale last Saturday, originally called a tie, following a review by Referee Terry McGovern of a protested finish in the 120 yard high hurdles event. McGovern upheld the protest and awarded third place to Adams of Pennsylvania instead of Osborn of Yale, giving the visitors their first victory over the Elis since 1932.

The decision changed the point totals from the 67½ all deadlock to 68½ for Pennsylvania and 66½ for the Bulldogs.

WISCONSIN PREP PITCHER SCORES 2D NO HIT GAME

Eau Claire, Wis., April 26.—(AP)—Douglas Forster, 17 year old pitcher, making his second start of the year for the Eau Claire High school team, today pitched his second no-hit, no-run game of the season, against Aquinas High school of La Crosse. The score was 4 to 0.

Last Saturday Forster turned in his first no-hit, no-run game against Whitehall High, Eau Claire winning, 14 to 0. Against Whitehall not a man reached first base and Forster struck out fifteen men. Today he struck out twelve, while three men got to first on two errors and a walk.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., April 26.—Bespectacled Billy Dietrich, the lad whose right arm hasn't been of much value since it was given surgical attention many months ago, put on a capital letter comeback today. He shouldered a nine inning assignment against the Cleveland Indians and baffled them on eight scattered hits while his White Sox mates handed proper treatment to another bespectacled gentleman, the famous vanishing Johnny Broaca. All in all, Dietrich's comeback was a howling success. The Indians surrendered, 5 to 1, giving the Chicagoans the series, two games to one.

Broaca, the Yale boy who peeled off a Yankee uniform in July of 1937 and drifted into oblivion, didn't last long enough to get acquainted with his new constituents. He got by rather shakily for two innings, but in the third his assailants suddenly wrapped a series of important base hits around a pass and a leak in the Indian defense. In the twinkling of an eye Broaca was gone and four Chicago fellows had scored. Then the Sox took it easy until the ninth, when another run scored because Gerald Walker insisted on getting at least one base hit as reward for his day's labor.

Dietrich Looks Good.

Dietrich, who was absent the better portion of last season to rest the elbow from which bone chips had been extracted, started off today with the same dazzling speed that carried him to no-hit heights in 1937. With his speed, he had a curve of consequence and, most amazing of all, near-perfect control. With these ingredients at his command he went through eight innings on six separated hits. But about this time he gave noticeable signs of tiring, proof of which came in the ninth when the Indians paired hits for the first time and dodged a shutout. But after these two hits with none out, Bill staggered through.

The offensive items which put Die-

ROMAN SCORES IN $2,500 RACE AT KEENELAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lexington, Ky., April 26.—Joseph E. Widener's Roman today dispelled the last doubt that he is the best 2 year old now racing in Kentucky. Going into the $2,500 Lafayette stakes, Keeneland's most important event for juveniles, Roman matched his speed against four other fleet footed youngsters over the Headley course, a little less than half a mile.

Under Warren Yarberry's confident handling, Roman began stepping away the instant the horses surged out of the starting gate. He held command around the turn and footed it home in splendid stride, two and a half lengths ahead of W. F. Morgan's Rapid Way.

There was a disqualification of the second horse, however, for Rapid Way had forced Louis B. Mayer's Flying Mary against the rail less than a sixteenth from the finish. In the official placing, Flying Mary was second and the Milky Way Farm's Charitable was third.

Pays Off at 3 to 5.

Running on a muddy track, Roman covered the Headley course in 47 3-5 seconds. In a previous start under sloppy track conditions, he had come within three-fifths of a second of the record, which is :46.

This earlier performance inspired so much confidence in Roman's ability that his odds were held down to 3 to 5. He paid off at $3.20 to win, $2.80 to place, and $2.20 to show.

Six horses, all Kentucky Derby candidates, were named in the overnight entries for the $5,000 Blue Grass stakes which will feature tomorrow's final program of the Keeneland meeting. Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable has nominated Third Degree, Hash, and Roll and Toss. John Hay Whitney has sent on Heather Broom from the east. E. F. Woodward's Viscounty and C. H. Cleary's Calexico will complete the field.

Heather Broom Has Backing.

The Greentree entry is expected to be the overwhelming favorite in the betting, for these horses have beaten every other likely 3 year old on the grounds. Third Degree and Hash won their only starts and Roll and Toss was beaten only by the former after he had led the field home in an earlier outing. The Greentree horses have

GOLDEN GLOVERS TO TRAIN DAILY IN SHIP'S GYM

Estonian Raadik Is Life of Party.

BY STEWART OWEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ABOARD S. S. NORMANDIE, April 26.—At bedtime tonight, Europe's eight amateur boxing representatives and their handlers were far out in the Atlantic as the Normandie speeded them toward Chicago for the eighth annual international bouts against the Golden Gloves champions on May 12 in Chicago Stadium. The team boarded the Normandie at Southampton this afternoon.

Although the boxers are from five nations and speak that many different languages, they already have become fast friends because of their united ambition to be the first European team to defeat Chicagoland's champions.

Raadik Relays Orders.

Only one member of the party is unable to communicate directly with the others. He is Pat Dowdall, featherweight from Ireland, the only boy who can speak English. Last year's luckless youngster in this respect was Olli Lehtinen of Finland, but it's a different story on this trip. He already is on intimate terms with Eric Agren, Swedish welterweight, and Anton Raadik, Estonian middleweight. Though none of the three speak the language of the other two, each understands the others because of the similarity of their language.

The complication resulting from the four Italians and Dowdall trying to make themselves understood to Lehtinen and Agren was solved by Raadik, with the aid of Trainer Steve Klaus. Raadik studied German in school. The five lads speak to Klaus, who in turn converses in German with Raadik. The latter then interprets for Lehtinen and Agren, thus making everybody happy.

He's a Real Puncher.

Raadik's mild mannered appearance belies the fact that he is the most rugged battler among the eight. He is of the killer type, once the ring action starts. His reputation preceded him to the European finals in Dublin where it was unanimously conceded he would win the middleweight title even before he had his first bout. The Estonian pays little or no attention to boxing style or defense, depending entirely on a two fisted attack with never a moment's letup. In his three victorious Dublin fights, Anton had the fans yelling hysterically at his whirlwind attack. He never took a step backward in any of his fights.

Raadik is no newcomer in European amateur circles. He has been boxing for five years since entering a vocational school to learn the upholstering trade. He is now employed in Tallinn, capital of Estonia. Anton won his first five battles, then encountered Michael Murach of Germany, who defeated him. Since then, the Estonian has had ninety fights of which he has won seventy, exactly half of them by knockouts. He has been knocked out once—four years ago—and hasn't lost a decision since the European tournament in 1937 in Milan, Italy. His conqueror was the Norwegian, Tiller, who was runnerup in the 1936 Olympics.

They Are All Confident.

This perfect example of the blond, Nordic type, who could pass as a brother of Agren, may well be the sensation of the Chicago bouts. He was born in Harjumal, Estonia, where his parents and younger brother still live. Though Estonia was a part of Russia until the world war, Raadik has always been an Estonian. He was born shortly after the country was freed from Russia during the revolution.

Like the other members of the

Baylor Star May Become Bear and Study Law.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Billy Patterson, who was driven into football by his father and remained to attain national acclaim as a triple threat quarter back, arrived at the Municipal airport yesterday from Baylor university to confer with George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears.

Patterson has decided definitly to begin a course in law, but agreed to come to Chicago and listen to Halas' proposition, which will include arrangements for the sensational southerner to study at one of the several law schools in the city.

A trade with Pittsburgh involving Sam Francis, former Nebraska full back, hinges on the outcome of Halas' conference with Patterson. Pittsburgh selected Patterson in the draft, but transferred its rights to the Bears in exchange for Francis.

Star of East-West Game.

Billy the Kid, who was christened Joseph William Patterson Jr., was the Baylor attack for three years. During that span he threw 321 passes, completing 135, and accounted for half of Baylor's touchdowns. His lifetime punting average is 39 yards per kick and his average gain running the ball is three yards per play.

He climaxed his career with one of his finest exhibitions in the East-West game, throwing the two touchdown passes which enabled the West to win, 13 to 0.

Plays Fifteen Full Games.

But his chief recommendation in Halas' opinion is his service record. Patterson played sixty minutes in 15 of the 20 games on Baylor's 1937 and 1938 schedules. This record speaks well for Billy's physical qualifications as a pro. And it is hardly what one would expect, considering the circumstances attending his advent into football.

J. William Patterson Sr., a hell-bustin' end in his day, became genuinely alarmed shortly after J. William Jr.'s arrival in the world at Hillsboro, Tex., on Aug. 28, 1918. It appeared to the senior Patterson that Junior was going to be a sissy. The Patterson hell-bustin' tradition seemed doomed.

Billy's first toy was a football. Billy Sr. saw that Billy Jr. was never without it. Later came the corner lot and ward school games, in which Billy was ordered to play, although he insists he did not enjoy it. Then came high school in Hillsboro and again Billy reported for football, under orders from home. But it was the same old story. He was still playing with boys much larger than himself and he wanted to quit.

Learns as a Blocker.

They wouldn't let him touch the ball, making him do the blocking. This didn't endear the game to him. But he won his letter and reported back for his junior year. The team's passer had graduated and in a general search for a replacement, after all the guards and tackles had had their turn, Billy was given a chance to throw the ball. From that time on Patterson began to like football and progressed steadily through a series of all-state and all-star selections.

Knott Nominated to Face Benton, and Tigers Today

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., April 26.—The White Sox will be back in Comiskey park tomorrow for the first of a two game series with Detroit's Tigers. Manager Jimmy Dykes' overnight pitching nomination is Jack Knott, but Dykes hinted that he might develop a new idea by game time. The Tigers probably will start Alton Benton.

The attendance here today was so slim that the home club's share was hardly sufficient to pay the ground crew, ushers, etc. The cause of the skimpy attendance was a morning rain and an afternoon sky filled with threatening clouds.

Manager Dykes was back on the first base coaching line again today. He refused to approach the spot yesterday because it would have brought him in contact with Umpire John Quinn. Quinn is No. 1 man on Dykes' social blacklist.

Bruce Campbell, who drove in five runs with two home runs yesterday, wasn't among those present today. He suffered a split finger nail during practice and had to turn over the right field job to Earl Averill.

The Ghost Greets Billy the Kid

Cubs Will Face Reds Today in Cincinnati

The Cubs this afternoon will get a slant on this business about the Cincinnati Reds going to win the National league pennant. They will play the Reds in Cincinnati today and tomorrow. The champs will return to Chicago Saturday for a two game series with the Cardinals and the Monty Stratton game on Monday before setting out on their first eastern trip. Larry French or Clay Bryant will pitch today.

Ed Carnett, the left handed pitching rookie who can whinnie and prance like a fractious colt, yesterday was sent by the Cubs to the Milwaukee club. Eddie went out on option.

Walter Higbe, rookie speed ball eccentric, will remain with the Cubs as a possible reliever for Dizzy Dean in the Monty Stratton game Monday. Then, maybe, he'll go away.

Manager Hartnett's on agin off agin ruling as to the privacy of the Cub bathhouse was in an off phase yesterday. Item seekers could go right into the showers with the heroes, so far as Gabby's mood of the day was concerned.

Dietrich and Sox Defeat Indians, 5-1

trich on easy street and blew Broaca from the scene in the third were contributed by Joe Kuhel and Luke Appling. Kuhel did his bit with a double in the wake of a pass. Appling's effort was a triple, driving in two runs. And, of course, Eric McNair, the little guy who hasn't missed at least one hit per game since opening day, got a piece of the rally. He singled just after Joe Dobson, a New Orleans rookie, had been sent in to rescue Broaca.

Kuhel Gets Double.

The Sox began production in the third on a pass to Owen. Kuhel hammered a double off the right center field concrete, Owen stopping at third. Walker should have been out at first, but Webb threw the ball to the grandstand. Owen scored on the play and the error put Kuhel on third and Walker on second. Both were chased home by Appling's triple, which Heath finally located in left center. The triple induced Oscar Vitt, the Cleveland boss, to withdraw Broaca. Dobson came in and McNair greeted him with a single to left, scoring Appling. Then Steinbacher sacrificed, but neither Kreevich nor Silvestri came through.

Greenberg Hits 2 Homers; Tigers Win, 7-6

Detroit, Mich., April 26.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers climbed into second place in the American league today by taking a ten inning home run bee from the St. Louis Browns, 7 to 6. Billy Rogell scored Hank Greenberg from second base with a single off Jim Walkup to break the deadlock.

Seven homers were hit, two of them by Hank Greenberg. Rogell and Charley Gehringer also hit circuit drives for Detroit while Billy Sullivan, Mel Almada, and Myril Hoag had homers for the Browns.

Lillard Stops Pirates; Cubs Triumph, 3-1

Here's the detail of the Cub onslaught in the fifth. With one out, Mancuso singled to left for the second hit off Blanton. Bartell doubled to left, Mancuso stopping at third. The runners held on while Brubaker threw out Lillard, then Hack was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Herman socked the first pitch for a single to left, scoring Mancuso and Bartell. Gleeson singled to center, Hack scoring, and Herman stopping at second. Brown replaced Blanton and Leiber was thrown out by Brubaker.

Pirates Break Through.

The Pirates broke through for their run in the seventh, though they had the bases loaded and none out. Suhr walked and stopped at second on Young's single to left. Brubaker was hit by a pitched ball, loading the bases. Manush batted for Berres and fouled to Cavarretta, after which Jensen batted for Brown and forced Brubaker, Cavarretta to Bartell, Suhr scoring. L. Waner popped to Herman.

CURT DAVIS HITS, PITCHES CARDS TO 1-0 TRIUMPH

Drives In Only Run to Beat Reds, 1-0.

St. Louis, Mo., April 26.—(AP)—Two accurate throws by Outfielder Terry Moore helped Curt Davis pitch and bat the St. Louis Cardinals to a 1 to 0 victory today over the Cincinnati Reds.

Davis limited the Reds to five hits, but they could have scored one and possibly two runs had Moore's pegs been wild. In the sixth Ernie Lombardi was nipped at the plate attempting to score on Wally Berger's single, and in the ninth Moore threw out Ival Goodman trying to reach third on Frankie McCormick's single.

The Cardinals got only six hits off three pitchers, Lee Grissom, Ray Davis, and Junior Thompson. Grissom yielded the winning run in the fourth inning. Moore worked him for a pass, went to third on Lynn Myers' single, and scored on Curt Davis' single. Score:

VAULTERS HOPE TO WAYLAY JINX AND SET RECORD

Drake Relays Mark Stands Nine Years.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Nine years ago Tom Warne of Northwestern established the pole vault record of 13 feet 11 inches in the Drake relays. Nearly every spring since then it has seemed as if the mark would be erased, but each time the man picked to accomplish that feat failed to come through.

Infrequently the weather has been an ally of Warne, for rain, a cold day, or even a slow cinder path to the takeoff is an impossible barrier. Last year Beefus Bryan of the University of Texas was the logical choice to put Drake's pole vault record above the 14 foot mark, but Bryan was injured and could not compete. Now that young man, already winner of the vault in the Kansas relays last week with a mark of 14 feet 2 inches, returns to try to better Warne's 1930 achievement.

Padway Rates Backing.

Perhaps Bryan will not be equal to the task despite last week's showing and his previous record of a jump of 14 feet 3 inches. Then it may be Milt Padway of Wisconsin who has equaled Bryan's best mark, who will blot out Warne's record. And Ed Thistlethwaite of Northwestern, son of the former Wildcat and Wisconsin football coach, Glen Thistlethwaite, must not be counted out. Ed won the Armour Tech indoor relay pole vault at 13 feet 11⅛ inches and tied for third in the Kansas relays. Many believe that ultimately he will clear 14 feet easily.

All of the thrills in the meet will not be found in the individual events, however, although the prospect of the two mile battle between Greg Rice and Walter Mehl, the 1,000 yard feature between John Borican and Chuck Fenske, and the appearance of Fred Wolcott in the hurdles undoubtedly will attract many to the Drake stadium. There is perhaps a greater thrill in the relay events because of the series of finishes and the shifting of advantage.

Great Relay Field.

The field of one mile relay teams that will compete Saturday is rated the greatest in history. Last year a splendid Iowa team regained the mile relay record Iowa lost to the University of California of Los Angeles in 1934. The Hawkeyes set a record of 3:15.4, a half second faster than the Californians' previous mark. That same Iowa quartet, Fred Teufel, Carl Teufel, John Graves, and Milton Billig, if in condition, will be ready to run.

But last week, in the Kansas one mile relay, Iowa finished behind Oklahoma A. & M., which won in 3:16.2. Besides these, Ohio State, Texas, Rice Institute, Illinois, and Louisiana will dispute the decision. Rice also will enter a quarter mile relay team reputed to be one of the best in the country on the basis of its showing in the Texas relays. Here again, however, Rice finished second last Saturday in Lawrence, Kas., to the great Oklahoma 440 yard quartet which ran in 41 4-10 seconds, excellent time compared to performances in most other track events that day.

Notre Dame will seek relay championships in the two mile, four mile, and distance medley events. In addition to Greg Rice's participation in the two mile individual championship, the Irish will enter such stars as Ed Beinor in the shotput and John Dean in the pole vault. The Irish also will enter a sprint medley relay team.

MICHIGAN SENDS 20 TRACK MEN TO PENN RELAYS

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 26.—[Special.]—Twenty members of Michigan's track team were named today to compete in the Penn relays in Philadelphia Friday and Saturday. The squad will leave tomorrow, accompanied by Assistant Coach Ken Doherty in the absence of Charlie Hoyt, called to Iowa yesterday because of a death in his family.

Michigan will have team entries in the sprint relay, the distance medley, the four mile relay, and the mile relay. Capt. Bill Watson will lead individual entries. He will defend his broad jump title and is the favorite in the shot put and discus on the basis of performances last week. In a dual meet with Illinois he threw the shot 54 feet 1¾ inches and the discus 158 feet.

How $am $nead Won $20,000

Money He Lacked to Become Engineer Came His Way When He Took Up Golf

[This is the second of a series of articles by Sam Snead, the 27 year old West Virginia golf professional, who collected $20,000 in tournament purses last year for an all-time record. Although Snead has played big time golf for little more than two years, he already has been runnerup in both the national open and professional events and holds the Canadian open title.]

BY SAM SNEAD.

From the time I was in seventh grade through my four years in high school, I worked in the Hot Springs pharmacy, doing everything but filling prescriptions, with an accent on soda jerking. This job called for duty every other week night and every other Sunday. Naturally, it cut into my golf, but on Sundays, I worked in the morning from 9 to 1 and in the evenings from 4 to 7, giving me about three hours of daylight in which to join my friends in playing around the Goat course on Warm Springs mountain.

After I had entered Valley High school in Hot Springs, other athletics began to absorb my interest, and there was a corresponding drop in my golfing activity. I played half back in football, forward and center in basketball, boxed as a 150 pounder, pitched in baseball, and competed in the 100 yard dash, the high and broad jumps, the discus, and the shot put in track.

Sam Wins Driving Contest Using a Brassie.

Tennis also had a place in this program, and I recall one day when we were meeting Millboro, our main rival, in which we vied in several sports. I took part in the track games in the morning, winning all my events, and then joined up with a friend, Hunter Loving, in the tennis doubles in the afternoon, but we were beaten.

For three years Valley High was an invited guest at a sports carnival conducted at Woodbury Forest academy in Orange, Va. Among the entries were such academies as Staunton, Augusta, and Danville.

One of the features of this event was a golf tournament, preceded by a driving contest. This latter called for an elimination in which the boys hitting the longest average distance for three balls qualified for the final test on three more balls. As a sophomore and junior, I won this contest, still using a brassie.

Toby Shows Mr. Snead How to Hit a Golf Ball.

When the time came for this carnival in my senior year, I was in a dilemma. I had a chance to go up to the golf meet in Orange, and an invitation to represent my school in the state track meet in Charlottesville. Since Valley High did not belong to the state conference, and would have had to pay to insure my entrance, I passed up the track meet, and went to Orange.

Two straight victories in the driving contest sent me out pretty confident that I would make it three in a row, but I reckoned without a big boy named Toby Tobias, who really caught hold of a couple balls and beat me easily with an average of 318 yards to my 300. I've been publicized a great deal as a long driver, but have no real explanation for this ability other than I have taken a full, healthy cut at the ball since I first had a club in my hands.

After I finished high school, I worked two more years in the drug store. I had ideas about taking a course in electrical engineering, but the money for same was slow in coming. I finally went to my high school coach, Harold Bell, and asked his advice. He promptly pointed out that I had knack for golf, and suggested that I apply for a job as clubmaker at the Homestead course.

Yesterday's teaching tip was on the grip. Today I'd like to give a hint or two on the stance. I favor a slightly closed stance, in which both feet should be on an imaginary line facing the hole. In this, the right toe should be about three inches back of the left toe. The feet should not point directly at the imaginary line, but should be slightly open to enable the player to pivot. The weight should be distributed evenly at the address between the heels and balls of the feet.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 26.—(AP)—Art Rooney, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates football team, said today unsettled conditions in Europe might cause Whizzer White to give up his Rhodes scholarship at Oxford and return to football this fall. White received $15,000 for playing with the Pirates last season.

"We have just heard from White," Rooney said. "In fact, he has been in communication with us rather frequently of late. The Whizzer has not decided what he intends to do. But should present European conditions continue I am fairly certain White will be with us next season."

NEWS TO YOU—

This Glamour Cigar

HERE'S an entirely new conception of a ten-cent cigar—this Robt. Burns Corona. Frankly it is made to surpass cigars of its class—designed to surprise men paying more than ten cents for cigars. To say that it is better than ten-cent classification may sound blunt, but that's the fact of it.

With the prestige of its patrician corona shape, the classic model that has cast its spell over smokers for many a year, the luscious Robt. Burns Corona is the glamour cigar of the ten-cent field. It challenges you Havana smokers who love a hearty, full-bodied cigar. Many smokers find it hard to believe it can be sold at ten cents. Try it at a dime at any good cigar stand. Your doubt will vanish in fragrant smoke.

JOHNNY BROWN ENDS WORK FOR RIGHTMIRE BOUT

Chicagoan Seeks Place as Title Contender.

Johnny Brown, 1935 Chicago Golden Gloves bantamweight champion, yesterday finished training in C. Y. O. center confident of upsetting Everett Rightmire in a ten round bout in White City tomorrow. If Brown wins he will displace his opponent from Minneapolis as a leading contender for the featherweight championship. Rightmire won the honor by virtue of his amazing comeback since last December during which he has scored six straight victories. His victims number Leo Rodak, recognized as the leading 126 pound contender by the National Boxing association. Rightmire, who yesterday sparred with Joe Law in Trafton's gymnasium, will conclude drills this afternoon. Co-Promoters Sam Abruscato and Bill Rand have arranged four supporting matches. These will bring together Tony Motisi and Willie Ross, Norman Roth and Ralph Guagardo, Russell Nyberg and Louis De Pirro, Joey Russano and Patrick O'Brien. Russano, who has a string of twenty-six triumphs as an amateur, will be making his professional début.

Sammy Angott, third ranking lightweight challenger, will arrive from Louisville this morning for a ten round contest against Milt Aron in the Coliseum next Wednesday. Angott will work out in Kid Howard's gymnasium this afternoon. The meeting will mark Sammy's first appearance in the welterweight field, Aron being rated the fifth best 147 pound boxer by the N. B. A. Angott has not been defeated in a year. Among those whom he has defeated in that span are Wesley Ramey and Aldo Spoldi. Additional encounters match Billy Marquart with Irish Eddie Brink, Dick Kist with Milo Theodorescu, Verle Davis with Young Armando Santiago, and Billy Seward with Willie Kline. Matchmaker James C. Mullen yesterday said that Eddie Mead, manager of Champion Henry Armstrong, has promised to have Armstrong meet the Aron-Angott winner in Chicago some time this year.

Amateur boxers from the Old Town Boys' club will meet Armour Square representatives in a series of contests in Armour Square gymnasium, 33d street and Shields avenue, tonight. Mike Kreevich and Ted Lyons of the White Sox will be guests.

European Ring Team to Open Drills Today

European team, Raadik is confident of winning in Chicago. He's anxious to begin training tomorrow, complaining that he has wasted a lot of time since winning in Dublin. All the boxers will start daily drills tomorrow in the ship's gymnasium and on the sun deck, when weather permits. Klaus will be in charge of the workouts. He already is familiar with the four Italian lads, whom he has served as trainer for a year and a half, and also with Agren, Raadik, and Lehtinen, whom he frequently has watched in action on the continent.

Klaus was impressed by Dowdall's fine showing in winning the featherweight title, especially in his final battle. Klaus thinks the spirited Irishman will have an excellent chance to win in Chicago. He is just as certain that Raadik will make a hit with the Stadium crowd when he starts punching away with both hands.

INQUIRY RAPS ROPER'S CHOICE AS LOUIS FOE

California Drive Also Hits Wrestling.

Sacramento, Cal., April 26.—(AP)—Joe Louis' first-round knockout of Jack Roper in Los Angeles, April 17, came before a legislative committee investigating wrestling and boxing conditions in California today.

Committee Chairman Chester F. Gannon asked Dr. Harry Martin, state athletic commission member, if he thought the commission had done its duty in permitting the match. Dr. Martin testified he thought the bout had given the fans a run for their money.

"You knew, didn't you," asked Gannon, "that Roper was 39 years old and has been knocked out perhaps twenty times, sometimes by fighters whose names I wouldn't know except for a list I hold in my hand?"

Dr. Martin replied he was not familiar with Roper's record but was under the impression the fighter had been getting better with age.

R. H. Thomson, a former wrestler, preceded Dr. Martin in the resumption of the inquiry, and testified that practically all wrestling bouts of which he had personal knowledge had been fixed. Thompson, now a guard at Folsom prison, told the hearing that during the time he was active wrestlers had to take orders. He added referees had to submit to manhandling by wrestlers as part of the show.

"From coast to coast I don't know a heavyweight wrestler who couldn't beat Man Mountain Dean," Thompson said in reply to a question as to whether headliners of Dean's type were included in the statement about taking orders.

Roman Wins $2,500 Stake at Keeneland

Heather Broom, which is trained by Earl Sande, is expected to muster some support. This good colt won his only start of the season at Jamaica.

The race is expected to have a lot to do with Greentree's choice of the horse or horses it will send to the Derby a week from Saturday at Churchill Downs. Third Degree has grown little since last year, but has proved a game, fast horse with considerable class. Though most of the clockers seem to prefer Third Degree, it is understood that the stable likes Hash pretty well.

Following the close of the Keeneland meeting most of the stables will move over to Churchill Downs. Some of the strong eastern Derby candidates are expected to arrive in Kentucky late this week. Others will come in early next week following the Wood Memorial, which is to be run Saturday.

MONARCHS BEAT PABSTS 3 GAMES FOR CLASSIC LEAD

The Monarchs took the lead from the Pabsts in the Classic Bowling league when they won three games in the Madison-Kedzie Arcade last night. The Pabst had held first place virtually all year. The Monarchs shot 1,101, 1,074, and 1,014 for a 3,189 total against the Pabsts' 1,006, 929, and 962 for 2,897.

The highest game was scored by Power House who bowled 1,136. They won two games from Ambrosia. Schlitz took two from the Baby Ruths and Thompsons won the odd game from Prager.

RAILROADS SLASH TWO MONTH NET LOSS THIS YEAR

Improvement of Business Reflected in Trend.

Improved business this year was reflected in railroad earnings statements made public yesterday. The Association of American Railroads reported a sharp reduction in the net loss of the carriers in the first two months of 1939, as compared with the corresponding 1938 period. Numerous roads reported March net operating incomes larger than in March, 1938.

Net loss is the deficit remaining after provision for bond interest and other fixed charges. Net operating income is income before fixed charges.

The net loss of the class 1 roads in the first two months was $33,485,000, compared with a loss of $77,725,000 in the 1938 period. For February alone the loss was $24,264,000.

Operating Income $18,591,000.

February net operating income of the class 1 roads was $18,591,000, compared with a net operating deficit of $1,909,000 in February, 1938.

Among the roads showing noticeable improvement in March were the Burlington and the Baltimore and Ohio. The Burlington's net operating income was $812,260, compared with $538,248 in March, 1938. Net income of the Burlington was $88,660 in March, compared with a loss of $196,497 in March, 1938.

The Baltimore and Ohio had a March net operating income of $2,025,490, compared with a net operating income of $420,978 in March, 1938.

STEEL CONCERNS CONSERVE COAL, CUT OPERATIONS

Coal saving measures have been adopted by steel plants affected by the Appalachian wage deadlock, Iron Age said yesterday in its review of the steel industry. The effect on ingot production, however, has been small.

Dwindling demand for steel products, combined with the restricting effect of coal conservation, have reduced the ingot production rate to 48.5 per cent, a decline of 2 points from last week's rate. Current operations are at the lowest point since the Christmas holiday week.

The national loss in output reflected a drop of 4 points in the Chicago district to 49.5 per cent.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Price ranges in cattle and hogs widened sharply yesterday. The spread between outstanding loads of steers and the average cattle market was largest of the year, with the peak at a new 1939 high of $14.00 and the rank and file at new 1939 lows.

A load of Nebraska steers brought the highest price paid for cattle at Chicago since December, 1937. Common to best beef steers sold within a range of $7.75 to $14.00, a spread of $6.25, the widest range for this season since 1930. While the top sale was 25 cents above the previous top for the year, the bulk of steers declined 15 to 25 cents.

Best grades of hogs weighing up to 250 pounds sold readily at strong to 10 cents higher prices, spots showing 15 cents gain. Other classes were barely steady, and some big "lard hogs" off 5 to 10 cents at the close.

COMMODITIES CLIMB; TRADE AT FAST PACE

Copper Futures Set Volume Record.

Commodities markets staged a broad advance yesterday in heavy trading.

Business in copper futures set a new all-time peak at 9,225 tons and at the close gains ranged from 0.29 to 0.32 cent a pound. An advance in the domestic copper price and heavy copper purchases by consumers, led copper observers to believe the long awaited consumer movement is under way. This spurred buying in futures.

Price Situation Unusual.

Establishment of this triangular price structure presented a situation in the trade which was without parallel in recent years. Smelters are the buyers of copper and producers are inj the position of sellers.

It was reported that some customers who have been out of the domestic copper market for six months came in for substantial tonnages. No official estimate of the volume taken was available, but observers said it was the largest for any single day since last autumn and probably was the largest since early July, 1938.

The firm domestic copper market was reënforced by advancing prices abroad. Export copper moved up to 10.14 cents a pound from around 10.08 cents Tuesday.

World Sugar Contract Rises.

Sugar futures were paced higher by the No. 4 [world] contract, which closed with gains of 0.015 to 0.04 cent a pound. Domestic sugar closed unchanged to 0.02 cent higher. During the day the May domestic sugar contract reached 1.44 cents, within .035 cent of the peak touched in April two years ago.

Accumulation of sugar reserves by leading European powers as a war defense move was said to be the prime force behind rising forward quotations. There are no statistics on such accumulations, however. Some traders insisted that inadequacy of present sugar quotas to fill increased demand, rather than a shortage of actual sugar, was responsible for the price rise.

Czech Absorption a Factor.

Dealers said that German absorption of Czecho-Slovakia had turned the flow of Czecho-Slovakia's quota of exportable sugar—about 275,000 tons —directly into Germany. Formerly the Czecho-Slovak output was distributed to world customers.

Hides were also active, the new contract closing on gains of 0.27 to 0.32 cent a pound. Straits tin added 0.10 to 0.35 cent a pound. Zinc and lead closed steady. Silk quotations were mixed.

LAUNCH DRIVE TO ELECT 5 NEW WAHL DIRECTORS

Formation of a proxy committee to seek the election of five new directors of the Wahl company was announced yesterday by a group of stockholders. The annual meeting of the company, Chicago fountain pen and pencil manufacturer, will be held May 2.

Proxy committee members seeking directorships are Rawson Lizars and Frank Lyons of Rawson Lizars & Co., investment firm; John R. McGibbons and Martin Crone, all of Chicago, and George C. Heberling of Bloomington, Ill. None is now asociated with the management of the company.

The committee said in a letter to stockholders it believed steps "to assure changes in management" were essential. Present directors own less than 4 per cent of the common stock, the letter said, and from early 1924 until Dec. 31, 1938, the company had a total operating loss of $2,822,294.

Wallace Opposes Butter Export Subsidy Proposal

Washington, D. C., April 26.—Secretary Wallace said today he did not approve the dairy industry's scheme to subsidize exports of surplus butter to bolster domestic prices. The secretary announced he was opposed to the request which was made by officials of the National Coöperative Milk Producers federation. "If we are to pay a subsidy to move surplus butter into consumption, I believe our own consumers should receive the benefit," he said.

LinkGianninis, Broker Firm in New SEC Quiz

Washington, D. C., April 26.—[Special.]—The Securities and Exchange commission today broadened the scope of its investigations of Giannini banking and investment activities in California by starting a proceeding against Walston & Co. of San Francisco and four of its partners.

The commission said it had "reasonable grounds to believe" that the firm and its partners had violated the commission's requirement of full and complete statement of facts in connection with security matters. The SEC ordered public hearings May 8 at its San Francisco offiice to determine whether the firm and its partners should be expelled from security exchanges as over-the-counter brokers and dealers in securities and the registration of the firm revoked or suspended.

Charges Facts Were Omitted.

The SEC charged that the firm's registration application omitted material facts in stating that Vernon C. Walston, William Sherman Hoelscher, Charles De Y. Elkus, Clifford P. Hoffman, and Charles J. Smith were the only partners of registrant, and that Elkus was the only limited partner.

"In fact," the SEC said, "as the partners well knew, Virgil D. Giannini and other persons at present unknown to the commission, were also partners. As the registrant and partners further well knew, Elkus has never contributed any capital to, or shared in any of the profits or losses of, or received for his own account any interest on capital from the registrant.

"At all times mentioned herein prior to the death of Virgil D. Giannini on April 28, 1938, Elkus served as a mere nominee or representative of Virgil D. Giannini and other persons. Thereafter [Elkus] served in the same capacity on behalf of Mrs. Claire Giannini Hoffman and other persons, who acquired the interest of Virgil D. Giannini upon his death by exercising an option thereon.

No "Supplementary Statement."

"The option was granted to L. Mario Giannin' on or about Dec. 17, 1938, and assigned to Mrs. Claire Giannini Hoffman and other persons by L. Mario Giannini on or about May 31, 1938. The registrant has failed to file a supplementary statement setting forth any of the facts hereinabove alleged."

[L. Mario Giannini is a member of the banking family which includes A. P. and A. H. Giannini, whose interests include Transamerica corporation, Bank of America, and other banking enterprises.]

From April 28, 1938, to date, the commission said, the business was controled by Mrs. Claire Giannini Hoffman and other persons at present unknown to the commission.

The commission said the company and the partners knew this but failed to file a supplementary statement setting forth the facts.

Fahey Asks Liberalization of Home Loan Bank Loans

Washington, D. C., April 26.—(AP)—John H. Fahey, chairman of the federal home loan bank board, today urged a congressional committee to amend the home loan bank act to permit federal loans to be made on apartment house mortgages. Testifying before the house banking committee on several administration approved amendments to the home loan bank act, Fahey said many savings banks are holding mortgages on multifamily units which they cannot as collateral advances.

ESTABLISH NEW TRAIN FOR SAN FRANCISCO EXPOSITION VISITORS

A new extra fare all-Pullman train between Chicago and San Francisco will be placed in operation on May 22, the Northwestern, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads announced yesterday. Operated jointly by the three roads, the new train is being installed to accommodate visitors to the San Francisco World's Fair.

The train will be christened the Treasure Island, name of the fair's site. It will operate on a fast schedule similar to that of the Forty-niner, making the run in forty-nine hours. It will leave Chicago at 9:30 a. m., and on the return trip will leave San Francisco at 11:40. Departures from Chicago will be on the 4th, 10th, 16th, 22d, and 28th of each month. San Francisco departures will be the 1st, 7th, 13th, and 25th of each month.

The Treasure Island will be made up of seven standard Pullman sleeping cars, a diner, club lounge, and baggage car.

ATTRIBUTES BULK OF GOLD FLOW TO TRADE PAYMENTS

Washington, D. C., April 26.—(AP)—Dr. Amos E. Taylor, finance expert of the commerce department, said today the bulk of the $1,864,000,000 of foreign gold and silver which came into the United States last year was sent to pay for American merchandise.

In his annual compilation of the "balance of international payments," Dr Taylor said American merchandise exports exceeded imports in 1938 by $1,133,000,000. After deducting American payments to foreign steamship companies and other service payments, foreigners still owed the United States $965,000,000 for merchandise and services, which was paid for out of metal shipments, he said.

In addition, foreigners made $430,000,000 of capital investments in America for which they shipped gold, leaving an unexplained item of $469,000,000 which foreigners paid the United States, probably mostly through secret transactions of the treasury's stabilization fund.

PENNSYLVANIA CUTS TIME OF SEVERAL TRAINS

Faster service between Chicago and New York and new daylight saving time schedules were announced yesterday by H. E. Newcomet, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad. New schedules will become effective Sunday.

The running time of the eastbound Manhattan Limited will be reduced forty-five minutes. Ten minutes will be cut from the eastward runs of The General and the Golden Arrow. The sixteen hour Broadway Limited will leave Chicago at 4:30 p. m. daylight saving time and reach New York at 9:30 a. m. eastern daylight saving time.

BOOST IN POWER OUTPUT BETTERS SEASONAL MARK

Production of electricity in the week ended April 22 increased 1.3 per cent over the preceding week to 2,199,002,000 kilowatt hours, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday.

The gain was larger than seasonal trends had indicated. Output was 12.7 per cent ahead of the corresponding 1938 week.

Chicago area production by the Commonwealth Edison company group rose to 139,100,000 kilowatt hours from 138,623,000 in the preceding week and 119,429,000 in the 1938 week.

Coal Mediator Ends Survey; Ready to Act

New York, April 26.—(AP)—Dr. John R. Steelman, federal mediator, conferred today with the deadlocked soft coal labor contract negotiators preparatory to attempts to end the suspension in the Appalachian area.

John R. Steelman, mediator, ready "to act."

Tension increased in the conference room in the Hotel Biltmore, where representatives of the operators and the United Mine Workers [C. I. O.] have argued for seven weeks and occasionally the angry voice of a negotiator was overheard in the corridors.

At the end of the day Steelman, who was appointed by Secretary of Labor Perkins, said no progress had been made in breaking the deadlock over the miners' demands for either a closed shop or elimination of the penalty clause which provides fines for miners taking part in unauthorized strikes.

Mediator Completes Preliminaries

"Arguments on both sides were completed today to my satisfaction," Steelman said. "In two days of joint conferences and separate conferences I have gained the complete viewpoint of both sides on all questions before the conference. Beginning tomorrow, I'm ready to begin attempts to find a way to bridge the gap."

Shortly after the eight negotiators opened their morning session the operators and miners separated to talk privately with Steelman and his aid, James F. Dewey. At the afternoon session the voice of John L. Lewis, U. M. W. president, carried beyond the closed doors.

Separate sessions were held again before the negotiators recessed for the night without comment either from Lewis or Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the operators.

No Hint of Next Step.

There was no suggestion what possible compromise course might be proposed with a chance of winning the approval of the union, representing 338,000 miners in the Appalachian area, and the operators of more than 3,000 mines in the eight state region.

The mediator was working against time to forestall the possibility of the union's calling out its 130,000 workers outside the Appalachian territory next week. Lewis has warned he will shut off the source of the nation's soft coal supply May 4 if the deadlock is not broken.

A few blocks away representatives of the union and the Pennsylvania anthracite operators discussed terms of a new contract, with the threat the miners will cease work if no agreement has been reached by midnight Sunday.

BORG-WARNER'S MARCH QUARTER NET $1,154,704

Other Firms Also Do Better than in 1938.

Borg-Warner corporation and subsidiaries yesterday reported consolidated net income of $1,154,704 for the first three months of 1939, compared with a net loss of $287,672 in the first 1938 quarter. Most other first quarter earnings reports made public also showed gains.

Earnings of Borg-Warner were equal to 50 cents a share on the $5 par value common stock. The company and its subsidiaries manufacture automotive equipment, agricultural implements, and household appliances.

Link Belt company was among the few companies reporting smaller earnings in the 1939 first quarter than in the corresponding 1938 period. Its net income was $199,161, or 22 cents a share, against $234,090 or 27 cents a share in the 1938 quarter. Alfred Kaufmann, president, announced consolidation of the Speeder Machinery corporation, Cedar Rapids, Ia., and the shovel division of Link Belt.

Accessory Makers Earn Profit.

Large gains in automobile production and sales in the first quarter were reflected in the reports of two companies allied with the auto trade. Thompson Products, Inc., manufacturer of automobile accessories, and Western Auto Supply company, which operates a chain of retail stores supplying auto accessories, had profits in the first quarter this year compared with losses a year earlier.

Thompson Products reported net income of $325,156, equal to $1.07 a share, against net loss of $93,492 last year. Western Auto Supply had a net income of $293,684 or 39 cents a share against a net loss of $254,927 in 1938.

Lower profit margins in the oil industry continued to be revealed in smaller earnings for companies in this field. Shell Union Oil reported net income of $478,266, equal to less than a cent a share, for the first quarter, against net income of $2,907,447, equal to 18 cents a share, in the 1938 quarter.

Reports Profit Gain.

Larger first quarter profits were reported yesterday to stockholders of the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet company, the Binks Manufacturing company, and the Copperweld Steel company.

E. H. Little, president of Colgate-Palmolive-Peet, said profits in the first quarter were slightly larger than a year ago, although volume was about the same. He said inventories are normal and dealers' stocks below normal. The company manufactures soap and other products.

J. F. Roche, president of Binks Manufacturing company, Chicago, said that sales and earnings in the first quarter were more than 15 per cent larger than in the first 1938 period. The company manufactures spraying apparatus and other equipment.

Chicago Area's March Trade Tops Year Ago

Retail and wholesale trade, automobile production, furniture shipments, industrial employment and pay rolls in the seventh [Chicago] federal reserve district during March improved compared with March, 1938, the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago reported yesterday.

The gain in department store trade over the preceding month was much larger than usual, partly as a result of the earlier date of Easter this year, the report said. Aggregate sales expanded 38 per cent over February, the largest increase for the period in the last ten years. Sales were 6½ per cent higher than in March, 1938.

Quarter's Volume Higher.

The March gains brought sales for the first quarter to 2 per cent above the first 1938 quarter. In the two weeks ended April 15 sales were 2 per cent larger than in the corresponding weeks last year.

Sales of shoes at retail rose 83 per cent in March over February, the increase comparing with one of 52 per cent in the 1929-'28 average for the period. The dollar volume was 12 per cent larger than in March last year. In the first quarter retail shoe sales exceeded the volume sold in the 1938 quarter by 6 per cent.

Furniture Sales Increase.

A seasonal increase over the preceding month was reported in sales of furniture and house furnishings. Dollar volume showed a gain of 9 per cent over February and 3 per cent over March last year. Although inventories were 5 per cent heavier on March 31 than a month earlier, they were 3 per cent lighter than on the corresponding 1938 date.

Wholesale trade volume rose markedly over February, which is a normal trend, the report said. March sales were 16 per cent larger than those of February and 6 per cent larger than in March, 1938. Total stocks on March 31 were fractionally lower than a month earlier and 6 per cent smaller than a year earlier.

March production of automobiles showed a normal expansion over February, and continued to be much in excess of the 1938 output. Passenger car production increased 25 per cent over February and 51 per cent over March, 1938.

Sales of new cars at retail rose 130 per cent over February and exceeded those of March, 1938 by 35 per cent. The number of cars distributed at wholesale was 73 per cent larger than in February and 129 per cent above the March, 1938, volume.

Stocks of new cars in dealers' hands declined about 15 per cent between the end of February and March 31 but were almost 10 per cent larger than on the corresponding 1938 date.

Industrial employment and pay rolls showed a further expansion from February 15 to March 15.

ILLINOIS BILL PLANNED FOR MOVE TO ATTRACT INDUSTRIES, TOURISTS

Springfield, Ill., April 26.—[Special.] —Introduction of a bill to establish a permanent promotional organization for Illinois was decided upon today at a conference of industrial and merchandising leaders.

The bill will propose an appropriation—the amount to be determined later—for a national advertising campaign to publicize the state.

Lieut. Gov. John Stelle, who presided at the conference, told the group that he believed Illinois had lost tremendous income because few attempts had been made to attract new industries and tourists.

The state's $750,000,000 road system was mentioned by Howard P. Roberts, Chicago advertising executive, as an Illinois advantage which should be promoted.

BUSINESS BASIS SOUND, STEEL LEADERS ASSERT

Voorhees Explains New Chicago Office.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

E. M. Voorhees, chairman of the finance committee of the United States Steel corporation, said yesterday that business conditions now are sounder basically than at any other time in recent depression years. He said business is holding up well after the vigorous 1938 upturn and that a more pronounced reaction might have been expected than the moderate one that actually occurred.

Voorhees was one of several steel officials who spoke at a luncheon at the Blackstone hotel, at which formal announcement was made of the opening in Chicago of executive offices of the United States Steel Corporation of Delaware. G. Cook Kimball, recently elected executive vice president of the corporation, will be in charge of the Chicago office.

Cites Tests of Confidence.

"I believe that business performance has been wholly creditable in light of the unremitting and violent assaults upon confidence that have come from abroad," Voorhees said. "Further encouragement is derived from realizing that domestic conditions are vastly different, more fundamentally sound than those prevailing in the major depressions of recent years.

"As I view the situation and talk with thoughtful people, it appears to me that as far as the actual business records are concerned the realities are those of high hopes disappointed more than they are of business injuries actually sustained."

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of United States Steel, and Edward R. Stettinius Jr., chairman of the board, declared that Chicago's position as a key manufacturing center in United States Steel's vast empire is being bolstered by the opening of the new quarters here.

Explain Chicago Position.

The office being opened is that of the United States Steel Corporation of Delaware—management and coordinating company for the United States Steel Corporation of New Jersey, the parent company. But officials said the opening of the Delaware corporation office will have the same effect as if a New Jersey corporation office were opened. Kimball is to have full authority in dealing with United States Steel matters in the Chicago area.

Fairless traced the rise of the United States Steel interests in Chicago. In 1901, when the corporation was formed, it had 13,600 employés, a pay roll of $10,600,000 a year, and an ingot capacity of 1,670,000 tons. In the peak year of 1930 it had 46,500 employés,

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 26.—The stock market worked higher today after an early decline. Gains ranging from fractions to more than a point replaced losses of the same size. Trading increased to 584,260 shares, from 420,810 shares yesterday.

Strength in motor and copper shares was believed to have brought interest to other sections. Chrysler spurted a point and other motors edged higher. Boosting of the domestic copper price bolstered the metal shares. Phelps Dodge and American Smelting added 1⅜ points apiece. Anaconda, Kennecott and International Nickel shared in the rise.

Despite the improvement, wariness characterized dealings. Observers attributed this to the desire of traders to wait for Chancellor Hitler's speech Friday. England's conscription plans were thought to have been anticipated previously. Another factor making for caution, it was believed, was the recession in the steel industry.

Steels could do no better than hold their own. United States Steel and Bethelehem closed unchanged after early softness. Republic and Youngstown slipped minor fractions.

Eastman Kodak climbed 5¼ points in active dealings. Trading in the rights ceased today. Leading rubber and oil issues firmed fractionally. Carrier shares contributed small gains under leadership of New York Central, Southern railway, Pennsylvania, and Cheasapeake and Ohio. Power and light shares moved in a narrow trend, with Consolidated and North American fairly popular.

A stock exchange seat was sold today for $60,000, up $9,000 from the last sale April 11.

New York Bonds.

New York, April 26.—(AP)—United States government loans and a number of low yield corporate issues recorded modest gains in another uneven bond market today. A few issues rated speculative also moved up.

Treasury loans generally finished 1-32 to 5-32 higher. Corporate issues up fractions or a little more included Great Northern "G" 4s of '46, Continental Oil 2¾s, Commonwealth Edison convertible 3½s, and American Telephone 3¼s of '66.

Shifting to lower ground were loans of Western Union, Cleveland Union Terminal, International Hydro Electric, Alleghany corporation, Southern railway and Missouri Pacific.

Italian loans took another dive which left Rome 6½s down 2½, and Milan 6½s down 1¼. Poland 8s rose a point. Most other foreign groups remained in a fractional range.

Chicago Stocks.

Prices averaged fractionally higher on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, although trends were mixed. Trading amounted to 21,000 shares, and in addition 100,000 rights changed hands. THE TRIBUNE average closed at 9.65 against 9.61 on Tuesday.

Commonwealth Edison and Marshall Field were the most active issues, the turnover being 1,450 shares in each. Commonwealth Edison closed unchanged at 26¾. Marshall Field added ¼ point, closing at 11¼.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks closed irregular yesterday in dull trading, dealers reported. Nominal closing bids were $1 lower to $3 higher. Chicago Title and Trust shares lost $1 and Continental Illinois, 50 cents. City National stock rose $3.

CROP DAMAGE REPORTS BOOST WHEAT FUTURES

An increasing number of crop damage reports from parts of Oklahoma and Kansas, especially from sections heretofore believed in almost perfect condition, advanced wheat futures ¼ to ¾ cent a bushel yesterday to the highest level in three months.

May wheat sold at 70 cents at one time, within 1¼ cents of the year's peak. Closing trades on the Chicago Board of Trade were ⅛ to ½ cent higher.

Seldom has the trade experienced such a rapid change in the character of reports regarding the outlook for the winter wheat crop, brokers said. At the close of last week most comments on the crop were favorable. Hot winds and lack of rainfall since then have brought reports of deterioration.

Corn was firmer in sympathy with wheat but the buying was not aggressive. Closing trades were unchanged to ⅛ cent a bushel higher.

Pit Suspends D. J. Hogan for Violating Margin Rules

Directors of the Chicago Board of Trade have suspended Daniel J. Hogan, pit trader, for a period of two years for violation of commission and margin rules.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, April 26.—(AP)—A fairly active trade was done in cotton goods today. Some mills raised prices ⅛ of a cent on the more popular print cloths but buyers hesitated to follow the advance. Burlap was up a few points with business confined mainly to spot requirements. Silk fabric demand contracted further. Rayon demand for immediate fill-in purposes gave that market a fair volume of business. Woolen dealers reported sampling for fall lines continued at a good pace.

9 CLOSED BANKS PAY $615,853 IN MARCH QUARTER

Slowing of Liquidation in Cook County Noted.

Only nine closed state banks in Cook county paid liquidating dividends during the March quarter, it was disclosed yesterday in the report of State Auditor Edward J. Barrett covering the first three months of 1939. These nine distributed a total of $615,853, which compared favorably with the totals of the last few quarters.

There was some slowing in the liquidation of the 137 closed state banks in the county that are still in receivership. This was attributed partly to the economic impairment of the market for remaining bank assets and partly to the exhaustion of the closed banks' portfolios.

Announces Final Sales.

That these portfolios are drying up rapidly was indicated from Barrett's announcement that final sales for several of the receiverships are to be held in the next few weeks. Some of the banks already have satisfied their depositors, but are continuing under receivership for the benefit of stockholders.

The 137 banks took in $227,903 more than they spent during the March quarter, Barrett's report showed. This was due chiefly to the reduction in depositor refunds, as other expenditures remained at approximately an average level.

Receipts of the closed banks totaled $2,470,138. This compares with income of $2,571,762 for 138 banks during the December quarter, and $3,099,427 for 139 banks in the 1938 March quarter. The receiverships of two banks have been terminated since March, 1938.

$2,242,235 Is Paid Out.

Disbursements in the first three months of this year totaled $2,242,235, as against $2,741,178 for 138 banks in the preceding three month period and $3,127,763 for 139 banks in the opening quarter last year.

Recent repayment of $70,930 to about 11,500 depositors of three defunct state banks in Chicago and Cook county also was announced yesterday. The banks are the Madison Square State bank, the Brainerd State bank, and the Arlington Heights State bank of Arlington Heights.

Checks representing repayments of 4 to 7½ per cent were mailed last week, Barrett said. The largest distribution was to 7,000 depositors of the Madison Square State bank. They received a total of $37,110.

BRIGHTER LIGHTS SUGGESTED FOR LOOP DISTRICT

Brighter lights, cleaner buildings, more attractive parking lots, and new trafic direction signs were some of the improvements discussed by the loop improvement committee of the Downtown council yesterday at a luncheon meeting in the Palmer House. A street lighting system similar to the present State street illumination for the entire loop area was considered.

Frank M. Whiston, president of the Wabash Avenue District association, appointed a committee to study lighting systems. Washing and cleaning the exterior of all loop buildings was advanced as one of several projects to improve the appearance of downtown Chicago.

Goodyear Tire Co. Named in Labor Board Complaint

Cleveland, O., April 26.—(AP)—The National Labor Relations board issued today a complaint against the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, charging unfair labor practices. Hearing on the complaint, brought at the request of C. I. O.'s United Rubber workers, was set for May 22. The company was accused of discriminating against union members and provoking a riot in Akron May 26, 1938, during a strike.

Reduced Taxes Declared Great Need of Industry

Industry's needs were listed yesterday as a reduction in taxes, better labor conditions, and freer access to raw materials. Clarence E. Watkins, business analyst, in addressing a Chicago Association of Commerce meeting, advocated a local attack upon Chicago's problems, rather than dependence upon federal aid. He strongly supported the "Greater Chicago" campaign of the association.

U. S. TO EXAMINE BALABAN BOOKS IN FILM ACTION

Seeks to Prove Violation of Consent Decree.

Government attorneys yesterday received court permission to examine the books and records of Barney Balaban, motion picture distributor and director, and ten large motion picture companies.

The government is attempting to prove that Balaban and the companies have been violating an antimonopoly consent decree entered into seven years ago in the federal district court. Edgar Eldredge, special master in chancery, granted subpenas for records in the case.

All Plead Not Guilty.

Taking of testimony will begin before Master Eldredge on May 17, after the government has examined the records. All the defendants have pleaded not guilty. They were named in a criminal contempt information filed by Assistant United States Attorney Warren Canaday and Special Assistant Attorney General Robert L. Wright.

It is charged that the defendants have continued "block" booking of moving pictures, preferential treatment of certain exhibitors, and coercion of independent theater owners in violation of the consent decree signed April 6, 1932. Block booking forces theaters to take all the pictures offered by producers.

Other Defendants Listed.

The defendants, besides Balaban, are Balaban & Katz corporation, B. & K. Management corporation, Paramount Pictures, Inc., Loew's Inc., R-K-O Radio Pictures, Inc., Twentieth Century-Fox Film corporation, United Artists corporation, Universal Film Exchanges, Inc., Vitagraph, Inc., and Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc.

GROUP ADVISES U. S. PURCHASE OF OIL RESERVES

Harrisburg, Pa., April 26.—(AP)—A Pennsylvania commission that studied the oil industry for two years reported today "the most meritorious recommendation" it heard was that the federal government purchase oil reserves, "operate them as a unit, sell the crude and let competition prevail beyond that."

The commission recommended that the state break up the "dominance" it said a few companies hold over the state's two billion dollar business. The group did not put forward specific legislative proposals.

"The power to manipulate prices is not peculiar to the Pennsylvania oil industry," the commission said. The report found the industry "replete with financial hazards" for the small producer.

a pay roll of $85,800,000, and an ingot capacity of 8,000,000 tons. For 1938, when production fell, the corporation had 42,500 employés, a $60,000,000 pay roll, and a 10,000,000 tons ingot capacity.

In the first quarter of this year there were 45,500 employés and an $18,500,000 pay roll.

Emphasizing Chicago's position as one of the world's greatest markets and a focus for all the interests and efforts of the middle west, Stettinius said the corporation's confidence in Chicago's destiny "is as boundless as your own."

Says Firm Relies On Chicago.

"We recognize our responsibility to Chicago and the nearby industrial cities, where so many of our employés live," Stettinius continued. "Their prosperity and security, which are ever in our minds, are basic factors in your economic life. Making steel to be sold throughout the land, they draw many millions of dollars in wages which add to the wealth and trade of your city. Our determination to rely upon Chicago in the future as in the past is further confirmed to you today by the appointment of Mr. Kimball."

Oscar G. Mayer, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, hailed the establishment of a United States Steel office here as a victory in the recently announced "Greater Chicago Campaign." Heretofore United States Steel has not had an executive office in Chicago.

U. S. AGAIN FIGHTS BOND PAYMENT IN GOLD EQUIVALENT

Washington, D. C., April 26.—(AP)—Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson urged the Supreme court today to decide that the 1933 "gold clause" resolution voided contracts for payment of gold bonds in the foreign currency equivalent of gold dollars.

The ruling was asked in a brief filed in connection with reargument of three cases involving "multiple currency" bonds. These bonds were issued before congressional passage of the 1933 resolution barring payment of obligations in gold.

Jackson contended that it would result in a "windfall" to permit bond owners to collect in the foreign currency equivalent and that payment should be made in present day devalued dollars at the face value of the bonds.

The cases, argued for the second time, involve attempts to collect from the St. Louis-Southwestern railway and the Bethlehem Steel company of New York in the foreign currency equivalent of gold dollars.

Oldsmobile sales in the April period totaled 4,442, a gain of more than 45 per cent over the 1938 period.

U. S. JURY INDICTS FIVE ON SECURITY FRAUD CHARGES

SEC Alleges Tung Oil Stock Was Worthless.

A federal grand jury at Milwaukee returned an indictment charging five persons with fraud in the sale of securities of Tung Industries, Inc., W. McNeil Kennedy, regional administrator of the Securities and Exchange commission, said here yesterday.

The indictment contains thirteen counts. All defendants are former employés of B. E. Buckman & Co., Madison, Wis., according to Kennedy. Several officials of the Buckman company were indicted previously, the administrator said.

Chicagoan Named.

The SEC administrator said those named in the indictment were: William A. Kenyon, 501 Surf street, Chicago; John W. Herron, Wausau, Wis.; and Sidney R. Clark, Leon B. Smith, and Arthur A. Aschauer, all of Milwaukee. They are charged with fraudulent sales of Tung Industries, Inc., securities through the Milwaukee Bond and Share corporation, Milwaukee, according to Kennedy.

Kenyon was president of Milwaukee Bond and Share and the principal stockholder of this company and of Tung Industries, Kennedy said. Herron was president of Tung Industries, with headquarters in Milwaukee. Clark was sales manager of Milwaukee Bond & Share.

Investment Total Loss.

Investment in Tung Industries was a total loss, Kennedy said. No figures on the amount of sales involved were available.

The indictment charged the defendants with formation of Tung Industries, a corporation engaged in cultivating tung tree groves in Mississippi, according to Kennedy. Tung oil is used principally in making paints, varnishes, and linoleums .

Proceeds from the sale of securities were to have been applied to the cultivation of tung tree groves, Kennedy said, but only a small part of the proceeds was used in this connection. The corporation, which the defendants described as a profitable enterprise, was insolvent and less than 10 per cent of land owned by it was planted with tung trees, the indictment charged.

Investors' Guide

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

CROSLEY PRODUCTS.

Investors' Guide: I saw in the paper that the Crosley corporation of Cincinnati is planning to turn out a small low priced car. Some months ago, I believe, the company dropped the word "radio" from its title so that its activities would not sound as if they were restricted to radio. Please tell me the lines now included in the Crosley business. I should also like a tabulation of recent operations. Thank you.—Mrs. T. M.

Answer: The Crosley corporation's business has been broadened considerably since control of the concern was purchased in 1924 by Powel Crosley Jr., now president.

Besides radio sets, including automobile models and radio-phonograph combinations, Crosley now makes electric refrigerators, automatic coal stokers, washing machines and ironers, and gas and electric ranges.

Sales fell off sharply last year, but the company made a small profit as against a loss suffered in 1937. The 1937 loss was largely due to inventory writedowns and flood damage.

	Sales.	Net income.	Net inc. per shr.
1938	$12,991,000	$ 84,901	$ .16
1937	18,735,000	*376,915	....
1936	21,904,000	1,157,552	2.12
1934	10,637,000	413,000	.76
1932	6,702,000	*139,000	.....

On March 28 when the proposed manufacture of automobiles was announced, L. M. Crosley, executive vice president, said that sales this year had been running 20 per cent ahead of 1938. The gain was largely in the refrigerator line, he added.

BANKS AND SOCIAL SECURITY.

Investors' Guide: I understand that there is a proposal in congress to include bank employés under the federal social security provisions. I had the impression that all corporate employés were already included. Why not the banks?—T. M.

Answer: Employés of banks which are members of the federal reserve system—and this includes nearly all banks—are not subject to federal social security provisions. The theory behind this exemption is that membership in the federal reserve system makes the banks "government instrumentalities." Government employés are not included.

SOME AREAS LACK MOISTURE; TOO MUCH ELSEWHERE

Floods in Central States Damage Wheat Crops.

Moisture is needed for all crops over a large area in the western plains states, while floods in the central and eastern parts of the winter wheat belt have caused damage, the weather bureau reported yesterday.

There was little precipitation in the last week in much of Oklahoma, eastern New Mexico, northern Texas, central and southwestern Kansas and parts of Montana, the Dakotas, Minnesota and Nebraska, said the bureau.

Dry Areas Large.

The dry area in the winter wheat belt embraces all of Texas, except the northeastern quarter and the panhandle, most of Kansas and Oklahoma, and parts of Nebraska.

Condition of winter wheat is reported as spotted. There was some deterioration in parts of Texas, Oklahoma, and southwestern Kansas. Much warmer weather was favorable for the crop in Missouri and in states east of the Mississippi river.

Seeding of spring wheat made rapid progress in the northwest, the bureau said. Seeding of oats is nearing completion in the central west except where delayed by wet soil conditions. Much land is ready for planting corn in New Mexico, Nebraska and South Dakota.

EGG CONTRACTS WEAKEN; BUTTER FUTURES STEADY

Persistent selling yesterday weakened October refrigerator egg futures, which closed at 18.76 cents a dozen on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. This compared with Tuesday's close of 19.05 cents. Trading was fairly active. October eggs touched a seasonal low of 18¾ cents during the session, but rallied slightly from this figure.

November butter futures finished fairly steady at 22½ cents a pound compared with Tuesday's close of 22.55 cents. Other months were inactive and nominally unchanged. Butter receipts were considered liberal, but not burdensome.

Farmers Repay 16 Per Cent of Their Total FCA Loans

Washington, D. C., April 26.—[Special.]—Farmer creditors have repaid $161,291,000, or 16.5 per cent, of the land bank commissioner loans under the emergency farm mortgage act of 1933, it was announced today by F. F. Hill, governor of the Farm Credit administration. Hill said these loans had been made to approximately one out of every thirteen farmers for a total of $975,282,000 through March, 1939.

Day by Day on the Farm

By HOMER WEISZ

Feed Lot Gains Studied.

CATTLE feeders at the farms, who are comparing gains made by beef steers of different ages and weights, have had a good opportunity this spring to observe the effects of wet feed lots on gains. Rains have made it difficult to keep the lots dry, but the men have noticed that the best gains have been made by the steers fed on the dryest lots.

The fastest gains have been made by forty-two Hereford steers at the Du Page county farm. The apparent reason these steers have done better than the others is that they have been provided with more fresh, dry straw for bedding and have had closer attention from their handlers than the larger groups of cattle at the Fox river farm. A total of 317 steers has been included in the comparisons.

The men try to keep dry bedding in the lot at the Du Page county farm all the time so the steers may rest in comfort when they are not eating. With comparatively few steers on feed at this place, it has been possible to keep the lot in better condition than the larger feed lots at the other farm.

Restlessness Cuts Gains.

Steers remain quiet when they are comfortable and apparently make faster gains than when they are restless and tramping about in wet straw.

During winter fresh straw was put on the feed lot where the forty-two steers are kept after rains and snows. The straw and manure was removed regularly and new bedding was put on.

In recent weeks it has been impossible to keep the feed lots dry. Fields have been too soft much of the time for manure spreaders to be driven over them, and the lots have not been cleaned as often as necessary.

Straw was put on the feed lot at the Du Page county farm twice a day last week in an attempt to keep it dry. The steers spent much time in the barn out of the rain, but they prefer to lie outside when the bedding on the feed lot is not too wet.

Straw Considered Important.

Plenty of straw in feed lots is considered important as a means of adding to the value of manure. Straw absorbs and saves much of the liquid portion of the manure that otherwise would drain away and be lost. Wheat and oat straw absorb about two or three times their weight of water. More than half the fertilizer value of manure produced by beef cattle is said to be in the liquid portion.

Cracked corn has replaced a mixture of ground ear corn and ground oats in the ration fed to the forty-two steers at the Du Page county farm. They were started on the cracked corn more than a week ago. In addition, the steers are given hay, silage, cottonseed meal, and a mineral mixture.

Six of the steers were weighed March 29. They averaged 1,073 pounds. These same steers are to be weighed again on Saturday. This will enable the feeders to figure the approximate gain made by the herd in a month.

"How I Got a Loan of $100

"I needed $100 in a hurry. I dreaded to ask friends for a favor. And I had no security for getting a loan at a bank. What was I to do? Fortunately I heard about Household Finance and so went to a nearby office. The manager was courteous and friendly. He merely asked me a few simple questions. The next day I got the money, with 20 months to repay. Only my wife and I signed the papers. I was delighted to get a loan so simply and promptly."

Whether you are married or single, if you need a loan of $20 to $300 the manager of the Household office near you will be glad to discuss your problem with you in complete privacy and without obligation. Why not phone or visit him today?
